REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

IN presenting this first Annual Report of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School to the public, its Officers and Managers desire to record their gratitude to Almighty God for the providential manner in which they have been guided and led from the beginning of this undertaking, and also to make grateful mention of the encouragement and support received from so many friends both within and without the pale of the denomination under whose special auspices the institution is organized and conducted. From the very inception of this new enterprise the blessing of God has seemed to rest richly upon it, and the sympathies of the Christian public to be turned toward it. As the result of these twofold helps, the end of the first year of organization finds us in possession of a fine property in perfect repair (upon which there is now a mortgage debt of only forty-five hundred dollars, bearing four per cent interest), with a well organized Home and Training School beneath its roof, presided over by a faithful and efficient Superintendent, and aided in its work by a number of competent volunteer instructors. As the institution enters upon the second year of its existence, the management feel assured that they can promise still greater advantages and facilities for preparation for their life work, to those who are contemplating missionary labor, either foreign or home, and especially to those who desire to consecrate themselves to the work and office of a Deaconess in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the work of teaching, the Superintendent will be aided by a corps of instructors, whose names will be found in another part of this Report, and will in themselves be a guarantee that the work undertaken by them will be ably and faithfully performed. In addition to this regular course of instruction, students will be favored with occasional lectures upon themes bearing upon their work, by those who are acknowledged experts in their several departments. Special provision will also be made by hospital lectures, class work, and practical training for those desiring to take the Nurse-Deaconess Course. The programme of instructions and special lectures (with announcement of subjects of the latter) will be published in the Zion's Herald as soon as it can be perfected, so that friends of the Home may avail themselves of the privilege of attending if they so desire. From the above announcement it must appear to all that the New England Deaconess Home and Training School is no longer an experiment, but an established fact. Two things, however, are necessary, if it is to prove the power for good in our section which it ought to be.

First, It needs and must have the sympathy and generous financial support of all who desire to see its special lines of work successfully prosecuted in our towns and cities. It has no endowment, and no source of income except the voluntary contributions of its friends. While no salaries are paid to any of its teachers or workers, yet its household expenses must weekly be met, together with other necessary outlays which are inevitably connected with such a community life. These can only be provided for through the liberality of volunteer contributors. We therefore ask our friends to remember us generously from time to time, without waiting to be personally solicited. Contributions sent to the Treasurer (whose address appears in another part of this Report) will be thankfully received and promptly acknowledged. The other thing necessary to the success of our enterprise is, —

Second, The presence in our Home and Training School of consecrated women who are ready and anxious to prepare themselves for, and to prosecute the work of, a Deaconess. There are doubtless many women in New England who feel themselves called to just such work, and who only need to have their attention directed to the Home, to assure their services to the cause of Christ in this direction for years to come. We therefore invite the co-operation of Pastors and Christian workers throughout New England in securing to us available candidates for this new and important office. With such co-operation upon the part of all lovers of the Lord Jesus Christ, our Deaconess Home and Training School is not only an assured success, but our common Christianity will feel the impulse and help which shall come from the consecrated labors of those who go out from or remain within its walls.

WM. NAST BRODBECK,
President Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Managers :—

IN presenting this first Annual Report of the work of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, I must remind you that we did not really begin work until Jan. 1, 1890, and of the eight ladies whose work is reported below, three have been with us less than one month.

The work for the six months ending June 30, 1890, is as follows :—

Number of religious calls made	1,799
Number of opportunities for prayer	376
Number of opportunities for reading Bible	125
Number of tracts distributed	975
Number of Bibles distributed	6
Number of books, etc., distributed	61
Number of garments distributed	215
Number of bouquets distributed	233
Number taught in Sunday schools	565
Number taught in industrial school	183
Number of mothers' meetings held	10
Number of days spent in nursing	42
Number of hours spent in class-room	302
Number of days spent in special work	7
Number of missionary and other meetings addressed on Deaconess work	15

This report gives simply the bare facts concerning the work of our Deaconesses, but if it were possible I should like to set before you in detailed form some of the visible results accomplished; the entire results can only be known when "the books are opened" in the day when all things are revealed. I will only refer briefly to a few instances as specimens of some of the lines in which we work.

At the Merrimac Street Mission, as you know, a Sunday School, Industrial School, and Mothers' Meeting have been organized in a locality greatly needing these lines of work. Many scholars have been gathered into other Sunday schools; several of our workers have aided in the establishment of a Chinese Sunday School at Grace Church; and many poor families have received practical, as well as spiritual aid. Several of "God's suffering ones" have been tenderly ministered to during their last days on earth, bearing the testimony before "going home" that they had been brought nearer to the Lord, as well as having been made more comfortable, through the services of the Deaconesses attending them.

One family, found almost destitute during the winter, where the mother was praying to the saints, and the father spending his small earnings in drink, is now rejoicing in a wonderful change. The mother finds blessed comfort in direct communion with her Lord, the little children have been taught to pray, and the father is beginning to trust in Divine help to overcome appetite. In another instance, the mother a short time ago was bitter and out of harmony with all religious influence, but is now sweetly trusting in her Heavenly Father, even though He has seen fit to take to Himself the dear little household treasure.

Other families have been restored to the Church, when they had lost all interest and had wandered from the Father's House, but needing only the kind sympathy and earnest entreaty of a consecrated heart to win them back to the fold. Many church letters have been secured, whose owners had neglected to present them, and had come to feel that they were uncared for, and were in danger of losing all interest in better things. One sister, now happy in church relations, said, when our Deaconess found her, that in all her trouble she had felt until then that the Lord was her only friend. Another, who recently was facing death with stolid indifference, is now looking forward to it as a happy release from suffering, and as the gateway to the bliss beyond.

We received a letter from a brother in the country, who desired us to look after his sister, who he felt was in danger through the manifold temptations of city life. I desire any one who knows of similar cases, to inform me concerning them, and they will be aided in every possible way.

These are only a few of the many instances that might be given, showing that the blessing of God attends our workers in their ministrations to both body and soul of those whom they visit. And, like our blessed Lord, we often find it necessary to give physical aid before we can touch the spiritual nature; and to do this, we must appeal to our friends to aid us with supplies of clothing, provisions, or anything that will in any way minister to our needy people. May I suggest, too, that when our friends send us packages, they kindly prepay express charges. This is not a great deal for each one to do, but the aggregate of these charges would make a serious draft on the treasury of the Home. Let me request, also, that the packages be sent to the care of the Superintendent, and marked whether they are to be used in the Home or taken to the poor.

The last item in above statement of the work of the Home indicates to you that opportunities for presenting our work have been accepted, in order to secure the co-operation which cannot be expected until the public become informed in regard to it; and permit me here to say that churches or missionary societies desiring to know of the Deaconess Movement should communicate with the Superintendent, so that some one from the Home can be sent for this purpose.

Friends are cordially invited to visit the Home, and Friday afternoons I shall be "at home," and shall always be pleased to give any information desired concerning the Home and its work. Arrangements will be made for any who desire to attend the recitations, lectures, etc., as day students, and the Superintendent invites free inquiry on this or any other department of the work.

In reporting the work of the past six months, during which we have all been so wonderfully blessed by our Heavenly Father, I cannot close without expressing our sincere gratitude to the kind friends who have so generously cared for our Home, and have aided us so greatly by their donations for our poor people ; also to Dr. Steele, Dr. Brodbeck, Dr. Clark, and Miss Effie Jones, for their valued assistance in the pursuance of our course of study ; to Dr. J. W. Cushing for his efficient aid as Medical Examiner ; to Miss I. J. Brooks for her kind help in securing experience for our nurses ; and, personally, I desire to sincerely thank the members of the Board of Managers for their uniform kindness and courtesy ; also the members of the Home for their faithful work so cheerfully rendered ; and Mrs. Whelen, who, by her efficient management as Matron, has made it possible for me to have time for class-work and other duties.

In closing, I can only repeat what I said in response to your call for me to return as Superintendent next year, that I will, by Divine help, serve you to the best of my ability, believing that I shall have not only your support, but your prayers.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

WE come to the close of the second year in our history as an organization, with feelings of devout gratitude to 'Almighty God for the providential manner in which we have been led from the inception of our enterprize until the present, and especially for the gracious help He has given us in the achievements of the past year. In our Annual Report of one year ago, we stated that through the blessing of God, and the liberality of friends, we had been able to pay for our property on East Chester Park, the necessary improvements made upon it, and its furnishings, with the exception of a forty-five hundred dollar mortgage, bearing interest at five per cent. We now have the gratification of reporting that, through the generosity of some of these same friends, and many new ones whom the Lord has raised up for us, this amount has been secured, the mortgage has been lifted, and to-day our eligibly located Home is free from any and all indebtedness so far as the claims of man are concerned. We cannot adequately express our gratitude to the friends who have made this result possible, nor to the faithful workers through whose persistent efforts these friends were led to favor us with their benefactions. It is with no ordinary sense of gratitude and responsibility that we recognize our release from the financial burdens, so far as the property is concerned, which have hitherto been upon us, and our consequent better preparation for the great mission to which we have been providentially called. But while we rejoice in these temporal victories, we have equal occasion for thanksgiving because of the results achieved in the lines of our legitimate work. During the year just closed there have been in the "Home and Training School" ten young women beside the Superintendent. One of them — Miss Fannie Canfield — is already a licensed deaconess; six others — Misses Organ, Todd, Folkins, Beale, Mann and Preston — have pursued the Training School course of study as candidates for the deaconess office; two others — Mrs. Miyama and Miss Whitaker — have taken the course in preparation for work in the foreign field, the former in Japan, and the latter in the Island of Jamaica; while the remaining student — Miss Mayhew — has taken part of the course (all, indeed, except Church history) in preparation for evangelistic work in our own country. All of these young women passed very satisfactory examinations upon the year's work, and with the exception of Misses Whitaker and Mayhew, who did not take the full course, and therefore were not candidates for graduation, received their diplomas at the Commencement Exercises held at the Tremont Street Church on the evening of June 24. Six of these will remain in the Home as candidates for the deaconess office, pursuing the course of reading prescribed in our curriculum for the second year of probation, and devoting themselves more largely than during the past year to the practical work belonging to that office. The first licenses will be conferred on those who are approved by the "Conference Board of Nine" at the second anniversary of the opening of the "Home and Training School," which occurs in November next. We are also gratified to report that seven new pupils have already been accepted for admission to the Training School next Fall, and other applications are confidently expected. That there may be no confusion in the mind of any reader of this report as to the nature and work of the institution we are considering, it may be well at this point to call attention to its two-fold character. It is possessed of two features which are entirely separate and distinct from each other: —

1. Its Deaconess Home feature.

In the action of the last General Conference through which the office of deaconess was created, two classes of these workers are indicated — those who shall be associated together in Homes, and those who shall work singly under the direction of the pastors of the churches with which they are connected. In our deaconess home feature we provide for the first class named — those who are associated together in a community life. Any young woman who feels called to the office and work of a deaconess, upon suitable recommendations from the pastor and Official Board of the church of which she is a member, and a satisfactory health certificate from her family physician, may enter the Home (upon such conditions as to board and expenses as the Committee on Applicants shall approve) as a candidate for said office, and spend the two years of probation required by the discipline before she can be licensed, in pursuing the Training School course of study, and doing the practical work which the Discipline makes an absolute condition of eligibility to the office. After the two years of probation are ended, if she has successfully completed the course of study, is twenty-five years of age or over, and is approved by the Conference Board of Nine, she may be licensed as a Deaconess of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and remain in the Home, working under the direction of the Superintendent. While thus employed she receives no salary whatever, but is maintained by the Home, with the assurance of support and care when no longer able to work, unless otherwise provided for.

2. Its Training School feature.

This is separate and distinct from the Deaconess Home, is regularly organized under the laws of our Commonwealth, and authorized to perform the functions of an institution of seminary grade. As already indicated, the Discipline provides for another class of deaconesses, who are not to live in Homes. These need preparation for their work as well as the others, and our Training School affords the facilities for obtaining that preparation. Any young woman desiring to become a deaconess, but not intending to live in a Home, may enter the school, and by paying her board and expenses enjoy all the privileges of the Home and School during the year covered by its course of study. But its advantages are not confined to those who desire to become deaconesses. Any young woman wishing to prepare for any form of Christian work may enter the Training School and be graduated therefrom at the end of a year if she shall have passed satisfactory examinations. And to do this she need not board and lodge at the Home, she may be a day student, and if she will devote three afternoons of each week to the practical work engaged in by the others, and under the direction of the Superintendent, she need pay no tuition; otherwise a tuition of two dollars per month will be required. The course of study in the School is under the general supervision of the "Committee on Instruction" named in another part of this report, and under the immediate direction of the Superintendent, aided by a large corps of voluntary instructors. The latter, during the past year, consisted of the following well known ministers and educators, who gave instruction in the books placed opposite their names:—

- Rev. Daniel Steele, Binney's Theological Compend.
- Rev. W. R. Clarke, The Church Catechism.
- Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, The Church Discipline.
- Rev. C. E. Mitchell, Bible History.
- Mrs. O. A. Curtis, Church History.
- Prof. M. D. Buell, The Epistle to the Galatians.
- Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.
- Rev. E. M. Taylor, The Epistle to the Romans.
- Rev. J. W. Dearborn, 1st and 2d Corinthians and Ephesians.
- Rev. J. H. Humphrey, 1st and 2d Timothy, Titus, and Jude.
- Rev. E. P. King, 1st and 2d Thessalonians.
- Rev. N. T. Whittaker, The Epistle to the Hebrews.
- Rev. F. K. Stratton, The Epistle to the Colossians.
- Rev. T. C. Watkins, The Epistle to the Philippians.
- Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, 1st, 2d, and 3d Epistles of John; 1st and 2d Epistles of Peter, and the Book of Ezra.

In addition to the various departments of instruction thus conducted, special lectures on Biblical and kindred subjects were delivered by Drs. W. F. Warren, Chas. Parkhurst, O. A. Curtis, A. A. Wright, Mrs. Rev. C. L. Eastman, and Dr. Anna Dorr Bryant. We are glad to announce that during the coming year these lists will be augmented by the names of other well known scholars who are not novices in the art and work of teaching. We therefore feel safe in guaranteeing to young women desiring the benefits of such an institution in preparation for their life work, as great advantages and as thorough instruction as can be obtained in any school of a like character in our country.

Now from what has been said, it can be readily seen that the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School" has passed out of the realm of mere experiment and has become one of the established institutions of this educational center. While in the past its success may have seemed at times to be doubtful, its future is assured. What it needs is the sympathy, prayers, and financial support of the Christian people of New England, especially the Methodist people, and no limit can be rightfully placed to its future career of usefulness. We say "financial aid," for while the indebtedness upon our property has been cancelled, we still have the current expenses of the Home to provide for, and these are constantly increasing, while the income from board and room rent usually ceases in each case at the end of the Training School year. In the report made by the "Board of Nine" to the New England Conference at its last session, it is stated that the current expenses for the year ending April 1, had been $1,218.71, while the income from board and room rentals had amounted to $727.48, leaving the sum of $491.23 to be provided for otherwise. This year the deficiency will doubtless be larger. Thus far the funds necessary for meeting this deficiency have been provided by faithful friends. Will not the generous readers of this report bear us in mind, and give us a place among the regular objects of their benevolence, so that all this may be promptly and fully met?

It will also be seen, from what has been said, that we are dependent upon the churches of New England for students in our school and candidates for the deaconess office in our Home. There are many earnest young women who are anxious to prepare themselves for Christian work, who may never know of the privileges here presented unless their attention is called to the facts by a thoughtful pastor or some faithful Christian worker who has the power of discernment. We therefore earnestly ask the coöperation of all pastors and Christian people, who have the welfare of Christ's kingdom at heart, in directing the attention of such young women to our Home and school. If we may have such coöperation we are confident it is within our power to make the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School" a great blessing to our common Christianity in this region, and a great arm of power to our beloved Methodism throughout the world.

WILLIAM NAST BRODBECK,

President Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Managers: —

The following report includes the work of eleven ladies, several of whom have been with us less than half the year, and four have been engaged in special work in other lines than in the regular visiting. This, with the fact that the members of the Training School can only give three afternoons each week to practical work while pursuing the course of study, explains why the report is no larger, yet I scarcely need to remind you that a numerical report can never really indicate the amount of work done, or the results accomplished, but we trust that our Heavenly Father, who has so richly blessed us in our work, has accepted the service we have been privileged to render, making it a blessing to others also.

We all shrink from reporting what we have done, lest it appear as if we desired to make it known, but realizing that the friends who, by their generosity, have made it possible for us to have such a beautiful Home, with all its precious influences, thus enabling us to engage in this blessed work for Christ, have a right to know, at least as far as can be told, what is being done in this way, we tender our report, believing that it is our duty to do so, and praying that it may be approved by you and that it may inspire in the supporters of the Home, a willingness to continue its support.

As incidents from our work are given each month in the DEACONESS HOME JOURNAL, it does not seem necessary to speak of it now in detail, except to say that in addition to the ten churches which have received more or less aid from the deaconesses in regular visiting and work in these and in Chinese Sunday schools, a number of visits have been made to jails, hospitals, and old ladies' homes, beside the work at Merrimac Mission, which includes industrial and Sunday schools and evangelistic meetings.

The work for the year ending June 30, 1891, is as follows:—

Number of religious calls made	6,150
Number of opportunities for prayer	1,118
Number of opportunities for reading Bible	245
Number of opportunities for singing with sick	122
Number of tracts distributed	1,078
Number of Bibles distributed	42
Number of books distributed	40
Number of garments distributed	857
Number of jars of fruit, etc., distributed	49
Number of bouquets of flowers distributed	1,077
Number of fresh air tickets distributed	300
Aggregate number taught in Mission school	917
Aggregate number taught in Industrial school	564
Aggregate number taught in Sunday school	1,321
Aggregate number taught in children's meetings	629
Number of special meetings attended	242
Number of missionary and other meetings addressed	110
Number of League and other meetings conducted	46
Number of hours spent in special work and nursing	578
Number of hours spent in class work	417
Number of special lectures	6
Total amount disbursed through "Emergency Fund" for poor.	$53.81

The President, in his report, has referred to the many friends who have rendered us such valuable assistance in class-work and lectures, and to whom we desire to express the sincere gratitude of all the members of the Home; and to Dr. J. W. Cushing our thanks are due, not only for his services as medical examiner of applicants, but for attendance upon one of our nurses during illness, and for kind response to any appeal for medical advice. Also to Dr. Pierce for dental work, to Dr. Brooks for medical attendance, and to Mr. J. D. Knowlton for furnishing medicine free of charge.

I desire, also, in behalf of the members of the Home, to add to the above acknowledgements our heartfelt appreciation of the great kindness always shown us by the members of the Board of Managers, and to all friends who supply our needs both in the Home and for our work; and personally, I am grateful for this opportunity of expressing my cordial recognition of the loving efforts of all the members of our family, to aid me in my very great desire to make ours a real home, that thus we may do better work for the Master. Especially am I indebted to Miss Canfield, whose untiring efforts to secure the temporal comfort of the family have so materially aided me in the work of the year, and to Miss Todd, who has several times substituted for absent teachers in class work.

But most of all are we grateful to the dear Lord, whom we love and are trying faithfully to serve, for His manifold goodness to us, in that He dwells so consciously present in our Home, and permits us to have the inestimable privilege of doing a little in His blessed service.

May we not have your continued prayers that, if spared to labor for him another year, it may be with still greater devotion?

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Superintendent.

TO THE
NEW ENGLAND
DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. ALL applicants shall be received on at least three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers. After serving satisfactorily on trial they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

IV. Those admitted into a Deaconess Home shall consent to observe the established rules and regulations, and to abide by the decisions of the Superintendent, cheerfully giving all their time to the work assigned them.

Candidates are desired to furnish, if possible, their own bedding, especially blankets.

Any one desiring further information or blank applications, etc., should call upon or address the Superintendent, 45 East Chester Park, Boston, Mass.

REGULAR AND DAY-STUDENTS OF THE TRAINING-SCHOOL.

I. Ladies belonging to any Christian Church shall be received on the same basis as those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided they give the same amount of practical work, under direction of the latter church. Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged the regular price of tuition to be hereafter named.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as Day-Students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

III. Ladies wishing to enter as Day-Students but not to do practical work, shall have the privilege of all class-work and lectures, on the payment of two dollars per month.

PROBATIONERS AND DEACONESSSES.

I. Probationers and Deaconesses may pay their own board and expenses either wholly or in part; or, if not able, they are entitled to comfortable maintenance during their connection with the Home, in conformity with its regulations. The condition under which each shall be admitted shall be determined by the Committee on Applicants after full knowledge concerning her financial ability. Deaconesses becoming disabled either by sickness or the infirmities of age are entitled to support, if not otherwise provided for.

II. None shall solicit money unless duly authorized, and all donations and money received where service is rendered shall be paid into the treasury of the Home, to be applied toward the general expenses.

III. A simple uniform shall be worn, sufficient for protection and recognition in the work.

IV. The two years of continual service required by the Discipline shall be spent in careful training, taking the following course of study and reading:—

FIRST YEAR'S STUDY.

We shall also prepare a course of training in Physical Culture. This is essential, as health of body is needed for our work as well as culture of mind and heart, and the course of medical lectures with which we are to be favored by several physicians of note will greatly assist us in this direction.

Candidates for the Training School who do not propose to become deaconesses may be admitted on the same conditions, except that they will be required to pay their own board and expenses. (See Rules for the admission of regular and day-students of the Training School.)

NOTE FROM THE HOME.

It gives us pleasure to announce that the AMERICAN EXPRESS COMPANY have generously consented to forward all packages weighing ten pounds or less, and addressed to the Home, free of charge.

We trust our friends sending us larger packages will kindly continue to prepay express charges, as the amount, while small in a single instance, aggregates a good deal.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

IN making this our third Annual Report of the condition, work and needs of the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School," we are constrained more than ever to record our devout gratitude to Almighty God for the providential guidance which has been so consciously ours amid all of the experiences of the past year, and the signal manner in which He has been pleased to bless our labors. While the year was marked by new, and in some directions, sad experiences, and its work somewhat interrupted by the seemingly strange providences by which we were visited, yet we believe it to have been the best year thus far in the history of this new and important enterprize. A larger number of students were in our Training School, a large number of licensed deaconesses and deaconess probationers were in our Home, and as a result of the experience obtained from the labors of the preceding two years, the work in all departments of the Institution was more successfully prosecuted than ever before. During the year there were in the Home and Training School seventeen young women, beside the Superintendent and Matron; of these seventeen, two were licensed deaconesses, five were deaconess probationers of the second year, and ten were members of the Training School; of these ten members of the Training School, three were deaconess probationers of the first year, two were preparing for evangelistic work, and five for mission work, three in the foreign and two in the home field. Two of those preparing for the foreign field have already gone to their work, Miss Moore to Brazil and Miss Paine to Korea. All of the young women in the Training School passed very creditable examinations, and six of them received their diplomas at the graduating exercises held at the Tremont Street Church on the evening of June 13th. Two of the remaining four had deceased during the year, and two others had not taken the complete course, and therefore were not prepared for graduation. Of those who were with us last year, two will remain as licensed deaconesses and three as candidates for the deaconess office, pursuing the course of reading prescribed for the second year of their probation, and will apply for license and consecration as deaconesses at some time during the month of November. We are also glad to report that five new applicants for admission to the Training School have been accepted and will enter upon their work this fall. On the evening of December 7, 1891, the first consecration of deaconess candidates from our Home took place at the Tremont Street Church, at which time Misses MARY E. LUNN and CLARA M. ORGAN were solemnly set apart to the office and work of deaconesses, Bishop R. S. Foster conducting the consecration services. The work of the Training School during the year was successfully prosecuted under the supervision of the Committee on Instruction and the immediate direction of our efficient Superintendent, Miss Mary E. Lunn, aided by the following named ministers and educators who kindly contributed their services and gave instruction in the books coupled with their names:

Rev. Daniel Steele, Theological Compend.

“ W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.

Mrs. O. A. Curtis, Church History.

Miss A. M. Todd, Scripture History.

“ May V. Patton, Studies in the Life of Christ.

Rev. W. W. Ramsay, Studies in the Life of Christ.

“ W. N. Brodbeck, Church Catechism and Discipline.

Superintendent, Exegetical Bible Study.

Rev. J. W. Dearborn, The Book of Job.

“ N. T. Whittaker, The Epistle to the Hebrews.

“ C. S. Rogers, The Epistle to the Galatians.

“ W. G. Richardson, The Epistle to the Ephesians.

“ C. E. Goodell, The Epistles to Timothy, Titus and Philemon.

“ J. Galbraith, The Epistles of Peter.

Mrs. C. L. Eastman, The Epistles to the Corinthians.

“ Anna C. Dorr Bryant, M.D., Medical Lectures.

Miss Kate Stanley, Physical Culture.

“ C. Hawkanson, Bible Reading.

Superintendent, Bible Reading and Practical Talks.

Special Lectures were delivered during the year by the following well known ministers :

Rev. W. F. Warren, D.D.

" O. A. Curtis, D.D.

" A. A. Wright, D.D.

" N. T. Whittaker, D.D.

" G. A. Crawford, D.D.

" C. M. Melden, 3.

" C. S. Nutter, 2.

Parlor Conversations were also conducted by five staunch friends of our enterprize, viz :

Rev. G. M. Steele, D.D.

Mrs. Medley.

Miss Kurowski.

Dr. Edna G. Terry.

Miss Richardson.

The corps of instructors for the coming year will be increased and strengthened by the addition of other educators who are noted for proficiency in their several departments. We confidently look forward to a still better and more successful year in both departments of our work, the Home and Training School, during the coming winter months than we have yet seen. But in order to secure this desirable result, two things are absolutely necessary —

1.—The hearty and generous financial support of New England Methodism.

We need at this moment enlarged quarters and facilities for the prosecution of our labors. It will be necessary during the coming year, if this work is to be carried successfully forward, to secure another building which can be used in conjunction with the one already owned and occupied. Our present accommodations are all taken, indeed the Home is too crowded for comfort, hence, unless more room can be provided, applicants for admission will have to be turned away, and this grand enterprize will be seriously crippled. With enlarged accommodations we believe the work will go forward with ever increasing interest on the part of those engaged in it, and ever increasing usefulness to our New England Methodism. But in order to secure such enlarged accommodations we shall need the generous financial aid of all friends of this Christ-like work. Furthermore, in meeting the annual current expenses of the Home we need generous assistance. At the beginning of last year we had a cash balance of $1,020.30. We received during the year from donations and income from the Home $5,785.33, making a total of $6,805.63; with this amount we were enabled to pay off our mortgage indebtedness of $4,500, provide for a family of twenty in the Home, and still close the year with a cash balance in the treasury of $286.71. These results could not have been achieved however, had we not received generous donations of groceries, provisions and coal during the year, for which we wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends who thus kindly remembered us. Necessarily as the work enlarges, the current expenses increase. This year the amount needed will be greater than that of last year. Hence, unless the churches where the deaconesses are at work and the friends of our Home generally, respond liberally to our needs, we shall find ourselves financially deficient, a result which we very much desire to avoid, and thus far through the generosity of our friends, have been able to avoid. The second thing necessary to the successful prosecution of our work is:—

2.—The sympathetic interest of pastors and Christian workers in securing students, and candidates for the deaconess office.

Our School must have students, the deaconess office must have incumbents, if they are to be the blessing to the Church which it is designed and hoped they will be. Many young women are feeling the call to consecrated Christian work at home or abroad. Some of them will be tempted to engage in such work without specific preparation. A word from the pastor or some Christian friend may direct their attention to our Training School with its splendid facilities for securing to its students this needed equipment for their work, and to the deaconess office as the grandest possible field in which to realize and actualize their desired consecration. Will not our brethren of the ministry and the friends of Christ's cause generally throughout New England, give this matter thought and attention, and as opportunity offers advise all such possible workers in the manner indicated above? As already stated two of our students were taken from us by death during the year. We wish as a Board to record our high appreciation of their Christian worth, and our sincere sorrow at the loss we and the work sustained through their decease. We wish also to make grateful mention of the devotion manifested by our Superintendent during the trying scenes and arduous duties occasioned by the affliction which came to the Home during the winter, and to express our high appreciation of her efficiency in every respect in the responsible position which she occupies.

WILLIAM NAST BRODBECK,
President Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Managers:—

In reporting to you the work of the past year, I must remind you that it has been interrupted by sickness and will not, therefore, present as large a showing as we hoped might be the case, yet I am sure that the Recording Angel who takes note of everything will have seen much of real conscientious effort and faithfulness, even amid adverse circumstances, and during all the year, though especially when the Death Angel twice visited our Home, we have realized the constant presence of Christ in such power that our hearts are filled with loving gratitude, and we know it is by His blessing in answer to the prayers of our kind friends, that we have been able to bring you the following report for year ending June 30, 1892:—

Number of religious calls made	10,732
Number of opportunities for prayer	1,301
Number of opportunities for reading Bible	304
Number of opportunities for singing with sick	277
Number of tracts distributed	991
Number of Bibles distributed	16
Number of books distributed	224
Number of papers, etc., distributed	4,907
Number of garments distributed	3,582
Number of jars of fruit, etc., distributed	341
Number of bouquets of flowers distributed	1,533
Number of fresh air tickets distributed	200
Aggregate number taught in Mission and Chinese S. school	157
Aggregate number taught in Industrial school	508
Times teaching class in Sunday school	508
Aggregate number taught in Sunday school	2,273
Aggregate number taught in children's meetings	4,515
Number of special meetings attended	280
Number of missionary and other meetings addressed	72
Number of League and other meetings conducted	430
Number of hours spent in nursing	3,069
Number of hours spent in special work	967
Number of hours spent in class work	309
Number of special lectures	15
Total amount disbursed through "Emergency Fund" for poor	$75.83

From the fourteen churches receiving more or less aid from the Deaconesses and Training School students during the year, come very appreciative expressions concerning the good results, and I believe that, as the churches become more familiar with the plan of work, and are able to assist the workers more, the amount of good accomplished will be steadily increased.

We have had difficulty in supplying the churches that have asked for workers, but are grateful that other students are accepted for this year and are planning to come if possible.

During the winter it was often our regret that we had not more nurses to send out to the sick poor, but we cannot expect to supply this demand until we have a hospital of our own, where our nurses can receive proper training.

To the work in detail, I need not refer, as the Deaconess Home Journal places it before the friends of the Home, as far as space will allow, but, may I suggest that if the subscription list was increased so as to make the paper self-supporting without advertisements, we could give our readers more of the information that they often ask for.

I would like to urge every one to aid us in placing the Deaconess work before the earnest, educated young women of our church, that our number may be increased each year, and also make it more widely known that our Training School is open, on certain conditions, to any Christian girl who wants to fit herself for greater efficiency in any kind of work for Christ.

I shall not this year, make special mention by name, of any of the friends who in various ways have so very generously aided us with valued services and donations, but to each one and to the members of the family I most cordially extend my heartfelt thanks, and pray that, as in the past, the blessing of God may continue to rest not only upon our Home and its varied interests, but upon every one who in any way renders assistance to it.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Superintendent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Through the generous favor of the American Express Company we are able to make the following arrangement with our friends who desire to help us in sending clothing for our poor people, or vegetables, fruit, etc., for use in the Home. If you will send postal to the Home asking for printed tags with which to label your barrels or boxes, they will be brought to us for half the usual rates, and we are sure our friends will be glad to prepay charges, as the aggregate to us would materially increase our expenses. If fruit or vegetables for winter supply could be sent to us in larger quantity if we paid charges, we would be glad to do that to save paying city prices for these necessities, but when societies send to us we know they would be pleased to help us by prepaying, and if, at any time, the agent is not prepared to make the reduction, we have an arrangement with the general office in Boston whereby the overcharge will be refunded. For barrels or heavy boxes freight would be cheaper, but when you send by express please be sure and send to us for printed tags, stating how many you can use, and also be sure to send name and address of the donor in every case so that we may acknowledge receipt, but we will credit to "A friend," in donation list whenever desired to do so.

OUR "EMERGENCY FUND."—Perhaps some of our readers, noting in the Superintendent's report, the item concerning the "Emergency Fund," may wonder why the amount does not appear in the Treasurer's report or in the cash donations, so we will again explain that, while we keep a strict account of the receipts and disbursements from this fund, we have always considered both too sacred for publication, because the gifts often come in direct answer to prayer, and always unsolicited, and the money is spent by our workers to buy food, fruit, medicine, etc., for those in sore need, and whom we can so much more effectively help because no one knows but ourselves and the Lord, who thus permits us to be the medium through which His children who have means can help those in distress.

NOTICE.—If our Epworth Leagues, King's Daughter Circles, and other Societies (many of which have already aided our work in various ways), wish to know how they can do this most effectively, or, if any young lady would like to inquire concerning the Deaconess work or the Training School, please write to the Superintendent who will gladly furnish any information desired.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS
OF THE
NEW ENGLAND
DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

ARTICLE I.

THE name of this Corporation shall be the New England Deaconess Home and Training School.

ARTICLE II.

The object of the Corporation shall be (1) To establish and support a home for Deaconesses in Boston, Mass., in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs 207 to 212 of the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1888. (2) To give instruction in the Bible and in the work of Home and Foreign missions, and to furnish facilities for such instruction. (3) To provide a Christian home and secure practical training from city mission work.

ARTICLE III.

This Corporation shall annually elect, by ballot, a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, and not more than twenty directors, all of whom shall be members of the Corporation, and shall continue in office until their successors are chosen. The officers and directors named in this article shall form a Board of Managers, seven of whom shall constitute a quorum at any meeting regularly called.

ARTICLE IV.

The Presiding Elders of the New England Conference shall be ex-officio members of the Corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The annual meeting of the Corporation shall be held on the third Tuesday in May, for the election of officers and for the transaction of such other business as may come before it, and fifteen members shall constitute a quorum. Special meetings of the Corporation may be held at the call of the President or by the request of five of its members.

ARTICLE VI.

This constitution may be altered or amended at any regular meeting of the Corporation, by two-thirds of the members present and voting thereon, notice of proposed amendment having been given at a previous meeting.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

The President, or in his absence, the Vice-President, shall preside at all the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE II.

The Secretary shall keep a record of the doings of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Managers, and notify members of all meetings.

ARTICLE III.

The Treasurer shall keep an accurate account of all receipts in money or supplies and of all disbursements, and pay all bills approved by the Finance Committee, make a monthly report at the regular meetings of the Board, and an annual report at the annual meeting of the Corporation.

ARTICLE IV.

The Auditor shall annually examine the accounts of the Treasurer and report the result of his examination at the annual meeting of the Corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The Board of Managers shall have the general management of the property of the Corporation, and the current expenses of the Home and Training School, act on all applications for admission to the same, select the Superintendent and such other assistants as may be needed, and have the oversight of them, prescribe courses of study, and furnish adequate instruction for the Training School. It shall hold regular meetings, monthly, on the third Tuesday of each month, and special meetings may be held at the call of the President. The Board of Managers shall appoint annually the following Committees:—

1. Committee on Finance.
2. Committee on Applicants.
3. Committee on Regulation of the Home and on City Mission Work.
4. Committee on Purchasing supplies and Furnishings for the Home.
5. Committee on Instruction.

ARTICLE VI.

The Board of Managers shall report its doings at each regular meeting of the Conference Board of Deaconesses.

TO THE
NEW ENGLAND
DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. ALL applicants shall be received on at least three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers. After serving satisfactorily on trial they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

IV. Those admitted into a Deaconess Home shall consent to observe the established rules and regulations, and to abide by the decisions of the Superintendent, cheerfully giving all their time to the work assigned them.

Candidates are desired to furnish, if possible, their own bedding, especially blankets.

Any one desiring further information or blank applications, etc., should call upon or address the Superintendent, 45 East Chester Park, Boston, Mass.

REGULAR AND DAY STUDENTS OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. Ladies belonging to any Christian Church shall be received on the same basis as those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided they give the same amount of practical work, under direction of the latter church. Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged the regular price of tuition to be hereafter named.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as Day-Students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

III. Ladies wishing to enter as Day-Students but not to do practical work shall have the privilege of all class-work and lectures, on the payment of two dollars per month.

PROBATIONERS AND DEACONESSSES.

I. Probationers and Deaconesses may pay their own board and expenses either wholly or in part; or, if not able, they are entitled to comfortable maintenance during their connection with the Home, in conformity with its regulations. The condition under which each shall be admitted shall be determined by the Committee on Applicants after full knowledge concerning her financial ability. Deaconesses becoming disabled either by sickness or the infirmities of age are entitled to support, if not otherwise provided for.

II. None shall solicit money unless duly authorized, and all donations and money received where service is rendered shall be paid into the treasury of the Home, to be applied toward the general expenses.

III. A simple uniform shall be worn, sufficient for protection and recognition in the work.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

IN the fall of 1888, the Committee of ladies, who provided for the entertainment of the Executive Meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, found themselves, as a result of a little business tact, in possession of a surplus of $150.

After deliberate consideration, it was decided to make this fund a nucleus for a Deaconess Home in Boston.

At a meeting of the Committee for appointing standing committees for the Annual Conference, held in the fall of 1888, it was suggested that a Committee be appointed on Deaconess Work. The suggestion met with favor, and such a committee was appointed with Rev. W. N. Brodbeck as chairman.

At the session of the New England Conference held in Worcester, April, 1889, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the General Conference has recognised the office of Deaconess, and recommended its establishment in a church; and

"Whereas, this recommendation has received the attention of the church in several of the larger cities, resulting in the establishment of Homes and Training Schools for Deaconesses; and

"Whereas, the condition of life in many of our crowded New England cities is the sort especially calling for the peculiar services of consecrated women; therefore,

"Resolved, that we recommend the establishment of a Deaconess Home and Training School in Boston or vicinity at the earliest practicable date.

"Resolved, that a Committee of seven be appointed, to whom shall be entrusted the preliminary work necessary to the establishment of such an institution, and that such Committee be required to report at the next session of the conference.

"Resolved, that the following persons be appointed: Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, Chairman; Rev. W. R. Clark, D.D., Warren P. Adams, Willard S. Allen, Mrs. J. W. Cushing, Mrs. Silas Pierce, and Mrs. T. C. Watkins."

Subsequently, Mrs. W. F. Warren was appointed in the place of Mrs. Pierce, who resigned.

The organization of the Committee was later completed by the election of Mrs. Watkins as Secretary, and Mrs. Cushing as Treasurer.

At the second meeting of the Committee, the Treasurer reported a donation of $500 from Mrs. Charles Pierce, to be appropriated to the rental of a house in which to establish a Home.

A Committee appointed to find a suitable place, labored faithfully for several weeks without success, but were afterwards very Providentially led to secure the property at 45 East Chester Park.

Mr. Charles Woodbury donated another $500, and through the generosity of interested friends the first payment was quickly raised.

A Corporation was formed, the Home was purchased, and has since been known as the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School."

$1000 was afterwards expended in repairs and improvements; about $1000 worth of furnishing were donated by the business men of Boston and other friends, and the Committee reasonably felt that a beautiful, as well as a comfortable Home, was theirs to offer to young women who desired to enter, and were adapted to this noble work.

Under the efficient leadership of Mrs. J. W. Cushing, Treasurer, and Mr. E. O. Fisk, Chairman of Finance Committee, in June, 1891, two years from the time of incorporation, the entire indebtedness was cancelled, and the Home now stands free from debt.

Nov. 20, 1889, the Home was dedicated.

Dec. 9, 1889, Miss Mary E. Lunn, from the Chicago Training School, was unanimously elected Supt. of the Home. The hopes of the Committee in securing her services have been more than realized. Under her judicious management and careful direction, a sweet spirit of harmony and christian fellowship has been maintained in the Home, while the work in all its branches has marvelously developed.

A high standard of scholarship has been attained by the students of the Training School, and the work of the Home has been reported as far as it can be put into figures, in the Annual Report.

In Jan., 1891, the publication of the DEACONESS HOME JOURNAL was begun, and has been continued since that time, being published monthly, except Aug. and Sept., at the nominal price of fifteen cents a year for single copy, or ten copies for one year to one address for one dollar. To its editors, Rev. T. C. Watkins and Mrs. O. A. Curtis, we are indebted for this sprightly little sheet, which has carried so much of interest and information to the friends throughout New England, that the return has been large in supplies for the Home, dainties and garments for the sick and poor, and it has been in many instances the messenger which has directed the thought and attention of consecrated young women to this field of labor. For the successful financial condition of the paper, great credit is due the business manager, Miss P. J. Walden.

Our Heavenly Father has thus far abundantly supplied the means with which to support and advance the work of the Home and Training School, but the work grows steadily, and new demands are upon us. Only in proportion as our friends respond to the various appeals, can we meet these demands.

MRS. T. C. WATKINS, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

THE past year has been altogether the best thus far in the history of our "New England Deaconess Home and Training School." Our only embarrassments in the work have grown out of the want of adequate Home and School accommodations. Had our facilities in these directions been greater, we might have done a larger and more satisfactory work during the year. As it was, however, we have abundant cause for gratitude to Almighty God as we review the work actually accomplished. There have been in the Home and Training School the past year thirteen young women, besides the Superintendent and Matron. Of these, three were licensed deaconesses, two were deaconess probationers of the second year, and eight were members of the Training School. Of these eight, five were deaconess probationers of the first year, and three were preparing for evangelistic or missionary work. The second consecration of deaconess candidates from our Home occurred at the Tremont Street Church on the evening of Dec. 5th, at which time Misses Gussie A. Folkins, Annie C. Beale, and Althea M. Todd were solemnly set apart to the office and work of deaconesses in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop R. S. Foster conducting the consecration services. The third annual Commencement Exercises connected with our Training School took place at the same Church on the evening of June 15th, when the following named young ladies received their diplomas: Misses Augusta Anderson, Alice Blanchard, Ella Carter, Christine Holmes, Carrie E. Hoxie, Mary Ingalls, and Annette L. Lundwall.

Since the beginning of our work twenty young women have been graduated from our Training School, and four, who had been in attendance upon the school, have been licensed as deaconesses. Of the twenty graduates, other than those who have been licensed as deaconesses, five are now deaconess probationers of the second year. Of the remaining eleven who have not become deaconesses or deaconess probationers, one is engaged in missionary work in Japan, another in Korea, and a third in Brazil. The other eight are doing efficient work on evangelistic or missionary lines in our own country. In the work of the Training School during the year, the Committee on Instruction and the Superintendent have received valuable aid from the following very efficient corps of instructors, who have cheerfully contributed their services, and have given instruction in the books appended to their names:

- Rev. W. W. Ramsay, Theological Compend.
- Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.
- Misses Nichols and Wilson and Mr. Sullivan, Church History.
- Mrs. S. Grace Snow, Bible Geography.
- Superintendent, Exegetical Bible Study (Historical Books of Old and New Testaments.)
- Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, Church Catechism and Discipline.
- " J. W. Dearborn, The Book of Job.
- " N. T. Whittaker, The Epistle to the Hebrews.
- " E. M. Taylor, The Epistle to the Romans.
- " W. G. Richardson, The Epistles to the Corinthians.
- " D. B. Dow, The Epistle to the Colossians.
- " J. Galbraith, The Epistle to the Ephesians.
- " C. F. Rice, The Epistle to the Galatians.
- " T. C. Watkins, The Epistle to the Philipians.
- " C. L. Goodell, The Epistles of Peter.
- " C. Cunningham, Prophecy with charts.
- Mrs. Anna C. Dorr Bryant, M.D., Medical Lectures.
- Mr. Fred Adams, Physical Culture.

Special Lectures were delivered by the following Specialists:

- Rev. James Mudge, D.D., four.
- " L. A. Banks, D.D.
- Mrs. Goodwin.
- Mr. Bert Poole.
- Rev. J. W. Butler, D.D., Mexico.

Parlor Conversations were conducted by the following friends of the School:

- Mrs. C. M. Jewell, Peking, China.
- Miss Spencer, Tokyo, Japan.
- Miss Sparkes, Muttra, India.

Arrangements are being perfected for still other additions to this list of able instructors, so that we may safely promise still greater facilities to the students who may come to us in the fall, in preparation for their life work. As to the financial condition and needs of the Home and Training School, we cannot do better than to quote from the Annual Report of the "Board of Nine" to the New England Conference at its last session.

"The Home and Training School, located at 45 E. Chester Park, Boston, is in good repair, and entirely free from debt. It is, however, altogether inadequate in its dimensions and room for the demands of the work. The Superintendent in her report to your Board, speaking of this crowded condition of things, says, 'This will suggest to you the necessity of active measures being taken to secure for us larger accommodations. We fervently hope and pray that this enlargement will include the very greatly needed hospital department of our work for the training of nurse deaconesses as well as to enable us to give to needy cases the Christ-like ministration for both body and soul, which would render our work so much more effective.'

Unless larger accommodations can be provided the work must be seriously hindered and restricted.

The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Cushing shows that the income from the Home during the year was $881.87, while the cash expenses were $2,166.17. Add to this $500, the amount received in donations of groceries, coal, etc., and we find that the total expense of the Home was $2,666.17, leaving, after deducting the $881.87 income, $1,784.36 to be provided for otherwise. At present we have the interest of $4,000 invested funds to assist in meeting this deficiency. The remainder must come from voluntary contributions on the part of friends of the movement, and collections from the churches where the deaconesses labor."

From this plain and forcible statement it can be readily seen that two things are absolutely necessary if this grand work is to go forward until it shall be able to meet the pressing demands of the hour:

1.—The continued and increasing liberality of its friends.

That larger accommodations must soon be provided for the work, is self-evident to any candid observer. That a hospital is essential to the highest usefulness and success of the enterprise, is equally apparent. Now, this can only be provided through the liberality of those whom God has blessed with means, and who are in sympathy with true Christian and philanthropic work. Thus far the enterprise has been fortunate in having many warm friends, whose generosity has made possible the achievements of the past. May we not look to these same friends to come to our help in this time of need, and also confidently expect others, who, perhaps, hitherto, have known little about the Home, to join them in supplying us with the necessary means for developing and enlarging this Christ-like work? The second thing necessary, if this great cause is to be successful, is—

2.—The presence in our Home and School of larger numbers of consecrated young women.

It is as true to-day as ever, that "the harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few." The calls for workers, which continually come to our Superintendent, show the pressing need. Churches and Missions are alike looking to us for help. Other cities and towns in New England are uttering the Macedonian cry. They say, "Send us a trained deaconess to inaugurate the work in our city, and we will soon have a Home of our own filled with workers." To many of these calls we must turn a deaf ear because of the lack of laborers. Are there not many young women in our New England churches who would gladly enter upon such work if their attention was called to the facilities for preparation offered by our Training School, and the opportunities for usefulness presented by the deaconess office? Will not the pastors of our New England Conferences take this matter upon their hearts, and make it the theme for prayer and meditation at their mid-week services, as well as call attention to the matter in sermons upon the Sabbath? And will not all Christians, who have the welfare of Christ's Kingdom at heart, join us in earnest prayer to the Lord of the Harvest, that He will send forth laborers into his harvest?

WILLIAM NAST BRODBECK,

President Board of Managers.

At present our family consists of three deaconesses, nine probationers and students, beside the Matron, Superintendent, cook, and two loved members, who, though not in deaconess work, are a constant inspiration to us all.

With most of the present family expecting to continue in the Home for another year, and applications beginning to come in from new students, it is evident that some arrangement for enlarging the capacity of the Home must be made, and I had hoped that the time had come for adding to our work at least the beginnings of a hospital, for it is my profound conviction that there is great need for work in this line; but, realizing that the question is one of very great importance, I am not prepared to make any definite recommendation except to urge upon you the fact that our work will be seriously crippled if some provision is not made for those who desire to become nurse-deaconesses to receive the proper training. I do not mean by this that I should expect us to have a fully equipped Training School for nurses, even if we had a small hospital, but if our students could have the benefit of experience in the sick-room, under hospital trained nurses, who will come to us as soon as we open such a department, we should soon have workers whom we could send out to do efficient service for those who are often found by our visiting deaconesses with absolutely no one to care for them, and I am convinced that if this part of our work were emphasized it would appeal more directly to the sympathies of the public, and thus secure a more cordial support.

For the same reasons, I am assured that we ought to locate some of our workers in the poorer parts of the city to do distinctively mission-work, but until Boston Methodism realizes the necessity of taking more aggressive steps looking toward the evangelization of the unchurched multitudes of people, it will be impracticable for us to assign our deaconesses other than to the regularly established churches.

But here I would suggest that there is even in the churches where deaconesses work, a failure to fully understand the real, legitimate work that a deaconess should be expected to do, as set forth in the Discipline, and I fervently hope that we will, by every possible means, seek to enlighten both the ministry and laity as to the importance and value of real deaconess service, wherever performed in accordance with the true idea.

If some action could be taken, whereby our Conferences could be brought into closer sympathy with the work and its needs, we should certainly secure a larger number of desirable candidates for the office of deaconess, as well as other students for the Training School, and also aid materially in the support of the Home.

Yet I would not have this appeal for your increased energy along all these lines, indicate, on my part, a failure of appreciation of what has been so nobly accomplished by New England Methodism and its friends, or a lack of faith and courage for the future.

I am confident that this work is of God, that it has and will continue to have His rich blessing, and that, in spite of hindrances incident to any work done by human agency, I look forward with assurances of increased prosperity, if only the Lord's people are aroused to appreciate the immense possibilities before them, and are thus led to give, work and pray, according to their ability.

In closing, I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the uniform kindness I have ever received from the members of the Board and the dear family, and, should I be permitted to serve you, "For Jesus Sake," another year, I intend that it shall be with renewed devotion.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Superintendent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Through the generous favor of the American Express Company we are able to make the following arrangement with our friends who desire to help us in sending clothing for our poor people, or vegetables, fruit, etc., for use in the Home. If you will send postal to the Home asking for printed tags with which to label your barrels or boxes, they will be brought to us for half the usual rates, if prepaid, and we are sure our friends will be glad to prepay charges, as the aggregate to us would materially increase our expenses. If fruit or vegetables for winter supply could be sent to us in larger quantity if we paid charges, we would be glad to do that to save paying city prices for these necessities, but when societies send to us we know they would be pleased to help us by prepaying. For barrels or heavy boxes freight would be cheaper, but when you send by express please be sure and send to us for printed tags, stating how many you can use, and also be sure to send name and address of the donor in every case, so that we may acknowledge receipt, but we will credit to "A friend" in donation list whenever desired to do so.

OUR "EMERGENCY FUND."—Perhaps some of our readers, noting in the Superintendent's report, the item concerning the "Emergency Fund," may wonder why the amount does not appear in the Treasurer's report or in the cash donations, so we will again explain that, while we keep a strict account of the receipts and disbursements from this fund, we have always considered both too sacred for publication, because the gifts often come in direct answer to prayer, and always unsolicited, and the money is spent by our workers to buy food, fruit, medicine, etc., for those in sore need, and whom we can so much more effectively help because no one knows but ourselves and the Lord, who thus permits us to be the medium through which His children who have means can help those in distress.

NOTICE.—If our Epworth Leagues, King's Daughter Circles, and other societies (many of which have already aided our work in various ways), wish to know how they can do this most effectively, or, if any young lady would like to enquire concerning the Deaconess work or the Training School, please write to the Superintendent, who will gladly furnish any information desired.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS

OF THE

NEW ENGLAND

DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

ARTICLE I.

THE name of this Corporation shall be the New England Deaconess Home and Training School.

ARTICLE II.

The object of the Corporation shall be (1) To establish and support a home for Deaconesses in Boston, Mass., in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs 207 to 212 of the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1888. (2) To give instruction in the Bible and in the work of Home and Foreign missions, and to furnish facilities for such instruction. (3) To provide a Christian home and secure practical training from city mission work.

ARTICLE III.

This Corporation shall annually elect, by ballot, a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, and not more than twenty directors, all of whom shall be members of the Corporation, and shall continue in office until their successors are chosen. The officers and directors named in this article shall form a Board of Managers, seven of whom shall constitute a quorum at any meeting regularly called.

ARTICLE IV.

The Presiding Elders of the New England Conference shall be ex-officio members of the Corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The annual meeting of the Corporation shall be held on the third Tuesday in May, for the election of officers and for the transaction of such other business as may come before it, and fifteen members shall constitute a quorum. Special meetings of the Corporation may be held at the call of the President or by the request of five of its members.

ARTICLE VI.

This constitution may be altered or amended at any regular meeting of the Corporation, by two-thirds of the members present and voting thereon, notice of proposed amendment having been given at a previous meeting.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

The President, or in his absence, the Vice-President, shall preside at all the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE II.

The Secretary shall keep a record of the doings of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Managers, and notify members of all meetings.

ARTICLE III.

The Treasurer shall keep an accurate account of all receipts in money or supplies and of all disbursements, and pay all bills approved by the Finance Committee, make a monthly report at the regular meetings of the Board, and an annual report at the annual meeting of the Corporation.

ARTICLE IV.

The Auditor shall annually examine the accounts of the Treasurer and report the result of his examination at the annual meeting of the Corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The Board of Managers shall have the general management of the property of the Corporation, and the current expenses of the Home and Training School, act on all applications for admission to the same, select the Superintendent and such other assistants as may be needed, and have the oversight of them, prescribe courses of study, and furnish adequate instruction for the Training School. It shall hold regular meetings, monthly, on the third Tuesday of each month, and special meetings may be held at the call of the President. The Board of Managers shall appoint annually the following Committees:—

1. Committee on Finance.
2. Committee on Applicants.
3. Committee on Regulation of the Home and on City Mission Work.
4. Committee on Purchasing supplies and Furnishings for the Home.
5. Committee on Instruction.

ARTICLE VI.

The Board of Managers shall report its doings at each regular meeting of the Conference Board of Deaconesses.

TO THE
NEW ENGLAND
DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. ALL applicants shall be received on at least three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers. After serving satisfactorily on trial they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess, otherwise their acceptance, after three months' trial, will be understood to be for the remainder of the Training School year.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

IV. Those admitted into a Deaconess Home shall consent to observe the established rules and regulations, and to abide by the decisions of the Superintendent, cheerfully giving all their time to the work assigned them,

Candidates are desired to furnish, if possible, their own bedding, especially blankets.

Any one desiring further information or blank applications, etc., should call upon or address the Superintendent, 45 East Chester Park, Boston, Mass.

REGULAR AND DAY STUDENTS OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. Ladies belonging to any Christian Church shall be received on the same basis as those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided they give the same amount of practical work, under direction of the latter church. Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged two dollars per month.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as Day-Students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

III. Ladies wishing to enter as Day-Students but not to do practical work shall have the privilege of all class-work and lectures, on the payment of two dollars per month.

PROBATIONERS AND DEACONESSSES.

I. Probationers and Deaconesses will, if able, pay their own board and expenses, either wholly or in part; or, if not able, they are entitled to comfortable maintenance during their connection with the Home, in conformity with its regulations. The condition under which each shall be admitted shall be determined by the Committee on Applicants after full knowledge concerning her financial ability. Candidates for the Training School who do not propose to become Deaconesses may be admitted on the same conditions, except that they will be required to pay their own board and expenses. Deaconesses becoming disabled, either by sickness or the infirmities of age, are entitled to support, if not otherwise provided for.

II. None shall solicit money unless duly authorized, and all donations and money received where service is rendered shall be paid into the treasury of the Home, to be applied toward the general expenses.

III. A simple uniform shall be worn, sufficient for protection and recognition in the work.

IV. The two years of continuous service required by the Discipline shall be spent in careful training, taking the following course of study and reading:—

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

In submitting to the public our Fifth Annual Report as Managers of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, we are grateful that we can present the record of a fairly prosperous year. The number of students in our Training School has not been so large as would be the case if the young women of New England properly understood the advantages arising from a year of systematic training in Christian work in such an institution. Notwithstanding all that has been written and said to the contrary the idea seems to still prevail that the School is simply for those who contemplate giving their lives to deaconess work. But no greater mistake could possibly be made. The course of study is designed to prepare the student for any form of Christian work whatever, and those who have no thought or intention of entering the deaconess office may as properly enter upon and perform it as those who have definitely determined upon such a life of consecration. We believe that if the merits and advantages of the School were properly understood it would be crowded with students each year. The following well known friends of the School have rendered efficient help during the year in the several departments of instruction named below :

Rev. W. W. Ramsay, Theological Compend.

Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.

Rev. C. M. Melden, Life of Christ.

Rev. J. Yeames, Acts of the Apostles.

Miss A. F. Wilson, Church History.

Miss N. L. Hibbard, Bible Geography.

Superintendent, Exegetical Bible Study (Historical Books of Old Testament.)

Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, Church Discipline and Catechism.

Rev. N. T. Whitaker, Epistle to the Hebrews.

Rev. C. F. Rice, Epistles to Ephesians and Philipians.

Rev. C. S. Rogers, Epistle to Galatians.

Rev. J. Galbraith, Epistles of Peter.

Rev. T. C. Watkins, Epistles to Timothy.

Rev. D. B. Dow, Epistles to Colossians.

Rev. G. W. Mansfield, Epistle of James.

Rev. T. L. Floody, Epistle to Thessalonians.

Rev. E. H. Hughes, Epistle to Philemon.

Dr. A. H. Powers, Medical Lectures.

Special Lectures were delivered by the following Specialists

Prof. Mitchell, 8,	Rev. W. J. Heath, 2,
Rev. G. M. Steele, 6,	Rev. Geo. Skene,
Rev. C. L. Goodell, 3,	Rev. N. T. Whitaker,
Rev. W. T. Perrin, 3,	Mr. Bert Poole,
Rev. J. Leonard, 3,	Miss Mary Danforth,

Mrs. Lucy Rider Meyer.

We confidently expect to have the services of an equally efficient corps of instructors during the coming year. With regard to the Home itself we believe the report of the Superintendent will show an increase in the number of workers over any former year, and also increased efficiency on their part in their several departments of labor. For the highest efficiency in our deaconess work we are in great need of a hospital. Efforts are now being put forth looking toward the speedy establishment of such an institution in our city. If some philanthropic man or woman would come forward and give us the use of a house for a term of years (as has been done in a number of our large cities), or what would be better still, give us a property in fee-simple for this benevolent object, we could soon have our Hospital in successful operation. The New England Conference at its last session voted unanimously to give us a collection in its several charges during the year for this purpose. At least three of the remaining Conferences in New England have taken favorable action in the same direction. All this encourages us to believe that not only will the work already undertaken be successfully prosecuted, but also that this new and necessary department in our work will soon be an accomplished fact. Toward this end we earnestly solicit the prayers, sympathies, and financial aid of all lovers of this Christ-like movement.

With one of our family loaned to another city for the year (though the loan will probably have to become a gift) and another temporarily away for training as a nurse, most of the time through the year we have numbered, in the Home, six deaconesses, eight probationers and students, beside the Matron and her daughter, the Superintendent, cook, and our two other loved members, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Walden.

Nine churches in and near Boston have received the services of deaconesses or students, and one in Fall River by a student who comes from there for class-work each week, beside the work done by our Swedish Evangelist and by deaconesses at Epworth League House and Morgan Chapel, and nursing by several students as their class-work would allow. We have with us one hospital-trained nurse, and are sure others will come when our own work in that direction is established.

I fervently wish that for our visiting deaconesses we might arrange for more real, distinctive mission work, but as our large city churches realize the value of the services of a deaconess, and we have not a sufficient number of workers to meet the demand, it seems necessary for the present to continue as heretofore, working chiefly in direct connection with the churches. Many of our deaconesses are longing for the way to open for them to be sent down into the districts of our city where there is so little being done compared to what may be, when God's stewards who cannot go themselves, come to realize the privilege of sending those who are anxious to go with the glad story of salvation to those who sit in heathen darkness almost at our very doors.

Of the much needed hospital, I have no need to speak, but will venture to urge upon you the exercise of a large faith in entering what surely seems to be an open door of splendid opportunity.

In thanking the Board for your continued co-operation and kindness, I wish specially to acknowledge my gratitude to you for calling to our Home as my assistant, Miss Hibbard, who has been in every way what the name implies, and besides the valued work in the Home, has done much in aid of Morgan Chapel to which she was assigned for all the time she could give in real field work. To the family, one and all, I owe very much for the loving spirit which has been a characteristic of the Home life.

That our Heavenly Father may give to us all an increased devotion that will aid in the accomplishment of still greater things "for Jesus sake," is my earnest prayer.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Supt.

The above list includes donations to June 30, 1894.

If we fail to acknowledge any donation please notify us, and we will do our best to rectify the omission. When friends do not wish their names published we shall avoid doing so at their request, but must ask them to kindly send name and address with package, in order that the goods may be receipted, and thus avoid loss.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Through the generous favor of the American Express Company we are able to make the following arrangement with our friends who desire to help us in sending clothing for our poor people, or vegetables, fruit, etc., for use in the Home. If you will send postal to the Home asking for printed tags with which to label your barrels or boxes, they will be brought to us for half the usual rates, if prepaid, and we are sure our friends will be glad to prepay charges, as the aggregate to us would materially increase our expenses. If fruit or vegetables for winter supply could be sent to us in larger quantity if we paid charges, we would be glad to do that to save paying city prices for these necessities, but when societies send to us we know they would be pleased to help us by prepaying. For barrels or heavy boxes freight would be cheaper, but when you send by express please be sure to send to us for printed tags, stating how many you can use, and also be sure to send name and address of the donor in every case, so that we may acknowledge receipt, but we will credit "A friend" in donation list whenever desired to do so.

OUR "EMERGENCY FUND."—Perhaps some of our readers, noting in the Superintendent's report, the item concerning the "Emergency Fund," may wonder why the amount does not appear in the Treasurer's report or in the cash donations, so we will again explain that, while we keep a strict account of the receipts and disbursements from this fund, we have always considered both too sacred for publication, because the gifts often come in direct answer to prayer, and always unsolicited, and the money is spent by our workers to buy food, fruit, medicine, etc., for those in sore need, and whom we can so much more effectively help, because no one knows but ourselves and the Lord, who thus permits us to be the medium through which His children who have means can help those in distress.

NOTICE.—If our Epworth Leagues, King's Daughter Circles, and other societies (many of which have already aided our work in various ways), wish to know how they can do this most effectively, or, if any young lady would like to enquire concerning the Deaconess work or the Training School, please write to the Superintendent, who will gladly furnish any information desired.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged two dollars per month.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as Day-Students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

As we come to our Sixth Annual Report of the condition and prosperity of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, we submit it to the public with mingled feelings of gratitude and regret; gratitude for the blessing of God which has so manifestly rested upon it, together with the generous support it has received at the hands of many of its friends; and regret that we are not able to report all the progress we had hoped when the last annual report was sent out. We then confidently expected that before the year should close, our Deaconess Hospital would be an assured fact, and successfully engaged in its beneficent work. In this expectation we have been disappointed; largely because of two conditions which were beyond our control. The first was our inability to find a property in every way adapted to our purposes, and elegibly located; and the second, the financial depression through which our country was passing, which seemed to render it unwise to assume any further financial obligation, unless we were brought face to face with a clearly providential opportunity. Now that our business world is on the verge of returning prosperity, we trust we shall soon be able to inaugurate this Christ-like work. The entire matter of the Hospital was committed by the Corporation at its last Annual Meeting to the Board of Managers, with power, and we confidently hope to enter upon this new department of labor at some time during the current year. We are satisfied that our deaconess work in Boston and vicinity can never reach its highest efficiency until we have a Hospital in successful operation. We have hoped and believed that some where in New England will be found some faithful steward who will gladly appropriate a portion of his Lord's money to this great enterprize; and this hope and belief we continue to cherish. The work already inaugurated and successfully prosecuted during the past six years, that of the Training School and Deaconess visitation, is doing well. The Superintendent's Report will doubtless give the facts concerning the number of workers in the Home, and their present employment. Our Training School has been favored during the year with the services of the following well known lecturers and teachers who have instructed the students in the branches placed opposite their names :

Rev. Daniel Steele, D.D., Theological Compend.
 Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.
 Rev. David Sherman, D.D., Church History.
 Rev. James Yeames, Life of Christ.
 Rev. Geo. M. Steele, D.D., Christian Evidences.
 Superintendent, Acts of the Apostles and Bible Geography.
 Superintendent's Assistant, Historical Books of Old Testament.
 Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, D.D., Church Discipline and Catechism.
 Rev. G. S. Chadbourne, D.D., Epistle to Romans.
 Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D.D., Epistle to Hebrews.
 Rev. C. F. Rice, D.D., Epistles to Ephesians and Philippians.
 Rev. E. H. Hughes, Epistle to Philemon.
 Rev. W. T. Perrin, Athens and Ephesus.
 Rev. C. L. Goodell, Manners and Customs of the Holy Land.
 Rev. W. J. Heath, Lectures on the Bible.
 Rev. Geo. Skene, The Prophet's Call.
 Dr. A. H. Powers, Medical Lectures.

We are sure the opportunities and privileges offered to the young women of New England through our Training School, are not properly appreciated. If they were we should have scores of students availing themselves of them. We earnestly request the co-operation of the pastors in the New England Conferences in letting the merits of our school be known among the young women of their charges. We also earnestly ask for the prayers, co-operation, and financial support of all who desire to see the interests of Christ's Kingdom advanced in our communities.

WM. NAST BRODBECK,

President Board of Managers.

Most of the year our family has numbered nineteen, divided as follows: nine licensed deaconesses, (including the Supt. and her Assistant), three probationers of the second year, three Training School students, and the matron, cook and our two other loved members, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Walden.

Changes will come this year, as one probationer has been called to her home, and some of the deaconesses will be away on leave of absence for additional preparation for special lines of work; but already applications from new students are being received, and the outlook is quite promising for a much larger class in the Training School than last year, providing measures are taken to increase the capacity of the Home. Unless this can be done, we shall have to stop inviting young women to join us in the Training School work. But we have faith to believe that something will be done; yet we cannot urge upon you too strongly the necessity of considering this as well as the much needed hospital with a view to decisive action, if our work is not to be deplorably crippled in the accomplishment of the purposes for which it is organized.

To the members of the Board and of the Home, I desire to personally acknowledge as heretofore, my deep gratitude for uniform kindness, and we all owe to our Heavenly Father the loyal devotion of grateful hearts for the manifold mercies of another year.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Supt.

The above list includes donations to June 30, 1895.

If we fail to acknowledge any donation please notify us, and we will do our best to rectify the omission. When friends do not wish their names published we shall avoid doing so at their request, but must ask them to send name and address with package, in order that the goods may be accepted, and thus avoid loss.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Through the generous favor of the American Express Company, we are able to make the following arrangement with our friends who desire to help us in sending clothing for our poor people, or vegetables, fruit, etc. for use in the Home. If you will send postal to the Home asking for printed tags with which to label your barrels or boxes, they will be brought to us for half the usual rates, if prepaid, and we are sure our friends will be glad to prepay charges, as the aggregate to us would materially increase our expenses. If fruit or vegetables for winter supply could be sent to us in larger quantity if we paid charges, we would be glad to do that to save paying city prices for these necessities, but when societies send to us we know they would be pleased to help us by prepaying. For barrels or heavy boxes freight would be cheaper, but when you send by express please be sure to send to us for printed tags, stating how many you can use, and also be sure to send name and address of the donor in every case, so that we may acknowledge receipt, but we will credit "a friend" in donation list whenever desired to do so.

OUR "EMERGENCY FUND"—Perhaps some of our readers, noting in the Superintendent's report, the item concerning the "Emergency Fund," may wonder why the amount does not appear in the Treasurer's report or in the cash donations, so we will again explain, that while we keep a strict account of the receipts and disbursements from this fund, we have always considered both too sacred for publication, because the gifts often come in direct answer to prayer, and always unsolicited, and the money is spent by our workers to buy food, fruit, medicine, etc. for those in sore need, and whom we can so much more effectually help, because no one knows but ourselves and the Lord, who thus permits us to be the medium through which His children who have the means can help those in distress.

NOTICE.—If our Epworth Leagues, King's Daughter Circles, and other societies (many of which have already aided our work in various ways) wish to know how they can do this most effectively, or if any young lady would like to enquire concerning the Deaconess work or the Training School, please write to the Superintendent, who will gladly furnish any information desired.

The Board of Managers shall appoint annually the following Committees:—

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I hereby give and bequeath to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts, dollars, to be paid to the Treasurer of the said Society, whose receipt shall be a sufficient acquittance to my executors therefor.

FORM OF DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I hereby give and devise to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts, (describe land, etc.), and to their successors and assigns forever.

RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES TO THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS HOME AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. All applicants shall be received on at least three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers. After serving satisfactorily on trial they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess, otherwise their acceptance, after three months' trial, will be understood to be for the remainder of the Training School year.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

IV. Those admitted into a Deaconess Home shall consent to observe the established rules and regulations, and to abide by the decisions of the Superintendent, cheerfully giving all their time to the work assigned them.

Candidates are desired to furnish, if possible, their own bedding, especially blankets.

Any one desiring further information or blank applications, etc., should call upon or address the Superintendent, 693 Massachusetts Ave., Boston Mass.

REGULAR AND DAY STUDENTS OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. Ladies belonging to any Christian Church shall be received on the same basis as those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided they give the same amount of practical work, under direction of the latter Church. Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged two-dollars per month.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as day-students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

III. Ladies wishing to enter as day-students but not to do practical work, shall have the privilege of all class-work and lectures, on the payment of two dollars per month.

PROBATIONERS AND DEACONESSSES.

Probationers and Deaconesses will, if able, pay their own board and expenses, either wholly or in part; or, if not able, they are entitled to comfortable maintenance during their connection with the Home, in conformity with its regulations. The condition under which each shall be admitted shall be determined by the Committee on Applicants, after full knowledge concerning her financial ability. Candidates for the Training School who do not propose to become Deaconesses may be admitted on the same conditions, except that they will be required to pay their own board and expenses. Deaconesses becoming disabled, either by sickness or the infirmities of age, are entitled to support, if not otherwise provided for.

II. None shall solicit money unless duly authorized, and all donations and money received where service is rendered shall be paid into the treasury of the Home, to be applied toward the general expenses.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

It is with feelings of peculiar gratification and gratitude that we submit to our corporation and the public, this our Seventh Annual Report of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School. We are deeply grateful to Almighty God for the good providence which has permitted us to reach and conclude our first Sabbath Year as an organization, and for all the blessings he has so richly bestowed upon us during these eventful seven years. We are also greatly gratified, as well as profoundly thankful, that this first Sabbath Year has witnessed the consummation of ardently cherished, but long deferred hopes, in the establishment and successful inauguration of our Deaconess Hospital. It would seem especially appropriate that this climax in our history should be reached during this significant year. Never before have we been so thoroughly equipped for the work we were raised up to perform, and never, therefore, has our responsibility been so great. We now have three distinct departments in our work; and to these we wish to call separate attention in their order:

1. THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

And no branch of our work is more important than this. Not only is it designed to prepare young women for the Deaconess office, but also for any phase of Christian work to which they may be called in the providence of God. Thus far in its history it has done an important work. Its graduates are to be found in foreign and home mission fields, as well as in our, and other Deaconess Homes. But in the judgment of your Board it has never yet measured up to its full possibilities. Its curriculum has been limited because tentative; its entire methods and results an evolution; its very existence without recognition in the law of the Church. Now that it is a recognized factor in the Deaconess Movement, with a "Course of Study" prescribed by the Board of Bishops, and probably a course covering two years in its prosecution, we believe it will at once assume a position of greater importance and usefulness. We hope to announce the new "Course of Study" for the coming year, and by the aid of an efficient Committee on the Training School, to make it a greater power than it has hitherto been. The school during the past year has enjoyed the instruction of the following competent teachers and lecturers in the studies indicated :

- Rev. Daniel Steele, D. D., Theological Compend.
- Rev. George M. Steele, D. D., Christian Evidences.
- Rev. James Yeames, Life of Christ.
- Prof. Harriet J. Cook, Church History.
- Principal, Historical Books of Old Testament.
- Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.
- Rev. C. Cunningham, The Prophetic Books.
- Rev. J. D. Pickles, Ph. D., Book of Job.
- Superintendent, Other Poetical Books.
- Rev. G. S. Chadbourne, D. D., Epistle to Romans.
- Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., Epistle to Hebrews.
- Rev. C. F. Rice, D. D., Epistle to Ephesians and Philippians.
- Rev. W. J. Heath, Lectures on Bible.
- Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, D. D., Practical Addresses.
- Rev. C. L. Goodell, Manners and Customs of Holy Land.
- Rev. F. N. Upham, Mutual Work of Pastor and Deaconess.
- Rev. Ralph Gillam, Methods in Revival Work.
- Dr. A. H. Powers, Medical Lectures.

May we not ask the earnest co-operation of all interested in our work, in bringing the special advantages in Christian study offered by our School, to the attention of the young women of their churches and congregations?

2. THE DEACONESS HOME.

This department of our work is doing well. The report of the Superintendent will doubtless give information as to the number who are now permanent members of the Home, and the work in which they are engaged. The young women, both deaconesses and deaconess probationers, are heartily approved by the churches and missions which they serve, and show themselves to be loyal members of the household. The only difficulty we encounter is to secure a sufficient number of them to supply the pressing demand for their labors. We believe, however, that an increased attendance upon our Training School will mean an increasing number of those ready to consecrate their lives to this work.

3. THE DEACONESS HOSPITAL.

This is the newest, but by no means the least important, department of our work. Established, and opened for patients less than five months ago, it has already done a great work in caring for the sick, and has thoroughly demonstrated the need of such an institution in New England. The conditions of admission are published elsewhere in this Annual Report, as also a record of the number of patients thus far cared for. We are glad to report that up to the present our Hospital has been very successful. In its equipment and the character of its service, it is second to no private hospital in our city. Through its peculiar arrangement as to physicians and surgeons employed, it meets a condition and need not hitherto provided for so well. All that is necessary now to render it a permanent blessing to New England is the hearty support of its friends. Twenty-five hundred dollars is needed at once to meet pressing claims. Nearly six thousand dollars has already been contributed by those specially interested. May we not have a generous response at once from others? With this indebtedness provided for, our New England Deaconess Home and Training School, with its three-fold departments, will be able to enter upon the work of the coming year with greater vigor and usefulness than at any time in the past. FRIENDS HELP US.

WILLIAM NAST BRODBECK,

President Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

June 16, 1896.

To the Corporation of the N. E. Deaconess Home and Training School :—

As our work has broadened since our last annual meeting, I will report the year's work under the three different departments.

The Training School, under the able guidance of its Principal, Miss N. L. Hibbard, has done good work, through the generous co-operation of the teachers (to whom our President has made reference) and the faithfulness of the students, six of whom were graduated May 18th.

In the following statistical report the work of the students is included with that of the deaconesses and probationers.

In the Home the family has been composed of seven licensed deaconesses. (including the Superintendent and Principal), two deaconess probationers, six students and the matron, cook and Miss Walden.

One has been engaged in Evangelistic work, eight have been working under the direction of various pastors, and four under the Boston City Missionary Society in connection with the University Settlement, Morgan Chapel and the Italian work.

The Hospital, under the efficient management of Miss A. L. Punchard, was successfully opened February 5th, and with the superintending nurse were associated five deaconess probationers and a cook and laundress. But two of the nurses have been obliged to leave on account of ill health.

Since the opening thirty-three patients have been cared for, twenty-one surgical and twelve medical.

Only one death has occurred, and that was a case of heart disease, brought from a very uncomfortable place to be made more easy for her last hours.

Our thanks are due to the physicians and surgeons who have been so uniformly kind and appreciative of what has been done for both free and pay patients. Of the thirty-three there have been nine received free, or paid for by special arrangements, and several others for very small amounts.

Very many cases have had to be refused because our limited capacity will not permit us to receive chronic, convalescent or contagious cases, but we hope the time may come when a larger number can be cared for, the need being very apparent to those at all conversant with facts.

It may be too early in the history of the Hospital to predict its future success, though medical and other friends have no doubt upon the subject; but I feel compelled to again remind you that the imperative need in all lines of our work is not only financial support but a larger number of consecrated women who are qualified and willing to devote themselves to this blessed service "for Jesus' sake."

We are grateful to God for His signal blessing upon the work, and trust Him to call other workers into the service and raise up additional friends who, with those that have already so generously aided us, will make it possible to continue the work in all lines with increased usefulness.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Supt.

The above list includes donations to June 30, 1896.

If we fail to acknowledge any donation please notify us, and we will do our best to rectify the omission. When friends do not wish their names published we shall avoid doing so at their request, but must ask them to send name and address with package, in order that the goods may be receipted and thus avoid loss.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Through the generous favor of the American Express Company, we are able to make the following arrangement with our friends who desire to help us in sending clothing for our poor people, or vegetables, fruit, etc., for use in the Home. If you will send postal to the Home asking for printed tags with which to label your barrels or boxes, they will be brought to us for half the usual rates, if prepaid, and we are sure our friends will be glad to prepay charges, as the aggregate to us would materially increase our expenses. If fruit or vegetables for winter supply could be sent to us in larger quantity if we paid charges, we would be glad to do that to save paying city prices for these necessities, but when societies send to us we know they would be pleased to help us by prepaying. For barrels or heavy boxes freight would be cheaper, but when you send by express please be sure to send to us for printed tags, stating how many you can use, and also be sure to send name and address of the donor in every case, so that we may acknowledge receipt, but we will credit "a friend" in donation list whenever desired to do so.

OUR "EMERGENCY FUND."—Perhaps some of our readers, noting in the Superintendent's report, the item concerning the "Emergency Fund," may wonder why the amount does not appear in the Treasurer's report or in the cash donations, so we will again explain, that while we keep a strict account of the receipts and disbursements from this fund, we have always considered both too sacred for publication, because the gifts often come in direct answer to prayer, and always unsolicited, and the money is spent by our workers to buy food, fruit, medicine, etc., for those in sore need, and whom we can so much more effectually help, because no one knows but ourselves and the Lord, who thus permits us to be the medium through which His children who have the means can help those in distress.

NOTICE.—If our Epworth Leagues, King's Daughter Circles, and other societies (many of which have already aided our work in various ways) wish to know how they can do this most effectively, or if any young lady would like to enquire concerning the Deaconess work or the Training School, please write to the Superintendent, who will gladly furnish any information desired.

DEACONESS HOME ^{AND} TRAINING SCHOOL.

I. All applicants shall be received on at least three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers. After serving satisfactorily on trial they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess, otherwise their acceptance, after three months' trial, will be understood to be for the remainder of the Training School year.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess who are more than forty or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

I. Ladies belonging to any Christian Church shall be received on the same basis as those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided they give the same amount of practical work, under direction of the latter Church. Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged two dollars per month.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as day-students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

III. Ladies wishing to enter as day-students but not to do practical work, shall have the privilege of all class-work and lectures, on the payment of two dollars per month.

Candidates for the Training School who do not propose to become Deaconesses may be admitted on the same conditions, except that they will be required to pay their own board and expenses. Deaconesses becoming disabled, either by sickness or the infirmities of age, are entitled to support, if not otherwise provided for.

Address, Miss MARY E. LUNN,

691 Massachusetts Ave., BOSTON, MASS.

The reports of officers herein contained, being only to the 30th of June, could not give our readers an adequate idea of the work done in the New England Deaconess Hospital up to the time when this pamphlet reaches them.

We hope, however, to present a very full and gratifying report when the first year has been completed. But in order that our friends may not be kept waiting so long, for information up to date, we commend to their attention the notice given below concerning our paper, and also cordially invite them to come and see the Home and Hospital, the former of which is open any time to visitors: the latter any week-day from two to three P. M.

In addition to the constant need of fuel, groceries, provisions, canned fruit and the like for both Home and Hospital, we very greatly need a telephone, more small china ware for patients' trays, tray cloths, sheets, pillow-cases, towels and old linen and cotton.

The deaconesses gladly give themselves in loving service "for Jesus' sake," and are sure that friends will continue to contribute the "oil and wine" so that they can be the "Good Samaritan" to those in need.

"Workers together with God."

Incidents of the work and items of interest relating to its growth and development will be found in the Deaconess Home Journal, a bi-monthly published at the low rate of fifteen cents per annum for single copies, and sent in clubs of ten or more, to one address, at the rate of ten copies for one dollar. Our friends can aid the work in many ways by helping to increase the circulation of the paper.

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT.

As we come to render our eighth Annual Report of the condition and needs of the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School" to our corporation and the public, we are deeply grateful as a Board of Management to the good Being who has so graciously led us thus far in this labor of love, that we are able to report one of the most prosperous years we have enjoyed since the inception of our enterprise eight years ago. Every department of our work has seemed to receive during the year special divine favor and blessing. The only real difficulty with which we have had to contend, has been the lack of suitable accommodations for our constantly enlarging work. When this movement began in Boston eight years ago, we purchased a building on what is now known as Massachusetts avenue, for our Home and Training School which was large enough at the time to meet our needs. Now, after all the growth of these eight years, we practically have only that same building for these two departments, for while we have since purchased an adjoining building of equal size, it is devoted entirely to hospital purposes, and is altogether inadequate for even that department of our work. The result is we are constantly compelled to rent rooms outside our own buildings to accommodate our Training School students. This naturally involves quite an expense, and causes more or less inconvenience to all parties concerned. Now what we need, and pressingly need, is a good location for our Hospital not far from the city proper, with ground sufficient to enable us in the future to extend our work in the direction of an orphanage and an Old People's Home. If we had such a plot of ground now, with a building on it containing four times the accommodations of our present hospital, it would be full all the time. From every side the pressure constantly comes upon us to provide such a place. Physicians, surgeons, patients and their friends, are unremittingly urging us to such a course. We are ready as a Board to proceed so soon as the financial interest and pledges of the friends of this noble work will warrant us in so doing. Then, with such a building for our hospital, we could at once transform the present hospital into a suitable building for our Training School. This, together with the adjacent Home building, would furnish us with sufficient room for the present for these two important departments of our great work. We wish we could properly impress the urgent character of our needs in these directions upon the people of New England, for surely we would then be speedily supplied with the necessary funds for such enlargement. Our Training School, under the efficient management of its Principal, Miss Nellie L. Hibbard, is more prosperous than ever before. We now have the largest number of students in attendance we have ever had in any one year. Our home, under the direction of the acting Superintendent, Miss Sarah Louise Smith, is in a prosperous condition, and is sending out from its doors every day thoroughly trained workers to labor, either in connection with our churches, or in the mission districts of our great city. Our Hospital, under the care of a corps of competent nurses, is crowded continually, and nearly every week needy ones must be denied admittance because there is no more room. Miss Mary E. Lunn, who has served us so faithfully and efficiently during these eight years, has just returned from a three months' tour in Europe, two months of that time at least was devoted to the study of deaconess and hospital work in England and Germany, and is therefore even better qualified than in the past to lead and direct this great movement. We seem to have everything we need for the successful prosecution of our work except money. If we had five thousand dollars in hand now, with five thousand more in prospect, we would immediately launch out into the deeper channels which have been indicated. The money needed is in the hands of God's stewards in New England; will they not come to our help? We are convinced there is no way in which philanthropically inclined people can use the means God has bestowed upon them, to do so much good, or to bring them so rich a return in blessing, as by helping us to secure our much needed Hospital building. May we not hear from those whom God has blessed, and whose hearts are touched with sympathy for the poor, the sick, and the suffering? Our Training School during the year has enjoyed the instructions of the following well-known lecturers upon the subjects attached to their names:

Rev. Daniel Steele, D. D., Theological Compend.

Rev. George M. Steele, D. D., Sociology.

Rev. George S. Butters, D. D., Life of Christ and Book of Acts.

Rev. Mr. J. Loehlin, Church History.

Principal, Historical Books of the Old Testament.

Miss E. Carter, Parts of Old Testament Historical Books.

Rev. W. I. Haven, The Prophetic Books.

Rev. J. D. Pickles, Ph. D., Book of Job and Travels in Egypt.

Superintendent. Other Poetical Books.

Rev. G. S. Chadbourne, D. D., Epistle to Romans.

Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., Epistle to Hebrews.

Rev. C. F. Rice, D. D., Epistles to Ephesians and Philippians.

Rev. Seth C. Carey, Epistles to Thessalonians and Colossians, Timothy, and Peter.

Rev. F. N. Upham, Epistles to Corinthians, and Mutual Work of Pastor and Deaconess.

Rev. W. J. Heath, Versions of the Bible, and The Bible as Literature.

Rev. W. N. Brodbeck, D. D., Opening Address of School, Discipline and Catechism.

Rev. C. L. Goodell, Palestine, its People, their Manners and Customs.

Rev. George Skere, The Prophet's Call.

Rev. Ralph Gillam, Methods in Revival Work.

Mr. J. E. Turner, Analysis of Bible.

Miss Clara Collier, Deaconess Work in China.

Miss C. Ballard, Physical Culture.

We are glad to announce that an equally able corps of instructors has been engaged for this year. [See page 17.]

We still plead with pastors and Christian workers to bring to the attention of their young people the splendid advantages connected with a course of training in this school. With our new and greatly enlarged curriculum, and our grand body of teachers and lecturers, we are now able to promise facilities to all desiring special training in Christian work, equal to those of any similar school in the country, and as we ask for such assistance for this department of our work, so we plead for the coöperation of all lovers of the Master in our Home and Hospital work. With such coöperation on the part of the friends of this great movement, we believe we shall be able to do a greatly needed work for Boston and New England, and one which shall bring help and blessing to thousands of weary and needy souls.

WILLIAM NAST BRODBECK.

For Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

MAY 18, 1897.

To the Corporation of the N. E. Deaconess Home and Training School :—

The work of the past year is cause for gratitude, even though some circumstances have seemed to hinder it at some points.

The Training School graduated but three students, others having had to relinquish the work for the present, but will return probably in the fall to resume study, and continue with us for future work.

During part of the year Miss Hibbard, Principal of the Training School, was obliged to be away, for family reasons, but the work was carried on under the direction of Miss Carter, a graduate of 1893, and, as will be reported by the President, a large number of very instructive lectures were given by our corps of able teachers.

The class-room should be filled with young women to hear these lectures, and we must again urge our friends to widen the influence of the School by securing a larger number of Day Students, as well as those who come for the full course.

Besides the Principal and Superintendent, there have been three other licensed deaconesses in the Home, and these, with the three probationers and four resident students have worked with seven churches, the University Settlement and Morgan Chapel.

In the Hospital Miss MacLean has been assisted by six other nurses, three of whom are licensed, and the whole number of patients cared for during this Corporation year is 177.

(The First Annual Report of the hospital published in the spring gives the statistical report of work done.)

This is not the time or place for the faithfulness of all the workers to be referred to at length, but in giving the statistical report, with which I shall close, I wish to remind you that figures convey but a faint idea of the unselfish devotion which has been cheerfully given "for Jesus sake," and I gratefully acknowledge that the Holy Spirit has been and is with us, making the labor a sacred privilege, and crowning it with success.

We do sincerely hope you will be led to increase the possibilities of the Home, Training School and Hospital, by giving us more room, and helping us to find a larger number of efficient and devoted workers for all departments.

Your cordial and hearty thanks are due to the many doctors, who have given their services for our free patients, as well as for their faithful attendance upon those who pay.

May the blessing of Heaven rest upon what has been accomplished, and give us all the courage of faith to dare to plan for larger usefulness.

Following is the report for year ending June 30, 1897 :

After serving satisfactorily on trial, they may be admitted as probationers, provided it be their intention to ultimately seek admission into the office of Deaconess, otherwise their acceptance, after three months' trial, will be understood to be for the remainder of the Training School year.

II. None shall be admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess who are more than forty, or less than twenty-three years of age, except by vote of the Managers.

III. Candidates shall be required to furnish satisfactory recommendations from their pastors and the official boards of the church to which they belong, and a health certificate from a physician.

IV. Those admitted into a Deaconess Home shall consent to observe the established rules and regulations, and to abide by the decisions of the Superintendent, cheerfully giving all their time to the work assigned them.

Should they be unable to do this, or desire to work for their own denomination, they would, in addition to the three dollars per week for board, be charged two dollars per month.

II. Ladies desiring to enter as day-students shall be received without charge, provided they give the regular amount of practical work, namely, three afternoons per week and Sunday work.

DEACONESSSES.

WHO THEY ARE AND WHAT THEY DO,

The qualifications of a deaconess are a strong and healthy body, a bright, intelligent mind and a consecrated heart.

No life-vow is taken to the work, but usually, licensed deaconesses prefer to remain in it, and their motto in the service is: "For Jesus Sake."

A simple costume is worn for economy of time and money, and for recognition and protection in the work.

The work of deaconesses as set forth in the Discipline of the M. E. Church is: "To minister to the poor, visit the sick, pray with the dying, care for the orphans, seek the wandering, comfort the sorrowing, save the sinning, and, relinquishing wholly all other pursuits, devote themselves, in a general way, to such forms of Christian labor as may be suited to their abilities."

NOTES FROM DEACONESS NOTE BOOKS.

It was an invalid, who had been suffering for many years without Christ, whom the deaconess found in her round of parish calls one summer afternoon.

In her frequent visits, as she read to him the word of God, a prayer always ascended that the seed might find lodgement in his heart. Prayer was answered in his behalf, and he was enabled to trust in Jesus Christ as his Saviour, and now as he "leans upon the everlasting arms," he feels that living or dying he is the Lord's, and the utterance of his heart is "Thy will, not mine be done."

The deaconess was sent to look after a woman reported sick. She went up the stairs and stood in the open doorway. Four men sat at a table playing cards, with black bottles on the table beside them. A pretty young girl sat looking on. The scene was not inviting, but knowing that "He had given His angels charge over her," and that she was His messenger, the deaconess asked for the woman she was looking for, and was directed to the next room.

The woman she found able to be about the room; she was a Christian, but grieved because of the ways of her husband and his companions.

Before leaving, the deaconess said she would read God's word and offer prayer, and the woman invited the company in the next room to come in. They all came, two of them laughing, but all listened respectfully. The deaconess told them she should return on Sunday and hold a meeting there, and invited them to be present. Three of them were there, and before the close of the meeting seemed much touched, and asked for prayers that they might be saved.

HOSPITAL WARD.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

One patient who left her family in Vermont to come here for treatment was greatly surprised to find that she was not homesick. Her sister says, in a letter received recently: "We are all very grateful for the kindness shown her there. She writes that she shall not know much about hospital life when she leaves, for it seems like a home, and the nurses like sisters.

Her little daughter sent this message in a letter, which I wrote to her mamma: 'Give my love to the hospital for being so good to you.' Praise the Lord for the Deaconess Hospital!"

Another patient writes: "If any sick one desires home-like care, they should come to you at the Deaconess Hospital. While I was there in not one instance was I in the least particular neglected. Care such as our near and dear ones in the heart of home would give, was constantly given us. I entered the building with a shrinking of heart; I left it with eyes and heart full, because of the tender love and care that had been accorded me."

WHAT WE NEED.

Friends desiring to help the Deaconess work in any of its departments can do so by sending money; clothing of all kinds for men, women and children, if mended ready for use; bedding, carpeting, furniture, etc.; groceries, provisions, vegetables, fruit, canned or fresh, either for use in the Home and Hospital or for distribution among the poor; flowers, books and papers; or by subscribing for Zion's Herald, the organ of Deaconess work in New England.

$5000 will endow a bed in the hospital.

$5000 will support a deaconess continually in the field.

$250 will support a free bed for one year.

$250 will support a deaconess for one year.

If you cannot in one of these ways render this beautiful service by proxy or in memory of a dear one, can you not do your part and get your friends to join you?

"Freely ye have received, freely give."

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Friends of the Deaconess Hospital will please remember that all bequests intended for the Hospital should be made to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School Corporation for Hospital work.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I hereby give and bequeath to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts, dollars, to be paid to the Treasurer of the said Society, whose receipt shall be a sufficient acquittance to my executors therefor.

FORM OF DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I hereby give and devise to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts (describe land, etc.), and to their successors and assigns forever.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The Corporation of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School is empowered to carry on a general benevolent, philanthropic work, and expects to open new Homes for various purposes, just as soon as friends will furnish the means.

INTRODUCTORY WORDS BY THE PRESIDENT.

Our corporation met with an immeasurable loss in the death of its efficient president, Rev. William Nast Brodbeck, D. D. Holding this position from the first, he gave to the interests of this work unsparing devotion. Constant in his attendance upon the meetings of Committees, Board of Managers and Corporation, he was acquainted with all the details of administration, and thus became a wise counsellor and an inspiring leader. Upon the floor of the General Conference and everywhere he was the champion of the deaconess movement. We shall see his genial face no more, but his memory will be an unceasing stimulus to unflagging fidelity.

Dr. Brodbeck's address of last year, with slight modifications, might admirably serve for the president's message this year. We have the same reasons for gratitude to God, the same cheering reports of growth and achievement, and the same cry for help. This cry, however, is now more intense. Our donations have fallen off, and the pressure for larger accommodations has become more uncomfortable. Where one young woman is studying to prepare for practical Christian usefulness, we ought to be training five, and we need five beds in our hospital where now we have one. As it is, students must be accommodated outside the Home, and patients must be turned away. Some of the very best surgeons in Boston have become our cordial friends, and are constantly urging the enlargement of our work. We cannot respond to these calls without money. Where is the kind friend who will give us $20,000 at once and leave us as much more in his will? Perhaps, however, God is getting ready for this service a George I. Seney who will far outstrip all our faith. For the payment of our annual expenses we need a list of annual subscribers. If we could secure ten such subscriptions of $100, twenty of $50, forty of $25, one hundred of $10, two hundred of $5, with smaller sums and a few larger donations, we should have an annual income more nearly adequate to our increasing needs. My dear reader, will you not let us have your name as a helper according to your ability ?

The past year the course of study in the Training School has been wisely lengthened from one to two years, so that the class which should have graduated was advanced to the second year's course. This is the largest class in the history of the School. The faithful principal, Miss Nellie L. Hibbard, has carried forward her department with commendable efficiency. We are greatly indebted to the able instructors who have generously given their valuable services. The Hospital, under the wise administration of the superintending nurse, Miss M. E. Booker, has strengthened its hold upon the physicians and surgeons who have become acquainted with it, and has constantly enlarged its circle of friends. Many have thanked God for its Christlike ministries.

Miss Mary E. Lunn, the superintendent, has had careful oversight of the whole institution, and has manifested the same contagious zeal and courageous faith which has hitherto marked her administration. Her report, which will be read with interest, gives in detail what has been accomplished in each department.

It is to be remembered that, while there are other Deaconess Homes within our borders, this is the only Deaconess Training School and the only hospital under Methodist auspices in New England. We may, therefore, properly appeal to all Methodists in New England for their sympathetic support.

We wish also to widely publish the fact that, while we call ours a Methodist Hospital, and hope it may have all the Christian sweetness and good cheer which Methodism stands for, its doors swing open with a cordial welcome to the suffering of every creed and race and social condition. Its work thus appeals to every philanthropic heart.

In all lines of our work, we seem to hear the command, "Go forward!" This call seems to come from God. If so, there must be those somewhere whom God is prompting to rally to our help. Our progress depends upon their response to God's call.

WILLARD T. PERRIN,
For the Board of Managers.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

May 17, 1898.

To the Corporation of the N. E. Deaconess Home and Training School : —

For the ninth time it is my privilege to report to you the progress of the work under your direction during another year. You can scarcely wonder that I also must remind you that, but for our limited capacity in house-room, the work could have been even more successful. We have obviated this trouble partially, by renting rooms outside of our two houses, but when the hospital work can be prosecuted in a building erected for the purpose, and the two houses you at present own, can be used for Home and Training School, there is no doubt but that the influence of the work will be immeasurably increased.

Before reporting somewhat in detail the work of each department, permit me to express a constantly growing conviction that, notwithstanding the difficulties that have hitherto seemed insurmountable, and may still so appear to some who are not fully conversant with the vast opportunities before us, we can, with fervent faith in God and persevering effort with His people, extend the facilities for this service of love, which will bring large returns for all investments.

What can it mean for so many appeals to come to us almost daily, that have to be responded to by a denial of the very ministry to which we are called ?

Oh, for the power to convince those who have means that in no more practical way can they lay up treasures in heaven, than by increasing the possibilities of such practical helpfulness to those whom Christ bids us care for in His name !

THE TRAINING SCHOOL

for deaconesses and other Christian workers, has taken a very important step in advance, and the principal, Miss Nellie Hibbard, has, with the valued and indefatigable assistance of the Training School Committee, adjusted the course of study to cover two years, and while embracing the course required by the Discipline for deaconess probationers, it also includes much more that is calculated to give to any young woman a very thorough general training for any line of Christian activity.

At the Commencement, May 18th, 1898, nine students will receive certificates, passing them from the Junior to the Senior Year, as they came expecting to graduate at the end of the one year's course of study, as our other classes had done. All of these hope to be with us for the completion of the full course, and the principal is in correspondence with a number of young women who desire admission to the Junior Class next year.

This necessitates, with the present limitations of our houses, the renting of another house for the Training School, and providing for the principal to be aided by a larger corps of teachers for the prosecution of the double course of study.

This foundation part of our work means much to the other lines, as from it will be secured most of the additional workers that are so greatly needed, both as visiting and nurse deaconesses, as well as sending out those who come only for the training, into other fields of usefulness.

Our earnest appeal for help in this department is suitable house-room, more teachers, and a wider spread of the knowledge of its peculiar advantages among those who desire its aid in fitting them for their life-work.

The students have pursued the practical part of the training in connection with churches, missions, etc., as follows:

Miss S. J. Baker, Lenox Street Chapel; Miss O. F. Harding, Trinity, Charlestown; Misses M. M. Martin and A. Raynes, Atlantic (the latter giving Sunday work to the church and weekdays to the hospital in training for nurse); Miss B. O. Metcalf, Winthrop Street, Roxbury; Miss E. C. Nye, University Settlement; Miss E. A. Parmenter, Mt. Bowdoin; Misses J. Smith and H. L. Stewart, Morgan Chapel; and Miss C. Wood, Forest Hills.

We have been favored during the year with regular lessons or occasional lectures from the following able and well-known instructors upon the subjects attached to their names:

THE DEACONESS HOME FOR VISITING DEACONESSSES.

At the Annual Conference in April, one nurse and two visiting deaconesses were consecrated, making in the Home and Hospital (including the Principal and Superintendent) nine licensed deaconesses beside three temporarily absent from the Home.

With these are associated in the Home three probationers who have finished the Training School course and are awaiting the completion of their probation.

The visiting deaconesses and probationers have been working in connection with churches, missions, etc., as follows :

Miss E. S. Anderson, Swedish churches in Maplewood and Everett ; Miss C. Barber, Italian work under the City Missionary Society ; Miss R. G. Barr, Grace, Cambridge ; Miss E. C. Brown, Morgan Chapel ; Miss E. M. Chisholm, St. John's, South Boston ; Miss J. Fisk, Dorchester ; Miss E. M. Ruddick, Winthrop St., Roxbury.

There is still a failure on the part of many to really understand the legitimate work of the visiting deaconesses, but we hope the time is coming when, with a larger number of workers, we shall be able more successfully to meet the urgent demands, and avail ourselves of new opportunities of usefulness.

During my absence of nearly six months, Miss Sarah Louise Smith kindly filled the vacancy, and we have the past year been again favored with the valuable services of Miss C. D. Oliver as matron of the Home.

THE HOSPITAL.

Last fall Miss C. MacLean, who had for fifteen months done such very faithful work as head nurse, was obliged to resign, but very providentially we were able to secure Miss M. E. Booker, a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital, who is in every way adapted to the important position.

In February, Misses Betts, Brown and Lundwall completed two years of faithful service which, in the pioneer work of the establishment of the hospital, brought out in a peculiar way their untiring devotion and constantly increasing efficiency. These, with Miss Blakely, who entered later, are now all licensed deaconesses, and Miss Booker has not only been aided by them, but has also under her instruction others who came for training, some of whom will in time be also licensed when they have completed their training in Bible study as well as hospital work, if they prove fitted for and called to the work of a deaconess.

We have been able occasionally to send out nurses for district work, but could not meet nearly all the demands in this line, yet fervently hope that the work will develop more and more in this direction.

These statistics show only the number of those whom it has been our privilege to care for, but unfortunately no record has been kept of the many suitable applicants who have been turned away for want of room, besides the many more who, as chronic or convalescent cases have also been refused admission, because they would require care for such a length of time as to exclude many more who could be so much more quickly relieved.

I cannot help wishing that all who have the Lord's money in trust could realize what it means to have to turn a deaf ear to these touching appeals, when we know that in many instances the influence of a Christian home would mean not only restoration to health, but salvation, or growth in spiritual life as well.

CONCLUSION.

Permit me to remind you that your sincere thanks are due not only to the many friends who have contributed money, provisions, etc., to the sustenance and extension of the work, but to the ministers and others who have so efficiently aided the principal in the classwork of the Training School; to the doctors who have, by bringing pay patients and attending free ones, made it possible for the hospital to prosecute its beneficent work; to the New England Conferences and a number of churches who have so cordially received the representative of the work, and in many of the latter cases have taken a collection for it; and to the New England Conference, which adopted the report of its Deaconess Board, which, in accordance with your desire, included a request that in its statistical table, a column be provided for the report of collections for deaconess work.

I cannot close without expressing, though inadequately, my deep gratitude for the manifest presence of the Holy Spirit in all departments of our work during the past year; for the hearty co-operation of the many dear sisters associated with me in it; for the friends who in counsel have been so patient and helpful; and for the privilege of studying the deaconess work in England and Germany.

All these causes of gratitude compel me (and I gladly yield to the compulsion) to believe that, as this is surely a divinely inspired and ordained work, if we who have been called not only as workers in it, but workers for it, are willing to be completely led of the Spirit in its further prosecution, which means resisting all tendencies to discouragement and fostering a constant expectation of the divine blessing, there is absolutely no limit to the splendid possibilities of development with an ever-increasing power in the spread of the kingdom of Christ.

Again, let me urge upon you to pray so fervently and labor so unceasingly for its extension that speedily the Divine command may be heard: "Arise and build!"

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. LUNN, Supt.

THE DEACONESS HOSPITAL.

[The following is taken from a letter published in the Boston Daily Transcript, April, 1898.]

Of all the many charities with which Boston is endowed, none is more pre-eminently beautiful or beneficent than the work of the Deaconess Hospital on Massachusetts avenue.

Founded but two years since to supplement the labors of the Deaconesses among the poor and sick, it has rapidly grown, not only beyond the expectations of the founders, but beyond the present capacity of its buildings. Unsectarian in its broadest sense, and numbering among its patients members of every religious faith, yet the dominant note is that of a Christian home.

Under the gentle ministrations and the alleviating care of the Deaconesses, and in the remarkably home-like atmosphere which pervades this institution, the proportion of patients successfully treated has come to be quite phenomenal, while the death rate has been infinitesimally small. Such has been the reputation of the hospital that its limited space is always taken and many are waiting for an opportunity for treatment.

It is painful to these almoners of others' bounty, with lives wholly given up without fee or reward to relieving the misery of others, to be obliged to turn away the sick and suffering to whom they would gladly extend the great facilities for recovery possessed by the hospital. But alas! with the few beds at their disposal, they have to refuse numerous pay patients and thereby lose the income that would go towards extending the number of beds for charity patients.

Scarcely a day passes that the pressing necessity of more room is not forced upon them. The Deaconesses themselves are but ministering angels. They have no means at their command other than what a kind providence sends to them through the benevolence of others.

No more effective testimony to the work of the Deaconess hospital could be given than the following note, signed by some of the best-known physicians and surgeons in Boston:

"Knowing personally the work of the hospital connected with the New England Deaconess Home and Training School on Massachusetts avenue, Boston, which, with only fifteen beds, has been able to give in two years to 342 patients efficient and tender care, with all the comforts of a Christian home,

We, the undersigned, cordially indorsing this institution, and realizing its great need of enlargement in order that it may accommodate a larger number of both pay and charity patients, do sincerely hope that benevolent people will rally to its aid just now, when a very desirable location may be secured if purchased at once, sending all donations to the treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Cushing, 1577 Beacon street, Brookline, Mass.

INTRODUCTORY WORDS BY THE PRESIDENT.

We have just sung the doxology over the payment of our floating indebtedness, $1,200 of which was brought over from the previous year. We very much need an enlarged list of annual subscribers.

This organization has completed ten years of history. We now have three separate departments, — the Training School, the Deaconess Home, and the Deaconess Hospital, — each doing excellent work. We own two houses, one of which is free from debt, and have a small endowment as a nucleus for larger gifts. When we look backward, we gratefully exclaim, "What hath God wrought!"

Particularly encouraging is the increasing number of intelligent and consecrated men and women who are willing to devote time and thought to the important business of our Corporation.

Mrs. J. W. Cushing, who has served as treasurer from the beginning with untiring fidelity, has insisted upon her resignation, while retaining an active relation to the Board of Management. In securing Mr. Henry D. Degen to fill this vacancy we regard ourselves as highly favored.

For another year we have had the faithful services of Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, Miss M. E. Booker, and Miss Mary E. Lunn, in charge of Training School, Hospital and Home, respectively. Miss Lunn has also acted as Superintendent of the whole work.

Read the statistics in the Superintendent's Report of work performed in the Hospital and by the members of the Training School and Home. Set your imagination at work. Picture the pain alleviated, the discomfort relieved, the burdens lifted, the hearts cheered, the souls saved, and no further justification of the Deaconess Work will be needed.

As ever we wish it widely known that the Training School is open to all worthy young women who desire equipment for Christian work, whether purposing to become Deaconesses or not.

As ever we glory that our Hospital knows no distinctions of race, creed, or sex, while all patients are surrounded by an atmosphere of Christian faith and good cheer, which is so effective for healing of both body and soul.

The time has come for an advance. We need the Hospital building for our Training School. The Hospital is too small, and very inconvenient. We must have better quarters. The skillful physicians, who are most helpful to our cases, strenuously insist upon this. We ourselves are convinced.

That Miss Lunn, whose heart is heavily burdened with the necessity of the enlargement of our work, may lead in this forward movement, we have relieved her of the care of the Home by the appointment of Miss J. S. Fisk as assistant superintendent.

The hour is opportune. The bugle blasts of the Twentieth Century Thank-Offering Commission are echoing about us. The summons is of heaven. No cause is more worthy than ours of a generous share in this great offering. We confidently appeal to New England, for ours is the only Deaconess Training School in all this section of the country, and ours the only Deaconess Hospital.

Set the golden eagles free to fly to this treasury. Any contributions however small will be appreciated in the spirit of the Master. In the aggregate we need One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

WILLARD T. PERRIN.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

MAY 16, 1899.

To the Corporation of the N. E. Deaconess Home and Training School:—

The tenth report of our work could easily be extended to a history of no little interest, showing reason for deep gratitude for past blessings and encouragements for increased devotion, but I shall confine myself to the simple statement of facts that will, I trust, appeal very strongly to all who have it in their power to make the next decade of the work far more effective than the past has been.

for deaconesses and other Christian workers has prosecuted another year's work, but has not, as yet, reached in its influence the large number of cultured, devoted young women that must be waiting in New England for just such an opportunity of being fitted for greater usefulness in the work of Christ and His church.

Ought not something to be done to bring this matter more definitely to the attention of the young women throughout New England? Surely the devotion of the Principal, Miss Hibbard, and of the faculty and Training School Committee, merit the cordial support of all who can in any way extend the usefulness of the school.

At the Commencement, May 23, 1899, six students will receive diplomas for two years' faithful work.

In preparation for the opening of the school year last fall, it became imperative to rent a separate house, the Home not being adequate. ✓

As the Hospital has not yet been able to vacate the house next to the Home, it is necessary to continue renting for the Training School the coming year.

The students have pursued the practical part of the training in connection with the churches and missions as follows:—Miss E. B. Burpee, Dorchester St., So. Boston; Miss L. Conant, Forest Hills; Miss E. Fales, Mt. Bellingham, Chelsea; Miss E. S. Freeman, Parkman St., Dorchester; Miss M. Martin, Walnut Hills, Dedham; Miss B. O. Metcalf, Stanton Ave., Dorchester; Miss E. C. Nye, Morgan Chapel; Miss M. J. Smith, Mt. Bowdoin; Miss G. M. Straw, Morgan Chapel; Miss Alice Wildman, Lenox Street Chapel; Miss Clara Wood, University Settlement; Miss O. F. Harding has assisted the Principal in various duties connected with the work of the school.

The theoretical work of the course of training has been given in regular lessons or special lectures as follows:

THE DEACONESS HOME FOR VISITING DEACONESES.

At the Annual Conference in April, two visiting deaconesses were consecrated, making our number of licensed deaconesses at present eleven, divided as to work as follows: — Superintendent and six visiting deaconesses in the Home, Principal in the Training School, and three nurse deaconesses in the Hospital.

The six visiting deaconesses have been working the past year as follows: —

Miss E. S. Anderson, with Swedish church in Maplewood, Malden; Miss C. Barber, Italian work under City Missionary Society; Miss R. G. Barr, Melrose; Miss E. C. Brown, Morgan

Chapel; Miss J. S. Fisk, first of year at Dorchester church, then with University Settlement; Miss E. M. Ruddick, Winthrop St., Roxbury, and assistant to the Superintendent in office work.

I am grateful to report that there is a growing appreciation of, and demand for, visiting deaconesses, but this only increases the perplexities of the work until we have a larger number of workers.

We have had again the past year the faithful and efficient help of Miss C. D. Oliver as Matron, but it is absolutely necessary that there should be also an assistant superintendent to have full charge of certain parts of the work, as it is imperative that the Superintendent should be away much of the time in caring for the interests of other departments of work.

THE HOSPITAL.

We have been greatly favored in having, during the past year, the continued invaluable services of Miss M. E. Booker as Superintending Nurse, and she has been assisted by the three licensed deaconesses, who are also graduate nurses, one deaconess probationer, and several others who are with us for training.

The amount of outside nursing has, during the past year, exceeded that of other years, but many appeals for help in this direction have had to be denied both in case of those who could pay, and those who greatly needed just the gratuitous service that it should be possible for a Deaconess Hospital to render, and which it is still our earnest hope we may ultimately be able to give.

If the number of applicants for admission to the Hospital as patients that have had to be refused for want of room could be reported, perhaps that, as nothing else, would convince you of the opportunities for blessed ministry that we are obliged to lose because of our limitations. I wish it were in my power to impress upon you the absolute necessity for a larger and more suitable building, if the Hospital ministry is to continue.

Last summer it was necessary to close the Hospital two months for special cleaning, etc., and hence, to bring the above report to the date of this meeting, the statistics are given for the thirteen and a half months' work since last report at the close of the second Hospital year.

CONCLUSION.

I need scarcely remind you that your thanks are again due to the non-resident teachers, lecturers and doctors whose services so freely and efficiently granted have made possible our Training School and Hospital work, as well as to the friends who have supported the work by cash and other donations.

The history of the past year has been a continuation of the blessing of God, and the kind co-operation of my sisters for which I have always had reason to be deeply grateful, and it has been a joy to spend and be spent in such blessed service.

Recognizing, with deep interest in them all, the innumerable avenues of benevolent activity in the Christian church, and recognizing, also with profound gratitude, the ever increasing consecration of means to these varied ministries, I am nevertheless fully convinced that in this part of God's work there must be a still more courageous faith, a more fervent zeal, and more complete consecration on the part of all who have its interests in charge, if we measure up to the marvelous possibilities of this Divinely inspired agency of God and His church.

I am compelled, as heretofore, to urge upon you, by the success God has given your efforts in the past, and by the pathetic appeals of those who need your help, and may have it through the various agencies of this work, to see to it that its possibilities are enlarged in the near future.

Respectfully submitted, MARY E. LUNN, Supt.

STATEMENTS BY THE HOSPITAL COMMITTEE.

We have opened the Hospital Training School this last year to those who wish to take a regular course in nursing, yet do not intend to become deaconesses.

While our limited quarters have kept us from reaching our ideal in the amount and kind of training in our Hospital, we have had the valuable aid of ten leading physicians and surgeons, who have generously given us a course of twenty lectures. These lectures were given Fridays for five months, in the lecture room of the Training School, and illustrated by charts, models and black-boards. We publicly acknowledge our gratitude and appreciation by printing in this report the names of these helpers:

DR. MARK RICHARDSON,
DR. EDGAR GARCEAU,
DR. GEORGE BREWSTER,
DR. H. A. LOTHROP,
DR. A. L. CHUTE,

DR. D. F. JONES,
DR. CHARLES PAINTER,
DR. A. L. VIETOR,
DR. F. A. HIGGINS,
DR. JAMES STONE.

The changing of a dwelling house in any city into a hospital is a make shift,—and its limitations and defects soon become apparent; but it has been demonstrated that a Deaconess Hospital can be of service in our city, if rightly managed.

To the self-sacrificing service of the nurses and their Superintendents, Miss Punchard, Miss MacLean and Miss Booker, and the skill and patience of the doctors, the marvelous record of the success of the Hospital is due.

Between five and six hundred have been treated since its existence, the larger part being major surgical cases, with a death rate of about three per cent.

Our greatest need is a new hospital, built and endowed by our business men. If they would rally to help us, by their experience, knowledge and money we could put this work into comfortable quarters, and have an institution worthy the name.

We desire to put on record our most sincere thanks to all who have helped the work as contributors to its funds, or in any other way.

A word of explanation in regard to our free work would not seem to be amiss, as there is more or less misunderstanding in regard to free patients. The cost of caring for a patient is about $12 per week. All patients paying less than cost are in a degree free patients, that is, they do not pay their expenses. To all we give a welcome, and they have as good care as those who pay the full price. Human nature is weak, however, and we have found that there have been those not adverse to taking advantage of our offer, and have taken the under price that should have gone to a more needy person.

The expense of each patient must be paid by some one.

If any one is inclined to criticize the management because some patient, known to him, has been refused admission, let him candidly consider, before passing adverse judgment, whether there was a vacancy at the time of application, whether the case was an admissible one, and whether the person was honestly willing to pay according to his ability.

Our nurses have not only worked in our Hospital, and gone to the homes of the poor this last year, but have also been able to earn for the Hospital more than four hundred dollars, by ministering to those who were able and willing to pay for such service.

We need workers,—strong, healthy, intelligent Christian young women,—to take training in the Hospital, especially those who will thus fit themselves to become nurse deaconesses.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Friends will remember that all bequests intended for the Hospital should be made to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School Corporation for Hospital Work.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I hereby give and bequeath to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts, dollars, to be paid to the Treasurer of the said Society, whose receipt shall be a sufficient acquittance to my executors therefor.

FORM OF DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE.

I hereby give and devise to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, incorporated under the laws of the State of Massachusetts (describe land, etc.), and to their successors and assigns forever.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The Corporation of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School is empowered to carry on a general benevolent, philanthropic work, and it expects to open new Homes for various purposes, just as soon as friends will furnish the means.

Rules of admission to Training School or Hospital, and any other information relative to the work, will be sent on application to the Superintendent or Principal.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

REV. WILLARD T. PERRIN, PH.D.

WE are happy to report substantial progress since the last annual meeting of the corporation.

An advance step was taken in September, 1899, when Rev. T. Corwin Watkins, D.D., was elected Corresponding Secretary. With energy and wisdom Dr. Watkins has devoted himself to the tasks and problems of this new office. The success with which he has already presented our cause in the churches, secured subscriptions, distributed literature, managed a campaign in the Annual Conferences, and attended to the details of his position, gives evidence that he is the right man in the right place. We bespeak for him the heartiest coöperation of every member of the corporation and of every friend of our work.

Much time has been spent upon a careful definition of the relative duties of officers and committees. The results, incorporated into appropriate by-laws, will, we believe, greatly promote harmony and efficiency in all departments.

As the Corresponding Secretary has the supervision of the whole work, the departments have been reorganized with Miss Mary E. Lunn as Superintendent of the Hospital ; Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, Superintendent of the Training School, and Miss Josephine S. Fisk, Superintendent of the Home. These consecrated women, by another year's devotion, have shown themselves to be filled with the deaconess spirit. They are worthy representatives of the great movement.

To Miss Lunn's inspiring faith and persistent advocacy we owe the establishment of the Hospital. It is therefore peculiarly fitting that she should be at its head. We thus emphasize the fact that it is distinctively a Deaconess Hospital, to be conducted on deaconess principles. This we believe to be most important. We trust it will not be long before we shall be gladdened with such an enlargement of the Hospital as shall be worthy of our opportunity and responsibility. This will require the consecration of a large amount of money for this object. We are happy to announce that $10,000 has been subscribed by two friends, in sums of $5,000 each, on condition that a total of $30,000 be secured before Jan. 1, 1902. Surely, the Lord whom we serve cannot ask less than this of the friends of this Christlike work.

During the year, under the supervision of an able committee, the Hospital building has been thoroughly renovated, a larger room devoted to surgical operations, and a new sterilizing plant secured. We are not likely to value too highly the efficient services of Miss M. E. Booker, the Superintending Nurse, whose skill commands the appreciation of the best physicians and whose character commands the respect of all. Under our present limitations the Hospital is remarkably successful; but the limitations are almost intolerable.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in its recent session devoted much attention to the deaconess work, which has attained such surprising dimensions in our world-wide Methodism. The whole chapter on The Discipline on Deaconesses has been revised. The Board of Bishops has been constituted a General Deaconess Board, having charge of the entire work, and a number of other changes have been made in the interests of unity, harmony, and efficiency. Having actively participated in this action of the conference we may be permitted to say that the representatives of the various institutions and forms of administration in this and other lands accepted the action of the conference as the best solution of a somewhat difficult problem.

We look for a wonderful development of the deaconess work in the next quadrennium. May we of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School Corporation do our part.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

REV. T. CORWIN WATKINS, D. D.

After presenting this cause in twenty-three churches, five conventions, and five annual conferences, and after talking it over, face to face, with more than seven hundred business men and women, I am prepared to say that this great work lies close to the heart of every thoughtful person who has had the time and opportunity to consider it. Some business men have said, "This is going back to Christ," while others have characterized it as "Up-to-date Christianity." Both were right. Going back to Christ will always be up-to-date Christianity.

In some churches the contributions to this work have been larger than to any other benevolent cause. Seven hundred and thirty-nine individual subscriptions have been received, four hundred and thirty-eight of which are annual. It can be readily seen that at this rate the institution may in time be put upon a good financial basis. With one or two exceptions, the representative of this work has been received cordially by the pastors and the churches, and in the annual conferences its presentation has awakened enthusiasm. In only one instance did the presiding Bishop deem it necessary to ask the conference to allow the corresponding secretary to speak. The disciplinary Conference Board on Deaconesses has now been appointed in each of the New England conferences, whose members, according to our new code of by-laws, are now ex-officio members of the corporation. Visitors have also been appointed by the several conferences, whom we hope to receive early in the fall when all the departments are doing full work.

The eight thousand calendars and twenty thousand circulars sent out during the latter half of the year have brought forth good fruit by awakening an interest in the work throughout this section of the country.

By reference to the statistics in the reports from the various departments some remarkable figures will be seen.

During the year 15,841 calls have been made upon the sick, the sorrowing, the sinful, and the strangers; 5,698 garments have been sent out to clothe the naked, and to "fix up" boys and girls so that they could go to school and to Sunday school. In thousands of these homes the Bible has been read and prayer offered by the Deaconesses. Among these people 4,281 religious books and tracts have been distributed. The distribution of these things, as well as hundreds of jars of fruit and other delicacies, has been made possible by the kindness and thoughtfulness of five hundred friends whose names appear in the pages of this book, and many others whose names, for one cause or another, have never reached us.

But these contributions of material things are not the only gifts bestowed in aid of this great cause. Men and women of wide and varied experience have cheerfully taken time from their busy life to plan, promote, and oversee this work. Scholarly preachers and philanthropic professors have come, week after week, and poured out their knowledge, in the Training School work, as enthusiastically as though that were their one business in life. In the Hospital, large-hearted, broad-minded physicians and surgeons, whose names are known throughout New England, have seemed to find pleasure in contributing their time and skill when circumstances seemed to call for their services. As to the consecrated women who freely give their services, whether in the Hospital or in the "field," no tongue of men or of angels will ever be able adequately to describe the results of their work, for their soul-touch with those who have been in sorrow or suffering, or who have lingered near the shores of the "border-land," can be known only to Him who discerns the thoughts and intents of the heart.

We have had some strong indications that this work is meeting with Divine favor, and that His faithful stewards are ready to contribute the means for carrying forward and enlarging the work as fast as we are trained to conserve its interests.

Two friends have each pledged $5,000 toward a new hospital building, provided $20,000 additional is pledged within a certain time. A legacy of $5,000 has just been left for a children's home, and this probably will insure another $5,000 for the same purpose. "A Deaconess in China," who sees a white person only once in four months, has just sent $100 as a Twentieth Century Thank-Offering for God's care over her in that far-off land toward which the eyes of all the world are now turning.

I bespeak for the reports which follow a careful reading. To me they are simply wonderful. They are queenly women who preside over these departments. In the discharge of their duties they have shown great wisdom. They, as well as a few other deaconesses, have found time to present this work to the people, and they are already known in scores of churches and loved by thousands who have heard them and taken them by the hand.

A DEACONESS OUTING — WITH ACCOMPANIMENTS.

THE HOME.

MISS JOSEPHINE S. FISK, Superintendent.

There are at present belonging to the Home nine licensed deaconesses and three probationers. Of these, one is superintendent, nine are visiting deaconesses, and two are district nurse deaconesses. The visiting deaconesses have been working the past year in the following fields: Miss Emma S. Anderson, Swedish Church in Providence, R. I.; Miss Clara M. Barber, Italian Church, Boston; Miss Ruth G. Barr, Melrose; Miss Edna C. Brown, Morgan Chapel; Miss Oriana Harding, Walnut Street, Chelsea; Miss Millie M. Martin, Bromfield Street; Miss Bertha O. Metcalf, Allston; Miss Ella C. Nye, Mount Bowdoin, Boston; Miss Clara Wood, St. John's, South Boston.

District nursing, a new and important feature of our work in Boston, has been prosecuted during the past year.

Miss Sarah Blakeley and Miss Annie Raynes, both graduates of the Training School and also of the Deaconess Hospital, are now members of the Home, and are engaged in nursing in the homes of the poor.

Miss Raynes has just entered upon this new work and already finds enough to fill her hands and her heart, while a devout business man of Boston has guaranteed two hundred and fifty dollars a year for her support in the Home, besides giving one hundred dollars a year to the regular work.

Miss Blakeley began her work last June. She is supported by the "Bennett Street Nurse Society," a company of Back Bay ladies who conceal their identity under this title. The following is an extract from the annual report sent out by that society:—

"The deaconess in our employ is not only a trained nurse, but a trained worker, and those familiar with charitable organizations will appreciate the difference between the work of trained and untrained persons. She began her duties on June 16, and it is of interest to note the immediate increase in the number of visits made, and their steady growth, viz. — 2000 visits the last six months of 1899 as, against 1,083 made by her predecessor during the first six months. One reason for the greater breadth of good accomplished this year is the larger opportunity for care from the co-operation of the Home and Hospital in supplementing the work of the nurse. For instance, one poor half-starved child of eight years, belonging to a patient, was taken to the Deaconess Hospital, provided with clothing, kept there with kind care and nursing at their expense, for two months.

“In another case, where the mother had died, the baby was taken to the Deaconess Home and kept there for several days, when otherwise it could have had no better care than would have been given by a boy of nine or ten years. Arrangements were eventually made to put it into an infant asylum. These are only two of numberless similar instances. The influence of the present nurse is found to have been most encouraging in raising the general moral tone of those whom she has visited, and in most cases they have never relapsed into quite the condition in which she found them. In fact, the work has grown beyond our hopes and expectations.”

We thank God for what has been accomplished in this department of our work, and rejoice that the addition of another nurse will make it possible to accomplish much more in the alleviation of the suffering among the poor during the coming year. We wish that it were possible to double our force of visiting deaconesses also. There is an increasing demand for visiting deaconesses. Gratifying reports come to us, from churches which have been served during the past year, in regard to the faithfulness and efficiency of these workers, and urgent requests for their continuance.

In one church about fifty new members were added, nearly all of whom had been brought into the services by the deaconess. In another church from two to ten new scholars were brought into the Sunday school every Sunday for four months. In one community the deaconess, under the direction of the pastor, gathered in and organized two hundred and fifty children of foreigners into a sewing school, and then, later, brought over a hundred of them into a gospel meeting for boys and girls.

During the coldest part of the winter a deaconess clothed eighty children, getting her supplies from the blessed poor closet, which is kept furnished by the barrels and boxes packed by Christ-like people all over New England.

In a one-room tenement a deaconess brought a tub out into the middle of the floor and gave the youngest child perhaps the first bath it had ever experienced, and the three other children were so pleased with the result that they asked for the same treatment, and when they had received it they ran off to show themselves to their astonished neighbors.

A deaconess so transformed a room in which a betrayed and friendless young mother lay, that when the doctor came in the next morning he did not know the place, and stepped out into the hall to ask a woman to direct him to the right room.

In a home of poverty the deaconess was surprised by two new arrivals instead of one, and as she had only one suit in her bag, she wrapped up the other "intruder" in a pillow-slip and telephoned to the Deaconess Home to have another "uniform" sent up.

Other fields are also calling for workers. We expect to have two more visiting deaconesses for the coming year: Miss Emilie Freeman, who has just graduated from our Training School, and Miss Mae Chisholm, who was formerly a member of our Home, but has been in Chicago for two years, and is to return to us for visiting deaconess work.

Miss Clara D. Oliver has faithfully served as matron for another year, and we hope to retain her services for the coming year.

We are grateful for all that has been done for and through the Deaconess Home this past year. We are ambitious and hopeful for larger means and opportunities for service the coming year.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

MISS ELLEN L. HIBBARD, Superintendent.

MISS ELIZABETH WILES, Resident Teacher.

The eleventh year of the Training School has been brought to a successful close. For the last two years we have occupied a building apart from the Home. We have great reason for fervent gratitude to God for prosperity.

There has been, and is still, a growing interest in this department of the work, and the outlook for the future has never been more encouraging. The school has been advertised and represented during the year, and especially at our spring conferences, in such a manner that we may reasonably expect a larger number of students the coming year.

The practical work done by the students has been pursued in connection with the following churches and missions: Miss E. Wiles, Morgan Chapel; Miss M. A. Andros, Egleston Square; Miss Lucy A. Bennett, Morgan Chapel and Deaconess Hospital; Miss Eleanor Burpee, South Boston, Dorchester Street and Deaconess Hospital; Miss C. Cummings, Lenox Street Chapel; Miss E. S. Freeman, Parkman Street; Miss A. E. Hall, Revere Street; Miss A. H. Harper, Stanton Avenue, and Lenox Street Chapel; Miss E. A. Hill, Mattapan and Lenox Street Chapel; Miss H. Knapp, Mt. Bellingham, Chelsea; Miss Ida Osgood, South Boston, Dorchester Street, and Stoneham.

Several special students, Mrs. J. P. Bushnell, Miss C. Boultenhouse, and Miss M. Young, have given Sunday work in their own churches while connected with the Training School.

Besides the works of visitation and nursing, formerly done by the students in their several fields, they have, for the past two years, carried on an Industrial School on Saturdays for the poor children in the neighborhood of the school. This has been under the general supervision of the Superintendent, but the work has been largely in the hands of the students. There has been a large attendance and we believe much good has been accomplished by this means.

A boys' club, made up of the older boys of the Industrial School, has held meetings during the winter at the Training School lecture room once a week, where temperance and Scripture lessons have been given.

Miss Elizabeth Wiles, who came to the school a year ago from Chicago, has done excellent work, and her class-room instruction has been greatly appreciated by both Superintendent and students.

The following able teachers have given instruction regularly or by special lectures during the year:—

A TRAINING SCHOOL DEACONESS GRADUATE.

THE HOSPITAL.

MISS MARY E. LUNN, Superintendent.

MISS M. ELIZABETH BOOKER, Superintending Nurse.

OBJECT.

The object of the New England Deaconess Hospital is to afford those who need and desire it an opportunity to avail themselves of the skill of the most eminent physicians and surgeons in New England, and at the same time enjoy the comforts of a home where the very atmosphere seems laden with that warmth and sweetness of devotion which makes pain more easily borne, and which hastens the return of health.

Its aim is also to train young women who purpose to give their lives to nursing, especially as deaconesses, either in the hospital (after their course of training is completed) or in district nursing among the poor.

REVIEW.

The Hospital was opened to patients February 5, 1896. Since then 658 patients have been treated, only 22 of whom have died, though a very large number were critical cases.

To show the breadth of spirit in the management of the Hospital, it is only necessary to say that, among the patients treated in the four years, 23 nationalities, 16 denominations, and 68 occupations were represented; 607 were from New England and 51 from elsewhere; 88 patients paid nothing, 191 paid something, and 379 paid full price. The purpose is to keep half the beds for free patients, although the limitations are such in the present building that this plan cannot always be carried out; but this can be said, that no patient is excluded because he or she cannot pay full price.

The purpose is to make this literally, as it is essentially, a Deaconess Hospital. Some of the most skilful nurses are now deaconesses (serving, of course, on the non-salaried basis), while all are Christians, each in her turn conducting the devotions in the family life of the Hospital.

OUR NEED.

The pressing and immediate need of this work is a new hospital building. There are, at present, only fourteen beds, and with no elevator, the nurses have, necessarily, much running up and down stairs.

With the present limitations, very many cases must be refused admittance.

A large hospital is needed, with departments for both surgical, medical, and maternity patients.

The case is so forcibly put by the doctors themselves that we give place to their words: —

TESTIMONIAL FROM SOME OF THE DOCTORS.

Knowing personally the management and work of the Hospital connected with the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, we unhesitatingly give it our cordial indorsement.

The fact that, with only 14 beds, 658 patients have been treated in four years, and that out of that number only 22 have died, notwithstanding the fact that very many of the cases have been very severe ones, is, to say the least, very gratifying. Such a record, with such limitations, is sufficient evidence of the need of this kind of a hospital, and precludes the idea of any risk in enlarging its capacity and facilities for usefulness. The benevolent-spirited men and women of New England should see that a suitable building is erected at once.

The men and women connected with its management are well known in business circles, and funds committed to them will be wisely used.

THE OUTLOOK.

The outlook for a new and commodious hospital building is brighter than it has ever been before. By reference to the Treasurer's report it will be seen that the hospital building fund now amounts to $1,741. Since that report was written a hundred dollars has been received from "A Deaconess in China." In addition to this an aggregate of $10,000 has been subscribed on condition that $20,000 more be raised within a reasonable time. We believe that this beautiful work is of God, and that he will raise up friends to supply its needs.

REPAIRS.

Last summer the Hospital was closed forty-seven days for repairs and alterations. The maternity work was given up and the room was put in use for general cases. The Rogers room was converted into an operating room, and electric lights and reflectors were added.

The old operating room was taken for a sterilizing room. A Kny Sheerer sterilizer was put in; double wash stand with hot and cold water; a set of boilers for heating water, with the necessary new plumbing, was added. The whole house was cleaned, ceilings whitened, and woodwork painted.

The burden of planning and contracting for these large alterations was on a committee, consisting of Dr. Galbraith, Mrs. Eaves and Miss Whidden. The committee were helped by the gift of a large closet for linen, a gas range from the Boston Gas Company, and the donation of all the profit on the plumbing and boiler work.

THE DOCTORS.

Too much cannot be said in appreciation of the valuable services of the physicians and surgeons, who have frequently donated their professional services and who have generously given, during the year, a course of twenty-three lectures, and in addition have taken the time to examine each nurse on her work.

Particular mention should be made of Dr. A. H. Powers, who has given his services, without compensation, to all of the workers, who called for him, in the three departments, during the year.

RECREATION.

Among the many pleasant features of the year may be mentioned the beautiful Christmas tree for nurses and patients, and a reception given by Miss Georgia M. Whidden, at her home, to the nurses and members of the Hospital Committee, on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of the founding of the Hospital.

A DEACONESS HOSPITAL NURSE.

THE NURSES.

The skill, experience, and patience of the Superintending Nurse, Miss M. Elizabeth Booker, is recognized and appreciated by the Superintendent, the nurses and the doctors.

The nursing service consists of Superintending Nurse, two graduate deaconess nurses, five pupil nurses, and one probationer.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS.

While this list is a complete list of all contributions, it is not a complete list of all contributors.

Some pastors send remittances without sending the names of those who have previously subscribed.

Some say, "Do not use my name," and then forget that they said it.

Names are entered here only of those who have paid between May 15, 1899, and May 17, 1900.

On account of the lack of space, we have, in some cases, summed up the contributions less than one dollar, and entered them as "Cash."

In order to save time and postage, we ask our friends to accept this report as a voucher for money contributed.

In behalf of the corporation, I want to thank the friends of this glorious cause for their offerings. Heaven alone has a complete record of the good they have done.

GROUP OF VISITING AND NURSE DEACONESES.

A GLIMPSE OF DEACONESS HISTORY.

About sixty years ago an effort was made in Germany to re-establish the order of Deaconesses which prevailed in the Apostolic and Early Church. Bible training schools and training schools for nurses were established, and, as a result, there are now twelve thousand Deaconesses in Germany. They wear a simple navy-blue costume, just enough different from other people's apparel to distinguish them without making them conspicuous, and thus making it safe for them to go wherever their services are needed.

The Deaconess in Germany.

Half a century ago the Protestant Episcopal Church started the Deaconess movement in this country by establishing a "Mother House" in Pittsburg. This Deaconess work has slowly obtained in the Episcopal Church and has been of great assistance in prosecuting its work among the poor and the unfortunate.

Fifteen years ago Mrs. Lucy Rider Meyer started a training school for Christian workers in Chicago. When the first class graduated and began its good work among the poor Mrs. Meyer called the young women Deaconesses, just as Paul did in Corinth and as Fleidner did in Germany. Out of this there has developed the rapidly growing movement to carry the gospel of helpfulness to the people. There are already, in this country, twelve hundred Deaconesses and eighty-seven Deaconess institutions, such as Deaconess homes, hospitals, Bible training schools, orphanages and old folks' homes.

The Most Modern Movement.

Eleven years ago several persons who were deeply interested in applied Christianity, met together and formed an organization for the purpose of propagating the deaconess work in New England. A constitution was adopted, officers were elected and the body was incorporated by statutory enactment. What Fleidner was to this work in Germany, what

How the Movement began in New England.

Mrs. Lucy Rider Meyer was to the work in Chicago and the Northwest, Miss Mary E. Lunn has been to our work here in New England, having been identified with it almost from the first.

At the very beginning of the work in Boston a building was purchased at 693 Massachusetts Avenue. This for a time was used both for the Deaconess Home and the Bible Training School. Later, the entire building being needed for the Home, another building at 683 Massachusetts Ave., was hired for the Training School.

A deaconess is a woman who, having been thoroughly trained, devotes her entire time, without salary, to Christian work.

"The duties of the deaconess are to minister to the poor, visit the sick, pray with the dying, care for the orphans, seek the wandering, comfort the sorrowing, save the sinning, and, relinquishing all other pursuits, she is to devote herself, in a general way, to such forms of Christian labor as may be suited to her abilities." No vow is to be exacted from any deaconess, and any one of their number is to be at liberty to relinquish her position as a deaconess at any time.

The Deaconess and Her Work.

THE DEACONESS HOME.

A Deaconess Home is the place where these Christian workers, whose duties are in the city and its suburbs, have their dwelling-place. They do not live the life of an ascetic, or a recluse, but their home, which is under the direction of a Superintendent and a matron, is just like any other home, open at all times to visitors and to those who are in need of the kind of service that these workers can render. Some of them work in missions, some work under the direction of pastors, and some, with a Hospital training for the purpose, go out as district nurses, giving the very best skill in nursing the sick among the poorest of the poor; generally in homes where any kind of nursing would be otherwise out of the question.

One of these district nurses last year made more than five thousand visits to the sick. These district nurses are in close touch with the Associated Charities, and are acquainted with almost every benevolent work in the city; and are thus able, in the most judicious way, to bring help to those who are in need and in suffering. They are in touch with the lying-in Hospitals and similar institutions, and by these means their services are utilized in the most helpful way. One of these nurse deaconesses devotes her entire time to caring for mothers and their new born babes.

She makes from twelve to twenty visits on them every day. She must go in all kinds of weather, for the babes cannot be neglected. Often these strangers come to homes where no preparation whatever

How the Babies are cared for. has been made for their reception, and then the deaconess draws upon the well-stocked poor closet where she is frequently able to find dainty suits prepared by loving hands in brighter homes where the little ones made but a brief stay, or else fashioned and sent in by the hands of King's Daughters and other ladies' organizations.

These deaconesses, though refined and cultured, do not hesitate to do anything that needs to be done in any home. They are trained in the laws of sanitation, and often dens of filth, by their skill and deft hands, are transformed into little sections of heaven.

During the past year these deaconesses have made 18,660 calls, have distributed 22,117 books and papers, and have given to the poor, 5,893 garments. But they have be-

A Hint at What They do. stowed gifts more valuable than these that cannot be computed—relief for the fallen; days and nights of watching with the sick; hours in prayer with those who are trying to reform; long journeys through dingy streets and narrow alleys; and yet they have a sweeter peace than they could find in seclusion from the world.

The Superintendent of our Home in Boston is Miss Josephine S. Fisk, whose address is 693 Massachusetts Avenue, and who will be glad to receive contributions of clothing for the "Poor Closet," fruits and jellies, and money for the Emergency Fund.

A deaconess found a poor woman very sick with pneumonia. The husband, a poor drunkard, was just home from the Island. There were four little children. The mother lay on some old broken springs with nothing over her but a ragged quilt. There were neither sheets nor pillow cases on the bed. The children were dirty and hungry. The deaconess returned to the Home for emergency money and clothing. In a few hours the sick woman lay in a clean, comfortable bed, the room was put in comparative order, and the children were washed and fed. (They ate their bread and milk from some old condensed milk cans, these being the only dishes the house afforded.) Some one had sent in some flour. A yeast cake was procured and bread was sponged ready for rising. Then, and not till then, did she offer to the sick woman the Bread of Life, and in a few words of prayer, commended her to the loving Father. Our deaconesses never pray with a hungry person.

An aged woman lay dying of a cancer in a dirty, ill-kept room. The deaconess was asked by one of the neighbors to call upon her, and most gladly complied with the request. She Lifting the Veil. approached the bed of the sufferer with extended hand to be greeted by these words, "You musn't shake hands with me, I am not clean. Who are you?" Explanation was made. Her eyes brightened as in a fairly beseeching tone, she asked, "Are you from the church? Do you go about talking good to people, and will you pray for me? I need prayers." Her soul was longing to "Behold the Lamb of God." Beyond earthly help, her soul yearned for the divine. Eagerly she looked for the visits of the deaconess which were frequent, until the Father in his love, released the spirit, and took her Home. "Blessed is the ministry that points dying souls to the living Saviour."

A deaconess entered a dirty, narrow alley, one afternoon in early winter. It was in one of the roughest sections of the city. She rapped at the door of a dismal abode, and in response to the rather ungracious "Come in," she entered. A young woman, evidently partly intoxicated, was the only occupant. Her face bore the unmistakable marks of a life of sin, but there was something in it that attracted the deaconess, and with an earnest prayer in her heart that God would help her to reach this poor, wretched sinful sister, she gently drew her into conversation. The woman quickly responded to the sympathy for which her soul was so hungry, and opened her heart to the deaconess. "I am a wicked woman," she said, "My husband and I lead an awful life; sometimes I cannot sleep nights for thinking what would become of me if I should die; but it could not be much worse; I am in hell now." The deaconess told her of the Saviour's infinite love and pity and power, but she could not grasp it.

The deaconess visited them often. Sometimes she found them drinking, but she was not discouraged. At last the woman promised to go to church. Suitable clothing was provided for her, and with her husband she went to the evening service, and one day in her own home, alone with the deaconess, she yielded her heart, all burdened and stained with stain, to the Christ, and found pardon and peace. To use her own words, "When I got down on my knees I felt such a heavy weight here,"—placing her hand on her heart—"but that burden has all rolled off." Her husband has since been converted. they are regular attendants at church, and have made a public confession of their faith and will soon be received into membership.

The transformation in their home is wonderful. Snowy curtains at the windows, Scripture texts adorn the walls, and there is an appearance of cleanliness and an atmosphere of peace that is in striking contrast to the condition three months ago.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE HOME WITH MARTHA AND HER FAMILY.

One day a letter came to the Superintendent of the Home from the Associated Charities, asking if a deaconess could call on a poor Swede family, who were in great need. The writer said that food and fuel had been supplied, but that the case was so dis-

A Friend in Need. tressing that the services of a deaconess were much needed. Miss R. was sent at once. She soon returned for necessities and this was the sad story: The family consisted of father and mother, and three little children, aged three, five, and seven years. The father was a drunkard spending all his earnings for drink. The mother was in an advanced stage of consumption. The poor, sick, discouraged mother told the deaconess, in her broken English, that she had been married eight years. At first they lived happily and were prosperous, but he took to drink and had gone steadily downward. Nearly everything had been pawned for drink. For weeks during which the mother had been confined to her bed, the only care she had received had been given by the little one seven years old. They had had scarcely enough to eat to keep them from starving. The sick woman lay on an old mattress, with neither sheets nor pillows, and with nothing on her poor emaciated body but one old, soiled, ragged garment. The children were half naked and very dirty. They all slept on a rickety bed, the broken springs of which were supported by an old trunk. There they were, the three little children in their dirty, scanty clothes, lying across the uncomfortable bed, fast asleep, when the deaconess saw them that night when she made her first visit. As soon as possible she returned loaded down with clean linen, a pillow, garments for the children, soap and towels, jellies, etc. The children were washed, fed, and comfortably clothed. The poor mother was made as comfortable as possible, and the deaconess visited her every day till she went home to heaven — comforted at the last by the assurance that the deaconess would look after her little ones.

The husband, glad to be relieved of them, relinquished all claim to the children and they are now being cared for in the Little Wanderer's Home.

BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL.

The establishment of Training Schools for Christian workers and for nurses preceded the Deaconess movement in Germany, as it did also in this country. Fleidner in Germany established the first Training School for Christian nurses in a little room which he hired for the purpose, and which he furnished with a pine table, two pine chairs and a worm-eaten bedstead. Into this room he brought sick people, and trained young women for service in nursing, by having them care for these patients under the direction of the physicians. Out of this grew the various Training Schools for Christian nurses in Germany, and later Training Schools for all kinds of Christian work. Most of the graduates of these schools became deaconesses. Bible Training Schools in this country had their beginning in Chicago, when, on October 20th, 1885, Mrs. Lucy Rider Meyer, organized the Chicago Training School for City, Home and Foreign Missions, under the direction of a general Board of Managers. Other Training Schools have been organized since that time. The one in Boston had its beginning almost simultaneously with the establishment of the Deaconess Home. Miss Mary E. Lunn, the Superintendent of the Home, was also the Superintendent of the Training School. When the number of Deaconesses had so increased that all the rooms in the Home were needed for their accommodation, another building at 683 Massachusetts Avenue was hired, and the Training School was conducted there until last November, when it was removed to the beautiful and commodious old residence which stands upon the lot recently purchased for the new Hospital. About four years ago Miss Ellen L. Hibbard was made Superintendent and served in that capacity until her health failed her in the spring of 1900. Miss Elizabeth Wiles was then made acting Superintendent and served in that capacity until recently, when she was made Superintendent.

Special Words to Applicants.

1. Diplomas are granted only for the full course, but day students who can take only part of the studies are admitted by special arrangement.
2. The Training School and Deaconess Home are separate in their operations, although they are under the same Board of Managers.
3. A full course of instruction in the school carries with it no obligation on the part of the student to enter upon deaconess work.
4. A full course of study does not involve an obligation on the part of the Board of Managers to accept a student as a probationer in the Home.
5. Nevertheless, graduates from the Training School may make application to the Home or Hospital as deaconess probationers, with the probability of acceptance if found fully qualified.
6. Nurse deaconesses receive special training in the Deaconess Hospital.
7. All applicants are received on three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers.
8. The Training School term is from the third Wednesday in September to the fourth Wednesday in May.

THE DEACONESS HOSPITAL.

The deaconess work in Boston had not progressed very far before it was discovered that the greatest element of success in the work among the poor was thoroughly trained as well as devout nurses. These could not be supplied, nor the poor properly cared for, without a hospital. Consequently the building adjoining the home was purchased and a "Deaconess Hospital" started. It has been in operation a little more than five years. The limitations, on account of the construction of the building, have been embarrassing to the nurses, but to nearly all of the patients who have been treated it is one of the sweetest spots on earth.

"Life will always mean far more to me since I had the privilege of being ministered to in the Deaconess Hospital," has been the verdict of more than one of our patients, writing to express again the gratitude of which we had already been assured.

During the five years eight hundred and thirty-four patients have been treated, only twenty-seven of whom died. During the past year there has not been a single death, although all the beds have been full and many of the cases critical. Eighteen nationalities, forty-one occupations and fifteen religious denominations have been represented among the patients, by which it may be seen that in its practical workings it is cosmopolitan and undenominational. It is the purpose of the hospital management to keep half the beds for free patients. When full price is charged it is only that those who have the means may, in this way, help to pay for those who are unable to pay.

GRADUATE NURSES OF 1901.

A patient who left a little sooner than was expected, asked that her bill be sent to her. A few days later a letter came from her husband enclosing a check for double the amount of the bill with this request: "Please use the balance in caring for some other fellow's wife as tenderly as you did for mine, but who cannot pay for it as I can."

The balance helped to pay for the care of a mother of six children. Only the oldest girl was able to earn, and she had to give up work to care for the little ones in their mother's absence. After a critical operation which, the doctor assured us, was her only chance for life, she recuperated quite rapidly, and hastened to her family with deep gratitude of heart. The next morning, her daughter, on her way to her work, called to let us know that her mother reached home safely, and she exclaimed: "Oh, you cannot think what it means to have mother back again! We are all more grateful to you than I can possibly tell."

A child who had been brought to the hospital for relief in a sad trouble which, but for timely help would have meant life-long suffering, surprised the mother by showing so little fear at being left with the nurses on the mother's enforced departure. Complete recovery enabled the convalescence to be a happy time for the little one who had become very dear to all, and the nurses found great pleasure in spending every spare moment in beguiling the hours of pain by various amusements, for the little sufferer's benefit.

But the great need of this glorious work just now is the enlargement of its capacity for doing work.

Among the members of the Deaconess corporation may be found some of the brightest men and women of New England. Five years ago it was with great hesitancy and trepidation that they purchased the modest building now used for a Deaconess Hospital. But so thoroughly has it demonstrated its right to an existence that last October at a meeting of this corporation, with twenty-eight members present, it was voted unanimously to pay $26,500 for a lot on which to erect a new Deaconess Hospital. This new hospital site is in Longwood, in the city of Boston, thirteen minutes' ride on the electric from Park Street Station. It faces on three streets, Park, Bellevue and Autumn. On the southeast is Longwood Park, covered with tall elms. The southwest side slopes toward and overlooks the Fenway extension, called in Longwood, "The Riverway." On this driveway no traffic is allowed, but on pleasant days there is almost a constant procession of pleasure vehicles. There is a beautiful house upon this lot which will be used for the Bible Training School until the new hospital is completed. It is proposed to build a hospital which will ultimately cost about $100,000.

It may be asked, in view of all the demands upon benevolent minded people, where this money is coming from. The need of such an institution and the character of the work it is doing are an answer to this question. All who are familiar with the work of this Deaconess Hospital will agree that it runs pretty nearly parallel with the life and works of Jesus. There is plenty of money for such work intrusted to the hands of faithful stewards, and they will see that it is not misappropriated.

Business men, who know about this work believe in it with all their hearts. A business man whose name is known throughout New England, sent a poor woman to this hospital for treatment. When she came out, not only was her body healed but her whole life was completely transformed.

This business man has been so thoroughly impressed by this incident that he now declares his purpose to increase his annual subscription and to get together a sum to put into the new hospital.

The Doctors believe in It.

The great doctors believe in the Deaconess Hospital and in its enlargement and their testimony ought to have weight.

A CORNER IN THE OPERATING ROOM.

DR. MAURICE H. RICHARDSON: "I am asked to say a word about the Deaconess Hospital. I am glad to speak a good word for this Hospital. I became acquainted with it by accident through Dr. Edward Reynolds. From that time to this I have been harrassed by the fact that I could not get beds enough. There have been many times when I and my assistants could fill all the beds there, but it is so full that it is well-nigh impossible. The success of a surgeon's work is often dependent on the work of nurses. This has been of the highest order in this Hospital. The patients always refer to it in the warmest terms. They speak of the care as though they had felt thoroughly at home. No matter how good a hospital may be—and we have in Boston as good as any in the world—the homelike feeling is a great aid to recovery. Sick people have many complaints, and they find fault with all hospitals, but they complain as little of this as of any. They are so well pleased that they wish to go back again, when in need of treatment, which is the greatest of compliments. The great need is lack of beds. A hospital of ten times the size could easily be kept full. There has been in the last twenty years an immense increase in improvements of medicine and surgery. Even now there are ten patients for every hospital bed in this city. There are many cases of suffering which cannot be taken into any hospital. Take the field of acute surgery in which patients can come and go in one or two weeks. This hospital should accommodate a large number, but there are not beds enough in all the hospitals for this class of cases alone. I am much pleased to know that it is planned to enlarge this Hospital. The new location is a good one, and the outlook fine; but no matter how much you increase, you cannot keep up with the demand for this sort of hospital accommodation."

DR. EDWARD REYNOLDS: "A very large and vacant field of important work is lying expectant and waiting for the extension of this particular Hospital. There is a large class in this community, especially of women, whose origin has made the refinements of life as valuable as its necessities, but whose circumstances keep them always so close to the line of absolute poverty, that when illness comes they sink below the surface. There are today in Boston thousands of these refined, educated, poverty-stricken women, semi-invalids, struggling to work in despite of pain and illness, barely able to keep body and soul together and sinking year by year more and more hopelessly into the poverty which crushes out all that is best in them, who are perfectly capable of being helped to health and happiness if they could be gotten hold of. There are many circumstances in which such women would rather endure all the hopelessness of their situation, than to submit themselves to the great public hospitals. They can be helped only by the combination of individual and personal care, with good hospital accommodations and medical skill. On this great field the visiting deaconesses are taking a hold which, in my judgment, is unequalled by the work of any other organization. There is indeed in this great city no other society which is devoting itself, or is so fitted to devote itself, to this work.

"I am so deeply interested in the effort, that I have looked forward with much eagerness to the opportunity of contributing my mite toward interesting the people in supplying the means for filling what seems to me the greatest need in Boston's organized charities today."

DR. JOEL E. GOLDTHWAIT: "The Deaconess Hospital, with its possibility of personal acquaintance, can do work for the chronic case which the great hospital cannot do. The amount of painstaking care which can be given in the small hospital is almost impossible in the larger hospital. I should not improve my opportunity if I did not express my appreciation of the work carried on by Miss Lunn and her associates, which is certainly entitled to the highest commendation."

Those desiring information concerning the hospital will address Rev. T. Corwin Watkins, D. D., 693 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, Mass. The hospital is located at 691 Massachusetts Ave.

FOURTH FLOOR PLAN

THE PROPOSED DEACONESS HOSPITAL.

The building is divided into three parts, or groups. The centre, entered from Park Street, contains on the first floor the administrative offices, pharmacy, waiting-rooms, and the dining-rooms for the staff and nurses.

On the second story quarters are provided for the matron and assistant, the house physician, and the dining-room for convalescents.

The third story is devoted to rooms for nurses and attendants, and in the basement the main kitchen, laundry, kitchen stores, ice rooms, medical stores, etc. An elevator serves this building from first floor to fourth.

The Medical ward is entered from the left of Administration building, and consists of three floors, with ample bathing and toilet accommodations, and a diet kitchen on each floor. The wards are 1, 2, 3 and 4 beds each. A solarium extends the entire height of the building, affording sunlight and air. A roof garden accessible from the fourth story of the Administration building affords a view across the parkway. On the fourth story is located an isolated room, for cases under suspicion of contagious diseases.

The Surgical wing, which is entered on the right of the Administration building, has also an entrance on Bellevue Street. It is similar, as to wards and offices, to the Medical wing. On the third story of this wing is located the operating department, consisting of three operating rooms, sterilizing rooms and surgeons' rooms, etherizing and recovery rooms, fitted with the most modern appliances. The floors of this department will be of vitreous tiles, with marble base and wainscot. This building is furnished with a special elevator from the ambulance entrance in the rear of the basement to the roof garden. In this building will be located the heating apparatus, autopsy room, clothing and disinfecting rooms. The entire building will accommodate over one hundred patients.

It is proposed to erect the right wing, or Surgical department, first, and then the Administration building and the left, or Medical, wing as the money may be provided. This right wing will be complete in itself, with a magnificent frontage on Longwood Park. It will be provided with fifty-four beds, and for convenience will not be surpassed by any hospital in Boston.

In justice to the large-hearted men of New England who have been crushed by heavy burdens placed upon them by enterprises to which proper thought had not been given, it is nothing more than right that we should say that this proposed Hospital is the result of the wise thought and earnest prayers of a score or more of the most careful business men in New England, who, together with a host of godly women, are moving forward, slowly but surely, toward the glorious consummation pictured in these pages.

Here is a chance to build a Twentieth Century Thank Offering Monument.

Those wishing further information may communicate with the corresponding secretary, Rev. T. Corwin Watkins, D. D., 593 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, and those desiring to make donations may send their checks to Henry D. Degen, treasurer, 87 Milk St., Boston.

PUBLISHER OF THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS JOURNAL

Miss Ellen L. Hibbard.

Annual Report of the Corresponding Secretary of the New England Deaconess Association.

With the exception of two weeks, during which time I was ill, I have spent twelve solid months, seven days in each week, in an earnest effort to build up and broaden this work. I have made about fourteen hundred calls, have sent out four thousand seven hundred letters and have presented the cause in sixty-eight churches. The subscriptions made by these churches aggregate $3221, averaging $47.50 for each church. The cause has been presented in fifty other churches by the deaconesses.

THE HOME.

There are fifteen deaconesses in the Home. One is Superintendent, one Publisher and Assistant Editor of the Deaconess Journal, one is an eminently successful evangelist deaconess, one is a singing deaconess, who is now taking a course of training in voice culture during the week days and assisting the Corresponding Secretary on the Sabbaths with her songs. Two are district nurse deaconesses, two are city mission deaconesses and six are church visitors. One of the nurse deaconesses is supported by a member of this body, and six visiting deaconesses are supported by the churches which they serve. These deaconesses have made, during the year, 18,210 calls and have done ten thousand other things which can only be recorded in heaven. Two of our best deaconesses, under the direction of the Home, are at work in two of the leading cities of New England outside of Boston.

The parlors of the Home have been greatly beautified during the year. The cash for paper and paint was furnished by several gentlemen who love the deaconesses for their work's sake. From the Hospital Fair, by the kindness of friends, came drapery for the windows and pictures for the walls, while the ministers placed a beautiful rug upon the dining room floor.

The efficient, accomplished and consecrated Superintendent of this department gives herself, soul, body and spirit, to this work. There are but few pastors who work as many hours in the day as she or who carry as many burdens. She knows her work and does it.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

This department has had unusual prosperity this year. Since our last annual meeting twenty-seven have been enrolled. At the last Commencement six of these graduated. At the close of the first term of this school year two went home. One had been a special student preparatory to becoming a minister's wife, and is soon to enter upon her work. The other, a most estimable young woman, who could not quite make up her mind that she was called to be a deaconess, had to leave for lack of funds. There are now in the school fifteen students. Two of these are regular day students, thirteen expect to become deaconesses. Eleven of the deaconesses now in the Home are graduates of this school. One has charge of a forsaken but now thriving church in Vermont. Not satisfied with having brought to life this church, she has established another where she preaches afternoons. Another is an evangelist in Vermont and receives her monthly appointments at the hands of the Presiding Elders. Two have gone to set up the Kingdom of Christ in the heart of India, another is hewing out a new civilization, all alone, in a vast district in China, where she sees a white man only once in three months; another is doing a similar work in the little kingdom of Corea, and another in Mexico. Young women sometimes come to this school too timid and inexperienced to teach a Sunday School class, and at the end of two years they go forth with a confidence and equipment that fits them for the most difficult religious and sociological work.

In some respects it is superior to any school of its kind in the country. This is especially true because of its location in the very heart of a great educational centre where it can avail itself of lectures and instruction by specialists. The Superintendent of this department has done magnificent work for which she deserves the thanks of all who are anxious that the church shall have workers "who need not be ashamed."

In our thought of the work of this school we should not forget that fifteen students in this school means that nearly as many churches are furnished with earnest workers who are not only helping the churches, but are also bringing the people of these churches into close touch with the deaconess movement.

THE HOSPITAL.

During the early part of the year this department was without a Superintendent, owing to the resignation of our trusted and well beloved friend, Miss Mary E. Lunn. But well-trained and experienced workers were in charge, so that the work went forward without a break. Later the placid and benign Miss Betts was elected Acting Superintendent and she modestly accepted the responsibility and went on her way smiling just as though this was the path she had always trodden; and, in fact, it was, for it was the path of duty.

It has been my privilege to visit the patients frequently during this year, and from what I have seen and heard I have been led to believe that there is no more beautiful Christian work on earth than that which is being done by this Hospital, whether the patients are free or not. The work of the surgeons and physicians is marvelous, but the work of the nurses, by the grace of God in transforming lives is little less than miraculous.

I am grieved to have to announce that our splendid head nurse Miss Booker, is obliged, on account of ill health, to give up her work. She sent her resignation to the Hospital Committee two months ago, with the request that we allow it to take effect the first of January, but as we could find no one to take her place she consented to remain till the first of February. Every possible effort is being made to secure an experienced deaconess nurse to take her place.

The inconveniences of the present hospital building are so great that it is a wonder that the nurses do not break down oftener than they do. Very few women can run up and down those narrow and steep stairs without being obliged, sooner or later, to yield to physical exhaustion or, perhaps, go under the surgeon's knife. For this reason, if for no other, a new hospital building is a necessity.

LITERATURE.

Sixty thousand copies of the Deaconess Journal have been sent out during the year, to all who contribute to the work, to seven hundred New England ministers and to regular subscribers. Miss E. L. Hibbard, who has been so long connected with our work, and who is so greatly beloved by all who know her, after a year's absence, partially recovered her health and returned to the Home last fall. She has been appointed by the Board of Managers to be Publisher and Assistant Editor of the Deaconess Journal. The subscriptions received do not pay for the paper, but we have had direct evidence that it has brought in more money than it has cost, besides keeping the public in touch with the work. At the time of the fair we published 140,000 pages of readable tracts, at an expense of about thirty pages for a cent. Some of these were distributed during the fair and are being used now in our regular work. The five thousand copies of "Glimpses of Deaconess Work" have been a great help in all departments of our work. During the weeks preceding the fair we wrote our own advertisements, never failing to get in a word on the general character of the deaconess work. These articles were published in fifty-seven daily and weekly papers. The editor of our own Zion's Herald has never failed to respond to any invitation to help on this cause in the columns of one of the best religious papers in America. Twice during the year he has given this work his endorsement in the editorial columns. When we consider how many good causes he is expected to advocate we must acknowledge that this work has had generous treatment.

THE HOSPITAL FAIR.

The fair in aid of the new Deaconess Hospital, which opened Monday morning, November 4, and closed on the following Saturday evening, was an unqualified success. The plans were so broad, the organization so perfect, and the advertising so judicious and far-reaching, that it, in some way, touched not only the whole of Boston and vicinity, but also, to a large degree, the whole of New England. As a social function it has not been surpassed. For six months stanch men and elect women from the churches of Boston and the surrounding towns and cities came together and talked and planned and reported, and during the fair five hundred of these men and women worked together. They did not wear themselves out, for the work on each succeeding day was done by a new company representing a different group of churches. It will readily be seen that the five hundred workers had ample opportunity to form a wide and intimate acquaintance.

But the workers were not the only ones who profited by this opportunity for meeting old friends and making new ones. There were thousands who came to spend the day and the evening in a most informal way.

But the fair was also a financial success, both directly and indirectly. The net profits were $8,239. When it is taken into consideration that there were no fancy prices and no schemes for extorting money from the people, it is a magnificent showing. Had the hall been sufficiently large, the profits would have been at least $10,000.

The financial fruits of this fair have not yet all been gathered. Many people of means knew but little about the deaconesses and their work until they read about it in connection with the fair. Since then it has been talked about in all circles of society, and, as a result, it will undoubtedly find a place among the gifts and legacies of the rich.

A large measure of the success of this enterprise was due to the generous treatment accorded it by the press of Boston and surrounding cities.

OUR LEGACY FOR AN ORPHANAGE.

About a year and a half ago, a lady who was once a member of the deaconess family, died in our hospital. She had been married and lived in Philadelphia. She had a foster child, a beautiful little girl about seven years old. In her will she left $5,000 to the New England Deaconess Home and Training School, for a Deaconess Orphanage, on condition that the corporation would accept her foster child and bring her up under deaconess influences. The Association accepted the child and placed her in the Deaconess Orphanage and School at Lake Bluff, near Chicago. The young ladies' Deaconess Aid Circle clothe her and the Association pays $6.00 per month for her board.

THE HOSPITAL BUILDING FUND.

Eighteen months ago two friends subscribed $5,000 each toward the fund for a new hospital, provided $30,000 in all should be raised by Jan. 1, 1902. This condition was met about twenty-four hours before the time expired. This $30.00, together with the income from the fair, makes $38,000 for the land and building. The Treasurer's report shows that $27,900 of this amount has been paid in, of which $26,500 has been paid for the site of the new Hospital. The Association now owns, in addition to this, the buildings occupied by the Home and Hospital, on Massachusetts Avenue, with an encumbrance of only $5,000 on the present Hospital building. We also have an endowment fund of $6,410.

There is one other department of our work which I cannot overlook. Personally and publicly, I want to express my appreciation of the character, the spirit and the work of our Treasurer. He not only transacts, in a most efficient manner, the business of the office he holds, but he is always ready to take upon himself any and all kinds of burdens. I wish, also, to express, officially and personally, my appreciation of the philanthropic spirit and the personal self-sacrifices of the eminent surgeons and physicians who have so cheerfully given their priceless services to our free patients. And then there is another company whom we cannot forget, and that is the brainy and busy pastors who take time to prepare lectures for our Training School students and come each week, and sometimes oftener, to deliver them, paying their own traveling expenses. They deserve, and I believe they have, the profound gratitude of this Association.

In conclusion allow me to acknowledge the uniform kindness of the members of this body, and especially of the great-hearted business men who have worked with me. I do not believe there is a body of men and women in all the country more devoted to the work of the Master than the members of this corporation.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

T. CORWIN WATKINS, Cor. Sec.

A VISITING DEACONESS.

Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Home to the Board of Managers.

At the beginning of the year there were twelve deaconesses in this department, including Miss Emma S. Anderson, who, though belonging to the Home, worked in Providence. There have been several changes during the year. We now have fifteen deaconesses belonging to the Home. Two of these, Miss Orianna F. Harding and Miss Ruth G. Barr, are non-resident members. Miss Edna C. Brown and Miss Bertha O. Metcalf, both valuable workers, were compelled, early in the year, to ask for leave of absence on account of ill health. Several new workers have come to us. Miss Mae Andros and Miss Alice Harper, graduates of our own Training School, and Miss Mary Simester and Miss Norma Fenderich, from the Chicago Training School. Miss Frances Adams entered the home in July and after three months severed her connection with the work. Miss Ruth Barr, a former member of the Home, applied for readmission, was accepted and appointed to Trinity Church, Springfield.

Miss Edna B. Averill, a graduate of our Hospital, was accepted as probationary deaconess at our last board meeting, and will soon enter the Home for district nursing. Miss Emma S. Anderson, a long time and much loved member of the Home, has recently been transferred to the Providence Deaconess Home. Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, after a year's absence on account of ill health, entered the Home in September.

The following churches are being served by deaconesses: Tremont Street, Miss Mary Simester; Bromfield Street, Miss Emilie S. Freeman; St. John's, South Boston, Miss Mae Andros; Stanton Avenue, Dorchester, Miss Clara Wood; Trinity Church, Worcester, Miss Orianna F. Harding; Trinity Church, Springfield, Miss Ruth G. Barr. These deaconesses are supported by the churches in which they work.

Miss Clara M. Barber serves Lenox Street Chapel; Miss Alice H. Harper, the Italian Church; Miss E. Mae Chisholm and Miss Norma H. Fenderich are in the evangelistic work. Miss Sarah Blakely and Miss Annie Raynes, our district nurses, and Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, who is publisher and assistant editor of the Deaconess Journal, and the Superintendent, whose duties are miscellaneous, comprise our present deaconess family. But there are three other members, as much deaconesses in spirit as any of us, who contribute much to the health and happiness of our family—our beloved matron, Miss Clara D. Oliver, our stenographer, Miss Edith Boyd, and our faithful cook, Lena Anderson.

This much for the workers, now for the work. I can give you some facts and figures, but they do not tell the whole story.

18,210 calls have been made. That means the gospel preached and practiced in that number of homes. It means sick bodies cared for, sick, sad, sorrowing souls saved and comforted. It means many neglected little children mothered. It means all this and much more. Only the recording angel has a full record. About twelve hundred sick have been nursed in their homes. About sixteen hundred hours have been spent in office work, and about forty-five hundred hours in miscellaneous work. 15,699 papers and tracts have been distributed. Only God knows what good has been accomplished in this way. I do know of a certain street car conductor who is a Christian to-day because a deaconess, with a prayer in her heart that God would use the little message, placed in his hand a little leaflet. 115 copies of the Bible and 464 other good books, have been given. 1,342 bouquets of flowers have carried messages of God's love to poor "Shut-ins." 1,218 carriage rides and car tickets have been distributed and that number of people made happy, for one day, at least.

Sunday School classes, with an aggregate attendance of 4,290 children and young people, have been taught every Sunday, and prayed for by all the family every day in the week. The deaconesses occasionally invite their classes to spend an evening in the Home and in these little social gatherings, more than one young person has during the past year, consecrated his life to the Master. 4,002 garments have been distributed from our supply closet. When it is possible we require that some work be done by those to whom clothes are given. We do not intend to pauperize any one. The men who come for food or clothing, are invited to shovel our snow, clean our steps and our back yard, split up our boxes and barrels, and wash our windows. The women are also required to do some work if they are able. 4,000 garments distributed means more than the bare figures can express. Little neglected new born babies dressed, scores of boys and girls decently clothed and brought into Sunday School, and many an aged person and invalid made comfortable. Many a poor mother struggling to make her scanty earnings buy food and fuel, pay the rent, and clothe her little ones, has thanked God for the Deaconess Home.

Sixty-two mission classes in the Italian night school and the Chinese Sunday school have been taught. In these schools our foreign brothers are not only taught to read English, but to study the New Testament, and to know the Christ of the New Testament. Several Chinamen have been converted and united with the church this year, through the efforts of one deaconess.

One hundred and seventeen classes in industrial school have been taught, with an aggregate attendance of 2,331 children. These children are nearly all children of the street. Here they are taught many valuable lessons, besides being taught to make and mend simple garments. 168 children's meetings have been conducted, with an aggregate attendance of 3,147.

Two hundred and eighty-one other Gospel meetings have been conducted. These include cottage meetings, mothers' meetings, and services held in Asylums, Hospitals, and the prison, besides the larger evangelistic meetings addressed.

One hundred and forty-six meetings have been addressed on deaconess work by the workers in the Home.

We attribute no small part of the credit for the unusually large number of students in our Training School to the influence of the deaconesses who have gone out into Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont presenting and representing our work. We are in correspondence with others thus reached, who are hoping to come to us next year.

We have received during the year $563.92 for our Emergency Fund. $559.95 was spent. $201.71 in Fresh Air work, $43 for Thanksgiving dinners and about the same for Christmas. The remainder for food, fuel, medicine, clothing, car fares and expressage.

We are very thankful to our friends who have contributed to this precious fund. It is precious. It is sacred; received with deep gratitude and glad joy and spent carefully and prayerfully.

Fresh Air work engaged much of our time, and profitably too, during the summer. About one hundred invalids and children were sent out into the country, some for two weeks, and others for a month.

One thousand poor mothers and children were taken for a day's outing. The good results, physical and spiritual, cannot be estimated.

The Deaconesses themselves have had some delightful outings. Mr. N. M. Davenport, of Jefferson, N. H., has for several years opened his home freely, during the summer, to tired deaconesses. Dr. I. E. Chase of Haverhill, Mass., also invites to his beautiful home, for rest and recuperation, not only deaconesses, but others, whom the deaconesses desire to send. Several have enjoyed these privileges during the past year, and have been greatly benefited. We are very grateful to these kind friends for their beautiful hospitality.

We are glad we have been able to extend the ministry of the deaconesses into other cities where their work is already attracting much attention. Other large cities are calling upon us for workers, and with the increasing number of young women who are hearing the call and coming to us for training, we hope to be able to answer these appeals.

I have already mentioned the names of those who are now members of the Home, but it may be of interest to some to know where others are who have heretofore been connected with the Home or Training School and who are now doing deaconess or missionary work:

Althea M. Todd, China; Clara M. Organ, India; Toyo Mimiyama, Japan; Augusta Anderson, New York; Carrie E. Hoxie, New Bedford; Florence L. Nichols, India; M. Alice Moore, Mexico; Josephine C. Paine, Corea; Emma S. Anderson, Providence, R. I.; Ida M. Bryant, Boston; Kate M. Cooper, Minneapolis, Minn.; Ella C. Nye, Quincy, Ill.; Elizabeth M. Ruddick, India; Millie M. Martin, Vermont Conference; Harriet B. Knapp, Vermont Conference; Anna Hall, Atlanta, Ga.; Adeliza A. Betts, Deaconess Hospital; Annette Lundwell, Deaconess Hospital; Ella B. Burpee, Deaconess Hospital.

At the last session of the New England Conference, Emilie S. Freeman and Orianna F. Harding were consecrated and licensed, and Millie M. Martin, now Vermont Conference deaconess evangelist, was given a license at the last session of that conference.

The past year has been a good one. There have been disappointments and trials, but the blessings have far outweighed these. Friends new and old have given us sympathy and help, and best of all, the Lord Jesus Christ, "whom we are and whom we serve," has given us great grace and peace.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOSEPHINE S. FISK, Supt.

A DEACONESS HOSPITAL NURSE.

Report of the Superintendent of the Hospital to the Board of Managers.

Since the opening of the New England Deaconess Hospital on February 5, 1896, 1004 patients have been treated. There are at present in the Hospital family, eleven nurses and one probationer. Four of the pupil nurses have come from other Deaconess Homes. The work has steadily increased, so that now we are unable to meet the demands for beds, especially for private patients.

Among the many pleasant features of our home life was a beautiful Christmas Tree, on Christmas eve, for both patients and nurses, which was greatly enjoyed. It also brings joy to our hearts to know that our Heavenly Father approves and blesses the work and that souls as well as bodies are day by day growing stronger.

✓ The total number of patients cared for during the year was 185. Of these 156 were surgical and 29 medical. The average length of each patient's stay has been about twenty-five days. The longest stay in the Hospital of any one patient was 182 days. The shortest five hours. The largest number of patients in the Hospital at any time, 15. The number of days board and nursing of free patients, 980. Number of days board and nursing patients paying part rates, 1366. The aggregate value of free work done was $2,728.80.

During the year Massachusetts has sent us 79 patients, Maine 21, New Hampshire 12, Vermont 7, Connecticut 3, Rhode Island 1, New York 9, Michigan 2, Wisconsin 1, Virginia 2, Illinois 2, Washington, D. C. 1, Ohio 2, North Carolina 2, British Provinces 25, England and Ireland 14, Russia 2, Austria 1, Germany 1, Sweden 1, Azore Island 1, Tennessee 1.

This Hospital is entirely unsectarian, as will be seen by the following representation: Methodist 59, Baptist 18, Unitarian 10, Episcopal 11, Free Thinkers 2, Christian 1, Presbyterian 1, Lutheran 1, Congregational 38, Catholic 19, Universalist 8, Swedenborgian 1, Unclassified 8, Christian Advent 1, Salvation Army 1, Jewish 3.

That the Hospital is thoroughly democratic may be seen in the following classification of the patients by their various occupations: Attendants 3, clerks 2, deaconesses 4, factory operatives 3, laundress 1, music teacher 1, publisher 1, school teachers 5, school girls 5, wood carver 1, at home 99, infants 3, engravers 2, glove maker 1, nurses 10, master mechanic 1, saleswomen 3, German teacher 1, students 8, book-keeper 1, domestics 11, dressmakers 3, excursion agent 1, hardware business 2, milliner 1, physician 1, seamstresses 6, stenographers 4, student in Naval Academy 1.

We gratefully acknowledge the service of the doctors who have given their time to the treatment of free patients and to lecture to the nurses in the training school. Three nurses have satisfactorily passed the required examinations and have received their diplomas. The course of study has included instruction from text books taught by the acting superintendent and the superintending nurse. A course of thirty lectures has been given by the physicians. A course of twelve lessons in massage has been given to the senior nurses by Miss A. Lundwell.

ROOM IN THE PROPOSED NEW DEACONESS HOSPITAL.

A Magnificent Charity.

A Deaconess Hospital differs from other hospitals in that the nurses are young women who, though unsalaried, consecrate the highest scientific skill to the care of the sick, regardless of the creed, nationality or financial ability of the patient. It is also a place where such young women are trained for district nursing among the poor.

The present Deaconess Hospital, located at 691 Massachusetts Avenue, with only fourteen beds, in a little more than six years has accommodated more than a thousand patients, of whom only thirty-three have died.

The site for the new hospital is in Longwood, Boston, about three minutes walk from the site of the proposed new Medical School of Harvard College, which is the largest and best equipped institution of its kind in the world.

Dr. Edward Reynolds says: "A very large and vacant field of important work is lying expectant and waiting for this particular kind of a hospital."

Dr. Maurice H. Richardson says: "If we had a Deaconess Hospital ten times the size of this one it could easily be kept full. I am much pleased to learn of the plans for enlargement. The new location is a good one."

Dr. Joel E. Goldthwait says: "The Deaconess Hospital, with its possibility for personal acquaintance, and with the opportunity it affords for painstaking care, can do a work in special cases which the great hospitals cannot do. I should not improve my opportunity if I did not say that the work done by this hospital is entitled to the highest consideration."

What can you do to help this great and beautiful charity? Give $250 a year for the support of a nurse-deaconess, or an endowment of $5,000 for her perpetual support. Give $250 a year for a free bed in the new Hospital, or endow a free bed by giving $5,000. Pay for the construction of a memorial room or ward in the new hospital, and give it your name, or the name of a dear departed one. Build the right or left wing of the Hospital, or the middle, or Administration building as a memorial. Furnish a room or a ward. If you cannot do any of these, then send some contribution, however small. This book will reach some one who can build the whole Hospital, and leave those, who have this matter now in hand free to execute the work. Lastly, build a home and Training School for nurses.

The corporate name of the body having this work in hand is the NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS ASSOCIATION.

Report of the Superintendent of the Bible Training School to the Board of Managers.

It is with profound gratitude to God that we review the work of the Bible Training School during the year just passed. For His constant care and guidance, for strength, physical and spiritual, and for the un mistakeable smile of His approval, we render thanks.

Our annual meeting coming at this time, in the middle of the school year, causes our report to include the Spring Term of 1900-'01 and the Fall Term of 1901-'02.

We have been greatly blessed in securing for instructors men and women of the highest ability and fitness for their departments, and it is proper that at this time we should express to all these good friends our grateful acknowledgements and deep appreciation for their services.

The Spring Term of 1900-'01 was brought to a successful close on May 22, when the Commencement exercises were held in Tremont Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and the large number of friends assembled were addressed by Rev. W. P. Odell, D. D., of the Calvary Church, New York City.

Six young ladies received their diplomas at this time, four of whom entered the Deaconess ranks. Two of these are included in the report of the Superintendent of the Deaconess Home. Miss Harriett B. Knapp, of this class, went from us with the expectation of returning for service in the fall, if her health should permit. Developments seemed to indicate that the Master needed her services in another part of His vineyard.

Miss Anna Hall, who came to us from Atlanta, Ga., having completed her course in Bible Training, spent the summer months in securing some experience in the Deaconess Home and Hospital. In the early fall she left for the Southland, where she is now engaged in deaconess work under the Woman's Home Missionary Society. We are here honored with the privilege of sending out the first deaconess to this needy field. Miss Hall has visited two conferences this winter, at one of which she was consecrated, and found both ministers and laymen eager to learn of the deaconesses and their work. She is laboring heroically among the destitute and sinful of that great city, being, as she expresses it, "only a drop in a bucket"—facing peculiar difficulties which we in the North are not able to appreciate. You who know this cultured, spirit-filled woman will rejoice that it has been your privilege to contribute toward preparing her for her beautiful work.

The total enrollment for this year is eighteen. Four of these are last year's students. Two of them, in addition to their class work, are doing almost full deaconess work.

One at Morgan Chapel is keeping up the work which Miss Brown, the deaconess, was compelled to leave last spring on account of impaired health. Another has devoted herself to the work of the Italian Mission. The other students are receiving practical training as visitors, under the direction of pastors of churches in Boston and vicinity.

The figures contained in our statistical report certainly give nothing more than a vague idea of the blessed ministries of these women, who have as truly ministered to the poor, provided for the orphan, comforted the sorrowing, sought the wandering, etc., in the fulfillment of the discipline explanation of their duties, as though they had completed their training and were costumed and supported workers, with these exceptions—they give only a portion of their time, and are in greater or less degree untrained.

S. ELIZABETH WILES, Supt.

A Word About the Training School.OBJECT.

The object of the Training School is to give to consecrated young women a thorough training for Christian Work, by means of a course of systematic study and instruction and of practical work in churches, missions and industrial schools and institutions located in Boston and vicinity.

LOCATION.

The school is located, at present, in the building which stands on the site of the proposed new Deaconess Hospital, in Longwood, Boston. It is ten minutes' ride, on the electrics, from the Boston Public Library, and fifteen minutes from Park Street subway station. In front is a beautiful public park. In the rear is the Riverway drive, an extension of the Fenway. The location is elevated and healthful.

The Public Library, the Natural History Rooms, the Museum of Fine Arts, the famous Lowell Lecturers, the Saturday afternoon Bible Class and a score of other institutions, in the line of general culture, are all free to the students of the Training School, while opportunities for all kinds of practical Christian work, under competent leaders, are simply limitless.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

1. Satisfactory recommendations from the pastor and the officary of the church to which the applicant belongs.
2. A health certificate from an accredited physician.
3. A consecrated spirit, zeal for the Master's cause, and cheerful willingness to perform the duties assigned.
4. A grammar school education or its equivalent.

10. SPECIAL STUDIES, such as Rudimentary Ethics, Christian Sociology, Physiology, Hygiene and Nursing ; Vocal Music.

SPECIAL WORDS TO APPLICANTS.

1. Diplomas are granted only for the full course, but day students who can take only part of the studies are admitted by special arrangement.
2. The Training School and Deaconess Home are separate in their operations, although they are under the same Board of Managers.
3. A full course of instruction in the school carries with it no obligation on the part of the student to enter upon deaconess work.
4. A full course of study does not involve an obligation on the part of the Board of Managers to accept a student as a probationer in the Home.
5. Nevertheless, graduates from the Training School may make application to the Home or Hospital as deaconess probationers, with the probability of acceptance if found fully qualified.

6. Nurse deaconesses receive special training in the Deaconess Hospital.

7. All applicants are received on three months' trial, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Managers.

8. The Training School term is from the third Wednesday in September to the fourth Wednesday in May.

EXPENSES.

1. Tuition is free, but a charge of three dollars per week is made for board, fuel and lights.

2. A small amount of household work is required of those who reside in the school building.

3. By special arrangement students can sometimes be admitted who are not able to pay the full price for board, if looking toward deaconess work.

4. The expense for books is about ten dollars per year.

5. Students are expected to furnish their towels and bedding.

6. Privileges of the laundry are free to students.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Superintendent will be glad to correspond with any person interested in the school, to send literature, receive calls and in every way possible aid young women whom God is calling into His work. Address Miss Elizabeth Wiles, 175 Bellevue Street, Longwood, Boston, Mass.

PUBLISHER OF THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS JOURNAL

Miss Ellen L. Hibbard

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

This has not been a year of great events in our deaconess work, but it has been a year of steady toil, and, without preliminaries I will proceed at once to report some of the work accomplished.

OFFICE WORK.

I have sent out 2,600 letters, 2,200 circulars and reports. I have made 1,160 personal calls in the interests of the work. By means of correspondence and personal appeal I have made eighty engagements with the churches for myself and one hundred and twenty-seven for the deaconesses. At night in my own home I have written all matter for publication, in Zion's Herald, the daily press and for the editorial page of the Deaconess Journal.

FIELD WORK.

I have myself presented the cause and have taken collections in eighty-two churches. I have made other collections aggregating more than twice the amount received from the churches. The deaconesses have presented the work and taken collections in one hundred and twenty-seven churches. There is yet unpaid, due from the churches $942; which, it is presumed, will be paid before or at the spring conferences. There has been raised for the new hospital building fund, during the year, $6,741. The cause was presented and anniversaries held in five conferences. It is fitting that I should state here that Miss E. Mae Chisholm presented the work and took collections in seventy-two churches between October 1st and Jan. 20th.

LITERATURE.

During the year fifty-seven thousand copies of the Deaconess Journal have been sent to homes in New England. Fifty-four thousand pages of other literature have been sent out.

THE NEW HOSPITAL.

Some delay has been experienced in commencing work on the new hospital, mainly due to changes in the plans and a desire to make them as complete as possible before finally deciding upon them. After very careful study by every member of the building committee they were referred to the best known expert on hospital building in the city of Boston, and a very full report was rendered by him and his suggestions were incorporated in the plans. All this has required time, but we feel that the result will justify it, and when the building is complete it will be thoroughly up to date and in every respect first-class. The contract for the excavation was given out about the middle of January and is now nearly completed. Work on the foundations will be commenced at once, or as soon as the contracts for the building are awarded. The plans, which are all completed, are now in the hands of the contractors and it is hoped that the corner stone may be laid by April first.

The breaking of ground for the new hospital was an occasion for again calling the attention of the public to our work. Four of the Boston daily papers published the story with a cut of the new hospital building. The editor of the Transcript said he would break one of his rules in order to show the people the proposed new hospital building. The Zion's Herald devoted nearly three pages to the work. In fact the Zion's Herald is always ready to do anything to help on the Deaconess Hospital. Miss Ellen L. Hibbard has given much time and thought to the publication of the Deaconess Journal, which has been a mighty agency in bringing in funds for the work and supplies for the workers.

DEACONESS AID SOCIETY.

After our Hospital Fair had closed it seemed advisable to conserve the interest that had been created by this enterprise, and to permanently organize the forces that had been at work there. Accordingly the leaders of this movement were called together and a Deaconess Aid Society was formed for the purpose of advancing the plans and purposes of the New England Deaconess Association. This organization of splendid women has grown rapidly and today we have been their guests. At their meeting held the first Tuesday in January, at the request of the Corresponding Secretary, by a unanimous rising vote, they decided to pay the floating debt of $5,300, which has caused our Association not a little care and anxiety.

Associated with this organization is a Patients' Aid Society with a membership of about fifty. Their work is to supply the hospital with linen and a score of other things of like nature. In this connection I might say that the Deaconess Aid Circle is "diligent in business, fervent in spirit serving the Lord," by quietly doing many beautiful things to help on this work.

LEGACIES.

We have received a legacy of $1,113.75 by the will of a Miss Curtis (deceased) of Bethel, Me., the income of which is to be used to aid needy widows or unmarried women. Three aged people that we know of have made their wills during the year, generously remembering this good work.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

You will pardon me if in closing I look backward for a moment. In the Fall of 1888 Mrs. Cushing and Mrs. Watkins, as a result of their own labors, found themselves in possession of $150, which they did not exactly know what to do with. I suggested to Mrs. Watkins that they might put it in a bank as a nucleus for a Deaconess Home in Boston. The next day Mrs. Cushing came to our home in Dorchester, and, without knowing what I had suggested, proposed the same thing. It was decided. The attention of others was called to this, and a temporary organization was effected. The conference was asked at its next session to appoint a committee on Deaconess work, which it did. A more permanent organization was formed and incorporated. A house was purchased on Massachusetts Ave. for $8,000 while they yet had but $150. But the house was paid for in a few years. Then a building was purchased for a hospital and partly paid for. Thus the work grew and prospered.

A few months ago our Treasurer made a statement of our financial growth during the last three years. He stated that on May 1, 1899, our net assets were $15,100.16. On May 1, 1902, after deducting the floating debt of $5,300, our assets were $54,246.72. To this he added the amount of reliable subscriptions to the new building fund, namely $6,125.00, making our net assets at that time $60,371.72. If we now add in the $5,300 which has been since paid we have $65,671.72. But since then there has been received for the hospital building fund cash and pledges amounting to $1,741, which, together with the legacy of $1,113.75, makes our net assets at the present time $68,526.47.

After deducting the net assets of May, 1899, we have a net increase in three years of $53,426.31 with all bills paid up to date. In 1899 the cause was presented in twenty-seven churches. This year it has been presented in 217 churches.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. CORWIN WATKINS,
Corresponding Secretary.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DEACONESS HOME, 1902.

Workers.

There have been several changes in the Deaconess Home family during the year. *Edna B. Averill, a graduate of our Deaconess Hospital was received on probation in February, and has done efficient work as a district nurse, and in presenting our cause in the churches. Mary L. Andros was compelled to relinquish the work in May, on account of ill health. *Susie D. Colson and Lettie M. Mason, graduates of our Bible Training School, were received on probation and entered the Home in June. *Edna C. Brown returned to the Home in September after an absence of a year and a half, and resumed her work at Morgan Memorial. Sarah G. Blakeley was appointed to work in Bangor, Maine, in April, and Norma H. Fenderich in September to the same city, for rescue work. Ellen L. Hibbard and Orianna F. Harding have been transferred from the Home to the Training School. Elizabeth Wiles resigned her position as superintendent of the Bible Training School at the close of the last school year, and became a member of the Home in August. *Caroline E. Hoxie, a former member of the Home, returned to us in November. Clara D. Oliver, who has served as matron in the Home for eight years, and was greatly beloved by all, resigned her position in June. Mary A. French was chosen to succeed her but after a three months' trial, her strength proving insufficient, she resigned. Bertha O. Metcalf is now acting as matron.

The visiting deaconesses are working in the following churches: Ruth G. Barr, Trinity, Springfield; Susie D. Colson, St. John's, So. Boston; Caroline E. Hoxie, Baker Memorial, Dorchester; Lettie M. Mason, Central Church, Lowell; *Mary Simester, Tremont St., Boston; *Clara Wood, Stanton Avenue, Dorchester; *Emilie S. Freeman served Bromfield St. church until the middle of May. During the summer she performed the work of matron in the Home and presented our cause in the churches on Sunday. Orianna F. Harding served Trinity Church, Worcester, until July 1st. All these churches gave full support for their workers. Edna C. Brown still serves Morgan Memorial, and Clara M. Barber Lenox St. Chapel. Annie Raynes continues her faithful service as district nurse, supported by a member of the Board. E. Mae Chisholm was granted three months' vacation, returning the first of October. Since that time she has been engaged in presenting our work, and taking collections in the churches of the New Hampshire Conference. Elizabeth C. Wiles has been successfully engaged in evangelistic work. At the last session of the New England Conference the following workers were granted deaconess license—Norma H. Fenderich, Mary L. Andros, Mary Simester and Clara Wood.

Work.

During the year members of the Home have given 186 addresses in the interest of our work, and 430 evangelistic addresses. They have conducted 163 mothers' and cottage meetings, and 169 children's meetings. Several of the deaconesses have charge of Industrial schools, clubs, and King's Daughters' Circles. All of the visiting deaconesses superintend Junior Leagues, and several, the Primary Sunday Schools.

The more important every-day personal work cannot be reported by mere statistics. Above 15,000 calls have been made. More souls have been won to Christ in this way than in the public service. We cannot measure the spiritual nor the material results. They are known only in heaven. One pastor says that of the nearly one hundred new members received into his church last year, a very large proportion were brought in through the personal effort of the deaconess. Scores of children have been added to the Sunday School and Junior League. One deaconess organized a Junior League of thirty-five members in September. There are now more than one hundred members. Nearly three thousand poor sufferers have been nursed in their homes during the year. Generally speaking these people would have had no care had it not been given by the deaconess nurses. When we remember this fact, and think of the dying who have been made acquainted with the Great Physician, of the neglected ones whom skillful nursing has brought back to health again, of the ignorant mothers who have been instructed how to keep their homes and care for their children, and of the little ones who have been saved from lives of suffering by a little timely attention, we must recognize that no department of our deaconess work is more important than the work of the district nurse. About 8,500 papers and tracts, and 55 Bibles and other good books have been distributed. More than 7,000 garments have been dispensed from our supply closet. Much of the laundry work and cleaning in the Home has been done by those who have received needed clothing. About 760 bouquets of flowers have been distributed among the sick in homes and in hospitals. As nearly as we can estimate 1,900 hours have been spent in office work, and 4,800 hours in miscellaneous work, such as investigating cases of need, conferring with the Associated Charities, reporting cases of cruelty and neglect, taking sick to hospitals and dispensaries, and in the arranging for the placing of homeless, neglected or abandoned children in homes and asylums. Several such little waifs have been placed in Christian homes for adoption, by the deaconesses during the past year.

BANGOR.

This new work deserves more than a passing notice. In April last in response to urgent and repeated appeals for a deaconess to assist in instituting rescue work in that city, Sarah G. Blakeley, one of our district nurses was sent. There was no refuge in all that city for this needy class. The effort was blessed by God in a remarkable way. Interest was aroused and the support of the people was assured, and in May the Bangor Deaconess Association was formed. The work began in a small hired house. They have bought and furnished a suitable house since, which they own, free of debt. Norma H. Fenderich, another member of our Home was sent to assist in the work, and has been appointed its superintendent. About a score of girls and several children have found a Christian refuge here, and if space would permit, some remarkable and touching instances might be given of young lives which had been blighted and blasted, brought to Christ, transformed and made beautiful. Your deaconesses are doing a most difficult work in that city and doing it successfully. When you pray for our deaconess work, remember the work in Bangor.

EMERGENCY WORK.

Our emergency work has been growing each year. The amount spent has increased from less than $150 in 1899 to more than $1,800 in the last year. This expenditure includes amount spent for food, fuel, medicine, car fare and outfit for district nurses, express on clothing sent to the Supply Closet, postage for emergency correspondence, carriage and extras for free patients in our Hospital, Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners for the poor, and the Fresh Air Work. We furnished more than fifty families with Thanksgiving dinners from our Emergency Fund, besides the many who were provided for by the churches through the deaconesses. The last Christmas was the best which we have ever known. Many Sunday Schools in different parts of New England held giving services, and the results enriched our supplies. The Sunday School at Newtonville remembered us munificently. Their Christmas tree bore all manner of rich fruit. There were six dozen shoes, four dozen each of hose, mittens and underwear, besides,—dolls, toys, books, candy and all manner of good things which delight the hearts of children. The deaconesses themselves were inexpressibly happy to be the dispensers of so much bounty.

FRESH AIR WORK.

This is a very important part of our summer work. This year, through the generosity of the Methodist Sunday School and friends at Newtonville, we were enabled to carry on this branch of our work on quite an extensive scale, with most gratifying results. A house was hired and furnished in Middleboro, that would accommodate about forty-five people. The place was named "The Richland." The house was filled with mothers and children from the first of July until the middle of September, each party remaining for two weeks. They were cared for by deaconesses, assisted by two of the Training School students. The good results, spiritually, as well as physically, cannot be estimated. The lives of many are better and happier today, because of the days spent at "The Richland." The gospel songs and the prayers learned there are still being sung and repeated in many a home where before songs and prayers were unknown. The children are still talking about "that Rich place" and eagerly asking if they can go again next year. One poor colored woman who had not been out of the city for years, said recently, "Oh I had such a glorifful time—it makes my heart all swell up like every time I think about it." Besides the work at the Richland other children were sent out into the country to private homes where they were given several weeks' outing by friends of our work. About 750 children were taken into the country by the deaconesses. All this meant a hard summer's work for the deaconesses, but it was most satisfactory labor.

We are very grateful to our friends for the generous contributions to our Emergency Fund, and for the large supplies of vegetables, fruit, clothing and flowers which have been sent to the Home from all over New England, and have enabled us to greatly multiply our ministry to those who need it. We thank God for His rich blessings upon these means, and upon us who serve for Jesus' sake.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPHINE S. FISK.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL.

January 20, 1903.

With deep gratitude to God for His mercies during the year, I bring to you the Annual Report of the New England Bible Training School. I am able to give from the records, the full statistical report of the year's work. Other details of the work earlier than September 17th I am unable to give, as my work in the School began at the opening of the fall term.

I desire to mention what, to me, seems to indicate a remarkable interest on the part of our teachers. Most of them are ministers who have a great many demands upon their time, aside from their regular work, and all of them are busy people. Yet during the past four months there have been but a few instances in which the teachers have failed to meet their classes, and these failures were unavoidable. I have only to mention the teachers and their studies taught to show you that the young women of the Training School have every opportunity to obtain the best instruction in the different departments. Prof. H. C. Sheldon, Church History; Rev. G. S. Butters, Practical Theology; Rev. George Whitaker, Systematic Theology; Rev. C. E. Davis, General History; Rev. A. P. Sharp, Historical Books of Old Testament; Rev. George H. Spencer, Sociology; Rev. W. H. Morritt, Prophecy of Old Testament; Rev. T. Corwin Watkins, Life of Paul, the Apostle; Rev. J. P. West, Introduction to New Testament; Mr. R. S. Douglas, Life of Christ; Rev. F. J. McConnell, Ethics; Rev. S. C. Carey, Methods of Work; Mrs. Jennie D. Carey, M. D., Physiology and Hygiene; Miss Juliette Smith, Study of Missions; Prof. H. G. Mitchell, Illustrated Lectures on Egypt and Palestine; Rev. Dillon Bronson, Sunday School Lessons, together with the regular studies of the text books. We are having lectures upon many different phases of Christian work and life.

The number of students enrolled has been twenty-six. Two of these were not strong enough to continue their work. The twenty-four who have remained are doing faithful work. Examinations have been given by most of the teachers and with one or two exceptions the students have taken high rank in their studies. The students have been assigned to the following fields of labor:—Miss Belle Newman and Miss Lulu Huntley, People's Temple; Miss Margaret Forsythe, Tremont Street Church; Miss Mary E. Spencer, Baker Memorial, Dorchester; Miss Edith M. Moffatt, Winthrop Street Church; Miss Laura Buchanan and Miss Annie Goodwin, Ruggles Street Church; Miss Mabel Ridgeway, Appleton Church, Neponset; Miss Nora Cheney, Saint Andrews Church, Jamaica Plain; Miss Bessie Carty, Walnut Street, Chelsea; Miss Emma Wood, Mt. Bellingham, Chelsea; Mrs. Minnie Wilkinson, First Baptist Church, Lawrence; Miss Anna Catchings and Miss Lulu Mank, Merrimac St. Mission; Miss Maud Palmeter and Miss Amy Fenno, Italian Mission; Miss Elizabeth Springham, St. Mark's, Brookline; Miss Sadie Hagan and Miss Mamie Hosking, Morgan Memorial; Miss Emma Hahn and Miss Isabelle Robertson, University Settlement. The work of the students in these fields has been varied. The aim is to have them acquire a thorough training in house to house visitation, to adapt themselves to the needs of all classes of people whom they meet, and especially to elevate these people in their home life. Some are teachers in mission schools. Many of the most neglected ones in the city come under their care. At the Merrimac Street Mission, and the Italian Mission, two of the young women superintend the sewing schools and Mothers' Meetings. This work was entirely new to them when they entered upon it but they are doing bravely. One student conducts a boys' club each week at the University Settlement. Some are superintending kindergarten departments and Junior Leagues. Several are teaching in the Chinese Sunday Schools. Two of the students conduct each week gospel services in homes assigned by their pastors.

The following is the statistical report of the year:—

Missionary and other addresses made, 22; hours spent in teaching, 63; hours spent in office work, 642; hours spent in special work, 2,991; calls made, 4,778; occasions of prayer in calling, 1,144; occasions of Bible reading in calling, 392; papers, etc., distributed, 600; times teaching in Sunday School, 595; aggregate number taught in Sunday School, 2,124; aggregate number taught in mission school, 2,650; aggregate number taught in industrial school, 2,688; times conducting other children's meetings, 138; times conducting other religious meetings, 117; hours of study spent by students, 3,991; hours spent in class, 3,676. These figures tell but little of the actual work accomplished. Many hearts have been comforted; the aged and sick have been cheered; the sinning have been pointed to the Path of Life, and little children have been fed, clothed, and taught through the ministries of these young women.

Special mention should be made of the resident teacher, Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, who has done most excellent work in her department. Her long experience as a deaconess and her love for the work have been an inspiration and help to us all.

We have had no illness in our family during the four months of school for which we should unitedly praise the Lord.

Very respectfully submitted,

ORIANNA F. HARDING.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS HOSPITAL,

From January 20, 1902, to January 20, 1903.

The beginning of the year finds us in this department with a family of eleven, four of whom are deaconesses. There have been several changes during the year.

Early in February Miss Edith Smith, a pupil nurse, was compelled to ask for leave of absence on account of ill health.

By the advice of her physician, Miss Elizabeth Booker, after a most faithful and efficient service as superintending nurse for more than four years, resigned her position.

February 21st, Miss M. Alice Blazer, a graduate of Christ's Hospital, Cincinnati, became head nurse. She resigned her position early in May.

Miss Blazer was succeeded by Miss Sena S. Whipple, a graduate of Massachusetts General Hospital.

Miss Margaret Jones, after an absence of eight months, on account of ill health, returned to hospital duty as pupil nurse. Miss Ida M. McKay, Miss Susan Phillips, Miss Ellen K. Patterson, Miss Grace M. Lawrence, Miss Edith Smith, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Eleanor Burpee and Miss Amy G. Frizell have served in the hospital as pupil nurses. Miss Annette L. Lundwall, one of the deaconesses who has been longest in service, having entered the Home in 1891, and also one of the first to graduate in the N. E. Deaconess Hospital, in Boston, faithfully and efficiently serves as nurse in charge of the operating room, and the Superintendent, whose duties are varied, comprise our family.

One hundred and seventy-two patients have been admitted to the hospital during the past year. These with the thirteen in the hospital on January 21st, 1902, make the total number cared for during the year 185. Number of medical patients, 15; surgical, 170;—of these 20 were male, 165 female. Total number of days' service rendered, 4094. Average length of each patient's stay has been about twenty-three days. Number of patients admitted free, 49; number paying part, 32, full, 104. The aggregate value of free work done was $3,147.52. In aiding the sick poor, care has been taken not to encourage a spirit of pauperism.

Religious denominations have been represented as follows:

Advent, 1; Baptist, 28; Catholic, 16; Christian Church, 1; Christian Scientist, 1; Congregational, 24; Jewish, 2; Lutheran, 4; Methodist Episcopal, 66; Methodist Protestant, 6; no religion, 1; Presbyterian, 6; Protestant Episcopal, 13; Swedenborgian, 1; Unitarian, 6; Universalist, 9.

Patients have come to the Hospital from the following states: Connecticut, 2; Illinois, 2; Iowa, 1; Maine, 26; Massachusetts, 67; Minnesota, 1; Nebraska, 1; New Hampshire, 14; New Jersey, 1; New York, 6; Ohio, 2; Pennsylvania, 1; Rhode Island, 5; Texas, 1; Vermont, 6; Virginia, 3; Wisconsin, 3.

From other countries: Denmark, 1; England, 6; Germany, 2; Sandwich Islands, 1; Ireland, 3; Italy, 1; New Brunswick, 5; Newfoundland, 1; Nova Scotia, 14; P. E. Island, 3; Quebec, 2; Scotland, 2; Sweden, 2.

Occupations represented: Accountants, 3; architect, 1; assistant librarian, 1; at home, 103; at school, 5; box manufacturer, 1; clergymen, 1; deaconess district nurses, 2; domestics, 5; dressmakers, 6; employees in factory, 6; experienced nurses, 2; grocers, 2; housekeepers, 6; infant, 1; laundress, 1; machinist, 1; master mechanic in U. S. N., 1; matron N. E. Deaconess Home; music student, 1; music teacher, 1; post mistress, 1; pupil nurses in N. E. Deaconess Hospital, 2; salesmen, 2; saleswomen, 2; singing evangelist, 1; seamstress, 3; stock broker, 1; college students, 4; stenographers, 2; superintendent of Home for Aged Men, 1; teachers in private school, 2; teachers in public schools, 3; visiting deaconess, 1; trained nurses, 8; watchmakers, 1; and physician, 1.

These figures can convey but a small conception of what is being done in the hospital. It means the gospel of service twenty-four hours each day of the 4,094 Hospital days, many times requiring the most careful watching lest the flickering life should go out. To tell you that one hundred and eighty-one diseased bodies have been nursed back to health is not all. Diseased and sorrowing souls have found the Great Physician. There has come to them new life within the soul. Mothers in the struggle to provide bread for their babies have had to yield to disease, tired and discouraged they come to the hospital. They need more than the doctor's prescription administered at the stated times. They need the kind, loving grasp of the hand, the encouraging word, the whispered prayer. A patient who was about to leave the hospital, remarked, "I came here a church member, I am going out a Christian." Who can tell how far reaching the influence is! Seldom has a day passed without some message from a patient expressing gratitude to God for a Deaconess Hospital and to the nurses for the kind care and help to Christian living.

The Training School for Nurses has steadily progressed. The course of instruction during the year was as follows:—

Anatomy, two lectures, Dr. Lincoln Davis.

Physiology, two lectures, Dr. Wm. Harvey.

Nursing in fever cases, Dr. A. H. Powers.

Pathology, one lecture, Dr. Agnes Victor.

Materia Medica, two lectures, Dr. Maynard Ladd.

Diet, Dr. E. P. Joslin.

Bandaging and Splints, Dr. C. F. Painter and Dr. R. F. O'Neil.

Surgical Nursing, two lectures, Dr. Edward Garceau.

Surgical Nursing, two lectures, Dr. A. L. Chute.

Surgical Anatomy, two lectures, Dr. D. F. Jones.

Inflammation, two lectures, Dr. G. W. W. Brewster.

Asepsis, Antiseptic, Anesthesia, two lectures, Dr. Hugh Williams.

Obstetrics, three lectures, Dr. F. A. Higgins.

Obstetrics, one lecture, Dr. F. S. Newell.

Nursing in diseases of ear, one lecture, Dr. Geo. A. Webster.

Orthopedics, one lecture, Dr. James S. Stone.

Massage, twelve lessons, Miss Annette L. Lundwall.

Miss Ida McKay, Miss Susan Phillips, Miss Ellen K. Patterson, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Grace M. Lawrence, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Eleanor Burpee, were graduated during the year.

There have been twelve applicants for admission to the Training School for Nurses during the year, eight have been admitted to the hospital on probation, six were accepted. Since the opening of the school fifteen nurses have been graduated. Six of these are in, or connected with the deaconess work in Boston; two are in the Deaconess Home; one is in the Deaconess Home, Portland, Me.; and two are in the hospital. Miss Lawrence who was licensed and consecrated a deaconess at the last session of the New England conference, is now in the General Memorial Hospital, New York, taking a post-graduate course.

We wish to express our appreciation of the gratuitous service of physicians and surgeons to the work and workers in the Home and Hospital.

We are thankful for the past year. There has come the disappointment of not being in the New Hospital, but the time has not been misspent, The Lord has greatly strengthened the old friends and raised up new ones to help forward this Christlike work. The blessings of the past year have come to us in full measure. We are conscious of the abiding presence of the Lord Jesus Christ, whose we are and whom we endeavor day by day to serve.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS.

While this list is a complete list of all contributions, it is not a complete list of all contributors. Some pastors send remittances without sending the names of those who have previously subscribed. These we cannot acknowledge. Some say, "Do not use my name," and then forget that they have said it. Names are entered here only of those who have paid between March 16, 1902, and January 30, 1903.

THE CHARTER.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Be it known that, whereas William R. Clark, Isabella A. Cushing, Emma H. Watkins, Warren P. Adams, Charles Woodbury, Charles Parkhurst, William Nast Brodbeck and Harriet H. Warren have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School," for the purpose of training evangelistic workers in both home and foreign field, and utilizing the energies of Christian women in active religious work, and have complied with the provisions of the Statutes of this Commonwealth in such case made and provided, as appears from the certificate of the proper officers of said corporation, duly approved by the Commissioners of Corporations, and recorded in this office. Now, therefore, I, Henry B. Peirce, Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby certify that said W. R. Clark, Isabella A. Cushing, Emma H. Watkins, Warren P. Adams, Charles Woodbury, Charles Parkhurst, William Nast Brodbeck and Harriet H. Warren, their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as, and are hereby made, an existing corporation under the name of the "New England Deaconess Home and Training School," with the powers, rights and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions which, by law, appertain thereto.

Witness etc., HENRY B. PEIRCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

[CHAP. 204.]

AN ACT TO EXTEND THE POWERS OF THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS ASSOCIATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The New England Deaconess Home and Training School may, in addition to its other powers, provide a home for those needing refuge, care or shelter, and may make contracts therefor with such as are able to pay for the same, and devise and carry out plans for the protection, relief, education, and training of neglected, poor, sick or unfortunate persons.

Sect. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

IN THE YEAR ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND ONE.

AN ACT

To confirm certain Proceedings and to change the Name of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

All meetings whether for organization or for conducting its business after organization heretofore held by the New England Deaconess Home and Training School since its organization under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifteen of the Public Statutes, and all proceedings, votes and contracts of said corporation, all deeds from or to it, and all other acts and records of said corporation and of the officers thereof purporting or intended to have been done under its charter and in exercise of the franchise created thereby, shall be of the same validity and have the same force and effect as if said meetings had been regularly and properly called and holden, and the officers duly chosen in accordance with the by-laws adopted at the meeting held for the organization thereof.

Sect. 2 The name of the New England Deaconess Home and Training School is hereby changed to the New England Deaconess Association, and all gifts, grants, bequests and devices heretofore or hereafter made to said corporation under either of said names shall vest in said New England Deaconess Association.

GRADUATING CLASS OF NURSES, 1904

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

The Deaconess movement in the Methodist Episcopal Church is evidently of God. It advances by leaps and bounds.

That our Association has a part in this great movement, and that our own work is ever growing and widening in its influence, is a cause for profound gratitude to God.

Last summer your president and Miss Fisk, Superintendent of the Home, were permitted to attend a significant gathering of friends of the movement at Ocean Grove, held under the auspices of our Board of Bishops, which is the General Deaconess Board for the whole church. This gathering promised much for the unification of the Deaconess work.

The resignation last February of Rev. T. C. Watkins, D.D., as Corresponding Secretary, after over three years of devoted and efficient service, necessitated to some extent a reorganization of our work. Mr. R. S. Douglass, widely known in our New England Methodism and experienced in business, kindly consented to undertake the task of securing the representation of our cause in the Methodist churches of New England. This he has looked after with great efficiency. Rev. Jesse Wagner, a successful pastor of the New England Conference, accepted the position of Field Secretary in the interest of the Hospital, and has been wisely and carefully sowing the seed of what we trust will prove to be a most gratifying financial harvest.

Mr. H. D. Degen, our faithful treasurer, has spared neither time nor labor, nor has he thought any burden too great, for the progress of the work.

We are greatly blessed with an ever widening circle of sympathetic and helpful friends. Some of these are found on our Board of Managers and the Standing Committees, who give careful attention to important details.

Others are found on the Faculty of the Training School. Others are the eminent and generous physicians and surgeons whose skill and favor give to our Hospital its high reputation.

Others are members of the Deaconess Aid Society, which has been organized to give auxiliary assistance to our Board of Managers. This society kindly assumed the entire floating indebtedness, and held last November the great fair in Horticultural Hall.

To the Deaconesses themselves we are indebted most of all. Their Christ-like consecration and their wise and faithful labors constantly win for the Deaconess movement increasing favor everywhere. Eminent among these devoted servants of Christ are our superintendents, who have given further proof of special fitness for their respective positions by another year of efficient service.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all our friends in New England and elsewhere who have spoken or given, toiled or prayed for the success of the great work committed to our hands.

A new monthly, The Methodist Messenger, has been launched by the progressive cabinet of the First General District Epworth League. In each issue the interests of the Deaconess work will have generous space. We hope thus to enlist more friends than ever among the young people of New England.

The reports which follow will be read with interest. It will be noted with gratification that all six of the graduates of the Training School last summer proposed to become deaconesses, and that this year there are twenty-five students enrolled.

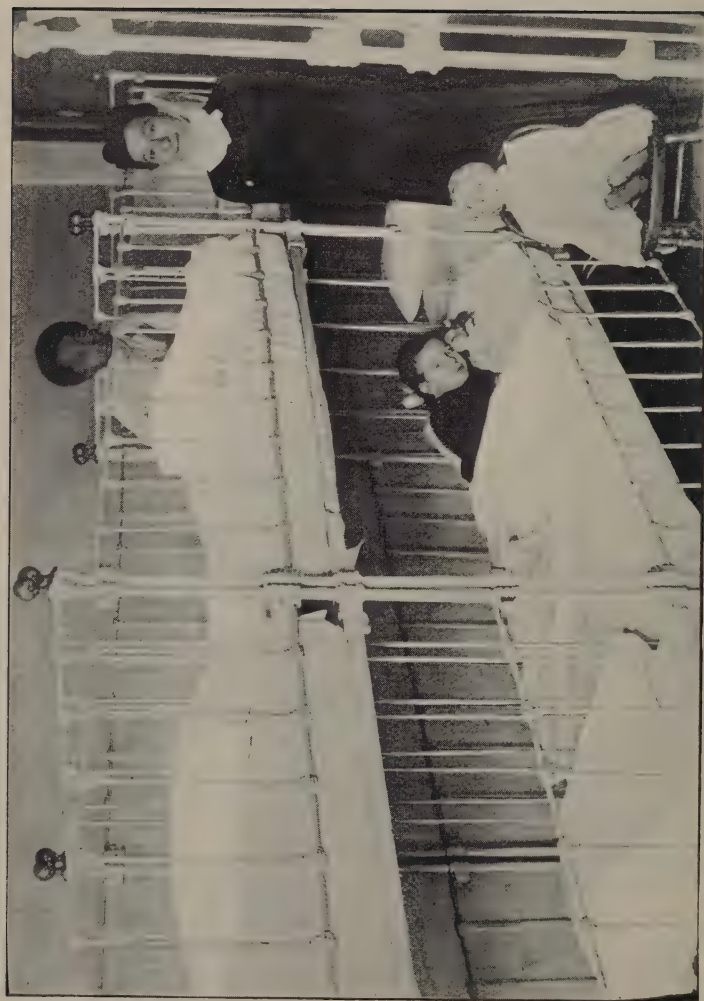

In the Home every room is occupied and our expectant superintendent has already spoken for the adjoining house now occupied by the Hospital, when the new building shall be erected. It is thrilling to find that out from the Home influences have been extending not only over New England, but also to far distant missionary fields.

The report of the superintendent of the Hospital reveals how thoroughly free our work is from sectarian or race prejudices, and also what a Christ-like charity is here conducted. Since the opening of the Hospital, Feb. 5, 1896, 44 per cent. of the patients have been cared for without charge or have paid only in part.

The present financial needs of the Hospital are most imperative, the demand for a new building most urgent. The present conditions in our cramped and inconvenient quarters are almost intolerable. The land has been purchased, plans have been drawn and the foundations of one wing of the new Hospital already put in. The corner-stone was laid November 5, 1903, by Gov. John L. Bates, with an address by Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., and other appropriate exercises.

The foundations call loudly for the superstructure. Everything thus far has been paid for, but now our funds are exhausted. We must have from $50,000 to $100,000 before we can go on to complete this wing. Somewhere God's stewards have this money for this is His work. Some must give largely. May every one do his share.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

The Workers. At the beginning of the year there were seventeen deaconesses, licensed and probationers, belonging to the Home. Elizabeth Wiles severed her connection with the work in May, and Norma H. Fenderich in June, the latter to go to a new field of labor in India.

Emma May Chisholm left the Home in September for a special course of study at Laselle, and has since accepted a call to work in China under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Anna Catchings, Bessie Carty, Jennie Chisholm, Bell Newman, Mary Spencer and Emma Wood graduated from the Bible Training School in June, and were accepted as probationary deaconesses and admitted to the Home. Bertha Deane, a graduate of the New York Training School, was also accepted as deaconess probationer. Jennie Chisholm was sent to Fall River, Mass., and is now a member of that Home. There are now twenty deaconesses belonging to the Home. The following are their names and field of work: ¹Edna B. Averill, field work and district nursing; Mary L. Andros, at her home in Bowdoinham, Me.; ²Clara M. Barber, Merrimac Street Mission; Ruth G. Barr, Trinity, Springfield, Mass; Sarah G. Blakely, after one and a half years in rescue work in Bangor, Me., returned to the Home in September and resumed district nursing. Miss Blakely will soon go to Fall River to assist in establishing a Deaconess Rescue Home in that city; ³Edna C. Brown, Morgan Memorial; Bessie Carty, Trinity, Worcester, Mass.; ⁴Anna Catchings, matron in the Home and Superintendent of New England Chinese Mission; ⁵Susie D. Colson, St. John's, South Boston, Mass.

Bertha Deane, Bangor, Me.; Emilie S. Freeman, served Saratoga street, E. Boston, until September, then was appointed to field work; ¹Josephine S. Fisk, Superintendent of Home; ²Caroline E. Hoxie, Italian Church and Portuguese Mission; Lettie M. Mason, general work in Lowell, Mass.; ¹Bell Newman, Morgan Memorial; ⁴Anna Raynes, district nursing; ⁴Mary Simester, Tremont Street Church; Mary Spencer, served church in Watertown until December 1st, then appointed to First Church, Somerville; Clara Wood, Chestnut street, Gardner, Mass.; ¹³Emma Wood, Stanton avenue, Boston; Ella C. Lathrop, from the Ohio Conference, came to us in November and was sent to St. Paul's Church, Manchester, N. H.

The Work. It is impossible to give in figures any adequate idea of the work of the year. About 18,000 calls have been made. Nearly 7,000 garments and 500 baskets of food have been distributed, and the bread of life has been carried to many hungry hearts. The sick poor have been nursed and comforted, the discouraged have been enheartened, wayward girls have been won to ways of purity, neglected children have been mothered, and several have been adopted into Christian homes through the agency of the Deaconess Home. Men and women have been brought into the church, drunkards have been saved, and broken families re-united.

Addresses, numbering 336, have been given in the interests of the Home, Training School and Hospital, and 374 evangelistic addresses have been given, and 625 other gospel services have been conducted. Several of the deaconesses conduct Industrial Schools, clubs, and Bible study classes.

In miscellaneous work 6,600 hours have been spent. This includes time spent in remodeling and trimming poor closet garments and hats; conferring with Associated Charities; attendance upon police courts; arranging for the placing of girls in Rescue Homes; children in asylums, and the sick in hospitals, taking those who require medical attention to infirmaries and dispensaries, and a variety of other duties, all of which are important.

About six months ago one of the district nurses found a little girl of four years who had never walked. The parents are very poor, and nothing had been done to find cause or remedy. The child was taken to a specialist, who agreed to treat her with promise of recovery. For several weeks the child was given hospital treatment, but many times she was carried in the arms of the deaconess to the doctor. The deaconess felt amply rewarded when at last the plaster casts were removed from the little limbs, and the delighted child was told that she could soon run and play like other children. This is only one of many cases where our district nurses have been a blessing to the neglected poor.

Emergency and Fresh Air Work. During the year $2,169.32 have been spent in this work. Nearly 1,300 mothers and children were given an outing by means of the Fresh Air Fund. "The Richland" was located at Hingham, Mass., this year, where the children enjoyed some of the benefits of both country and sea shore. During the months of July and August 316 mothers and children were here given each about two weeks' outing. The Newtonville Sunday School provided for all of the expenses of "The Richland." About 80 women and children spent a week at Beachmont, some of whom were the guests of Rev. M. R. Deming. A party of 20 mothers and babies were entertained at "The Mother's Rest" in Newton Centre. The Training School building was utilized for a few weeks during the summer vacation to give a party of young working girls a vacation. Here, under the care of a deaconess, they enjoyed a delightful rest. About 40 children were sent to private families in the country for a few weeks. A party of 18 children were taken to Barton, Vt. Two of the number, who were little homeless boys, were adopted by Christian people in that town. Many tired mothers with their little ones were given a day's outing at the parks or seashore. We are much gratified at the good results, physical and spiritual, which we see in those who share the benefits of our Fresh Air Work, and we are very thankful for the widening interest in, and increasing support for, this part of our work, and we hope that in the near future we shall have a permanent location for it.

From our Emergency Fund is paid the car-fares of our district nurses; food, fuel, medicine and clothing, when necessary, have been purchased. In many cases poor women, unemployed, who needed aid, have been given laundry and other work in the Home, and paid from the Emergency Fund.

Thanksgiving dinners were provided for about 80 families, besides providing a dinner for some children at the Italian Mission. In some cases, where there was sickness in the homes, the deaconesses cooked the dinners provided. Christmas of 1903 was a very happy one in the Deaconess Home. Generous supplies of money, clothing, books, dolls, and toys of all kinds were sent in by Sunday Schools, Epworth Leagues, and individuals from many parts of New England.

A club of Harvard College students entertained a party of our poor children, and sent them home laden with the fruit of a Christmas tree. A fraternity of Boston University girls had a Christmas tree, to which a deaconess and a party of little boys and girls were invited. A delightful time was enjoyed, and many substantial gifts were carried home by the little folks. We are greatly encouraged, as the circle of helpers widens each year, and we thank God for the friends who, from all parts of New England, have contributed to our Emergency Fund and other supplies for relief work.

Needs. During the past year we have realized increasingly the need of an enlargement of our Home. Every room is occupied, and more workers are needed to meet the demand. With our multiplied donations of vegetables, fruit and clothing, we should have store room. We should have an Industrial School and a Day Nursery. We desire an apartment that can be used for religious services, and where mothers can come and be taught to remodel and repair garments.

We must have the present Hospital building as soon as the new one is built. God speed the day!

With deep gratitude for all that has been accomplished, and with larger hopes and plans for future good, this report is

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPHINE S. FISK.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

It gives me pleasure to present to the members of the Corporation of the New England Deaconess Association the Annual Report of the Bible Training School from January 1, 1903, to January 1, 1904.

At the beginning of the year there were 24 students in the school—six in the senior class, 18 in the junior.

The graduating exercises of the school were held May 28 in Tremont Street Church, when six received their diplomas from the school.

All of the graduates were received as probationary deaconesses, and have been assigned work. At the opening of the present school year 14 returned to take the second year's work.

One entered the hospital to train for a deaconess nurse. Another is studying at Tilton Seminary this year, with the purpose of fitting herself to take up the second year's work. Eleven entered the junior class this year, making the present enrollment 25.

The school has one resident deaconess teacher, Miss Ellen L. Hibbard. The following outside teachers have been our instructors during the year :

Prof. H. C. Sheldon, Prof. H. G. Mitchell, Rev. G. S. Butters, Rev. G. H. Spencer, Rev. E. J. Helms, Rev. Dillon Bronson, Rev. Geo. Whitaker, Rev. N. T. Whitaker, Rev. F. C. Haddock, Rev. W. H. God has prospered the work of the school during the past year, blessing the efforts put forth by the Training School committee and other friends for this branch of the work. It is in large measure due to the efforts of members of the committee, who have interested outsiders also, that money has been raised to support students who could not otherwise avail themselves of the advantages offered by the school.

In all the departments the teachers have been faithful. The school owes much to these talented men and women who so generously give of their time, their mental and spiritual wealth and practical experience of life for the enrichment of the minds and hearts of the students, and their complete training for Christian service.

We offer sincere thanks to all who have in any way aided in the work of the school, and trust for God's blessing upon our future labors together.

Respectfully submitted,

ORIANNA F. HARDING.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

History. In February, 1896, a dwelling house on Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, Mass., was purchased and opened as a Hospital with Miss Mary E. Lunn, a Deaconess, as superintendent. For a long time there had been need of a place where the comforts of a home might be had, and where could be felt the warmth and sweetness of a devotion that makes pain more easily borne.

There was needed also a place in which to train the District nurses, whose work is one of the characteristic features of the Deaconess movement. From house to house in the neediest sections of the city these trained and consecrated women go in their ministry of healing, taking to homes of want and suffering precisely the same skilled and loving care that is given within the hospital itself. From the day the doors of this hospital were opened to the present time its capacity has been severely tested. With only fourteen beds it has treated and cared for 1344 patients, and from the whole number only thirty-five have died. This is a remarkable record.

Management. The hospital administration is quite unlike that of other institutions of a similar character.

There is no regular staff of physicians, or resident physician. The immediate government is committed to a committee and a superintendent. A board of ladies and gentlemen maintain a careful supervision over all its affairs.

Physicians of recognized standing can bring patients and treat them as exclusively as in the patient's own home. When patients are admitted who have no physician, the services of many of the best physicians and surgeons are available. The hospital provides the attendance of skillful nurses, food and a kindly home welcome; and sympathy.

GRADUATE NURSES

Work of the Year. As the hospital was closed for repairs during the month of August, patients were not admitted from July 21st to September 1st.

This report dates from January 20th to December 31st, 1903. Deducting the 40 days for closing the hospital, gives 10 months or 304 days for the admission of patients, which makes the statistical figures less than the previous year.

The longest stay of any one patient in the hospital was 96 days, the shortest stay was seven hours. The average length of each patient's stay in the hospital 20 1-2 days.

The number of days of free patients, 990; part price, 638; full price, 2042. The aggregate value of free work was $2378.40; at part price $1207.31, for which $775.77 was paid, a rebate of $431.55. Forty-one free days have been spent in outside nursing and 79 1-2 days which netted the hospital $123.54. In district nursing 118 hours have been spent for which the hospital received $22.15.

The Training School for Nurses opened with Miss Frizell, Miss McLaughlin, Miss Bonner, Miss Drummer, Miss Thorpe, and Miss Gregory as pupil nurses, and two probationers. Miss Lundwall had charge of the operating room. May 15 Miss Lawrence, a graduate of our own school succeeded Miss Whipple as head nurse, and Superintendent of nurses. Miss Lundwall was granted leave of absence for one year to attend school at Tilton to take effect September 14, 1903. Since September 1st two pupil nurses, Miss McLaughlin in charge and Miss Thorpe as assistant, have given efficient service in the operating room work. There have been twelve applications for admission to the Training School for Nurses. Six have been admitted on probation, two accepted as pupil nurses, and one is still on probation. Miss Edith A. Smith was graduated and received a diploma September 3, 1903.

The length of time for training in nursing has been changed from two to three years, including the probation months, and giving six months to nursing outside the hospital. The age limit was also fixed from 22 to 35. ✓

A six months' course of instruction in Anatomy is given by Dr. M. P. Putnam. Also a similar course in Physiology is given by Miss Blake. The art of nursing the sick is taught by the Superintendent and head nurse.

The following course of lectures was given :

A free course of six lectures on cooking was given by Miss Nellie Ewart, as a donation to the hospital. The cost would have been $30.00.

We wish to express our appreciation of the gratuitous service of physicians and surgeons to the work and workers.

Thanksgiving and Christmas brought to the hospital happiness and good cheer. Six of the patients were present at the Christmas tree but only two of them were able to be out of bed, however, their beds were arranged so that they could see the tree ladened with the gifts of friends for both patients and nurses.

Interesting Incidents. It is impossible to give the details of the work done. Those who would know them must watch with the faithful nurse in daily and hourly ministration the delicate and difficult cases which demand the greatest care and watchfulness, her loving, sympathetic interest in the sufferer during anxious days and weary nights. Such experiments are not sentimental but real, personal. To many they may seem trifling, but to the helpless and suffering they are momentous.

A little incident in connection with a case of outside nursing will show how this service was appreciated. The pressure of hospital work made it necessary for the nurse to return after caring for the patient two weeks. A few weeks after she returned, a relative of the patient came to the hospital and asked if the same nurse could again care for his aunt. He said she could not live, her mind was not clear, but she positively refused to have any person do anything for her, but, "That Deaconess Hospital Nurse."

A dear woman having suffered much and been treated by many different physicians who failed to give relief came under the care of one of our best surgeons who brought her to the hospital. Her disease was unyielding, and at one time it did seem as if she would "cross over" but God blessed the means used and she is completely restored to health. She had not been with us many days when the Holy Spirit brought deep conviction, and in the great agony of soul she said my physical suffering is as nothing, it does not trouble me, but O how must my sin diseased soul appear to God! Will He accept me? In a quiet hour with one of God's servants kneeling at her bedside Jesus spoke peace to her soul. Since that time she has not ceased to praise God and to praise Him for the Deaconess Hospital.

A poor woman who had been an invalid for three years, with a drunken husband and four small children, was in great need of care and treatment. The pastor of the Methodist Church in the town where she lived sent a letter to the Deaconess Hospital asking to have her admitted; he then called his people together for special prayer for the case. The result was that the same train which brought the mother to the hospital brought also two of the children to the Little Wanderers' Home.

With deep gratitude we acknowledge the goodness of God in the year just closed. Blessings unmeasured have come to us. May His blessing be upon the work of the hospital, that has been done this past year and upon all who have in any way contributed to it.

REPORT OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE

BUILDING COMMITTEE

Henry D. Degen, *Chairman*Dr. C. C. Bragdon
Mrs. J. W. Cushing
Arthur E. DennisSilas Peirce
Wm. T. Rich
Mrs. A. L. Rand

At the meeting of the Association held one year ago, very little could be reported beyond the purchase of the land and some preliminary work toward the new building. During the year just closed the foundations have been completed, the stone underpinning set and the iron work for the basement story has been put in place. The corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremonies on Nov. 5th by Governor Bates and an address by Dr. J. M. Buckley of New York.

In view of the fact that subscriptions to the building fund were coming in so slowly it was not deemed advisable to proceed further with the work at present and so the foundations were carefully covered to protect them from the severe winter weather. The committee will gladly push the work forward as fast as circumstances will allow, but do not feel authorized to contract a large debt until something more is in sight to meet their obligations.

The contract for the general work has been awarded to G. W. Harvey, of Boston. His estimate for the building complete is $69,242.00. This is exclusive of the heating and plumbing, contracts for which have not been awarded.

This amount is arrived at as follows:

Original bid, February 26, 1903	$70,168.07
- This owing to the advance in material between the time the bid was given and the time when work was started, was increased to	78,163.00

The three divisions being as follows:

1. Concrete foundations 7,024.00
2. To complete outside of building and put in fireproof floors and windows 53,978.00
3. To complete the inside finish 17,161.00

Or total of $78,163.00

The first section of the contract has been completed.
This amounted to	$7,024.00
To which were added certain concrete walls, amounting to	417.00
Deducting this from the contract makes	7,441.00
Leaving a balance to complete the building	$70,722.00
From this the following deductions have been authorized :
Area fence on front and sides	350.00
Elevator grilles and staircase finish simplified	1,800.00
Making a total deduction of	2,150 00
Leaving.	$68,572.00
To this the following additions have been authorized :
Extra fire escape and doors required by Building Commissioner	670.00
Making a total of	$69,242.00
The total amount expended for land and buildings to date is as follows :
Paid for land	26,500.00
Architect on account	1,100.00
Removing old building and placing on new foundations, excavating for hospital building, surveying, etc.	3,950.03
G. W. Harvey on account of contract for new building, including foundations complete and steel work for basement	12,240.00
Grading around old building, pointing wall, laying drains, etc.	254.55
Total amount expended to date	$44,044.58

EDITOR OF THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS JOURNAL

Miss Ellen L. Hibbard

1904 GRADUATING CLASS — TRAINING SCHOOL

INTRODUCTION

BY THE PRESIDENT, WILLARD T. PERRIN

The report of our devoted treasurer shows that our Budget calls for an annual expenditure of some $17,000. This suggests the growing proportions of our work. The records, however, of God's angels, who note the giving of a cup of water, alone can reveal its real value.

The fidelity of the members of our Board of Managers, in monthly meeting and upon the various committees, has made our success possible. It is a joy to be associated with such noble-hearted men and women.

We rejoice in the prosperity of our Training School under the efficient superintendency of Miss Harding. Thanks are due to the painstaking instructors, whose services are greatly appreciated. A Students' Fund, started this year, is worthy of generous support.

Miss Josephine S. Fisk, upon whom so many burdens have rested, has been compelled temporarily to give up her work as Superintendent of the Home, and through the kindness of friends has been seeking recuperation upon the sea and in balmy Italy. We hope soon to welcome her back fully restored.

Miss Edna C. Brown has acceptably discharged the delicate responsibilities of Superintendent since Miss Fisk's departure. Miss Brown's report indicates the wide scope of the Home's influence, whose deaconesses find fields of activity not only in our own vicinity, but also in other cities, some even as distant as Bangor, Me. The fresh-air work is growing. "Richland" rouses enthusiasm in hundreds of hearts among the humble poor. May God richly bless those who generously maintain it!

How unsectarian is the management of our Hospital is plainly shown by the report of Miss Betts, who, in the sweetness of the spirit of Christ, graciously presides over its affairs. Here in the atmosphere of Christian love patients are nursed back to health and brought into the peace of God. That the Hospital is accomplishing its deaconess mission is evident from the incidents given in Miss Betts' report. It is to be noted that in point of nativity more than one-half of the patients have come from outside of Massachusetts, and that thirty-nine are from other New England States. The "Hospital Helpers" are most welcome to our list of co-laborers.

The Deaconess Journal, carefully edited by Miss Ellen L. Hibbard, finds its way into many homes scattered far and wide, carrying inspiration and winning friends.

We are pained to record the death of Mr. Albert M. Williams, Vice-President of our Association, and one of its most ardent supporters.

Rev. Jesse Wagner, after enlisting the interest of scores of persons in our enterprise, deemed it best to resign his official position. We look for much substantial fruitage from his intelligent and earnest efforts.

During the first nine months of this Conference year, under the direction of Mr. R. S. Douglass, whose correspondence has necessarily been extensive, our deaconess work has been presented, chiefly by deaconesses, in 242 New England churches. Over $3,000 were thus collected, but a larger harvest of students and of financial aid may be expected from these presentations.

The vigor of our Deaconess Aid Society is a constant joy. These energetic women have already paid $3,500 of the $4,000 indebtedness assumed, and have brought good cheer to various departments of our work by their prompt provision of needed supplies. On this Society we are encouraged to rely for strong support in the strenuous work just ahead of us.

The Deaconess Aid Circle also, in its measure, has not been lacking in praiseworthy achievements.

A plan of reorganization, to place the Association upon a firmer and more satisfactory basis, is under careful consideration, and will soon be presented for adoption. We bespeak for the success of this important movement the hearty co-operation of all involved.

The delay in the publication of this Annual Report enables us to announce the recent election, as Corresponding Secretary of the Association, of Mr. Theodore A. Hildreth, a gentleman eminently qualified for this position.

The leadership thus secured, the news of a recent large subscription and of a bequest of $1,000, — the evident will of God that our new Hospital shall be built and our work developed — all these things thrill us with the hope that we are entering upon a new era of achievement.

Upon the personal consecration to Jesus Christ of earnest young women is our whole work based. For its highest success this spirit must possess all connected with it.

ARRANGING FOR DISTRIBUTION OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

DEACONESS HOME.

Looking back over the past year we say with grateful hearts, "What hath God wrought?" We have had some sickness, some hard places and some discouragements, but the sunshine has far exceeded the shadow. Our work has grown, for while at this time last year we had twenty deaconesses, we now have twenty-five, and we yet have several calls that we cannot fill. Fifteen of these deaconesses are licensed and ten are probationers. Amy F. Fenno, Sadie A. Hagen, Emma Hahn, Lula Huntley, Lulu V. Mank, Mabel H. Ridgway and Elizabeth Springham came to us the last year, after graduating from the Deaconess Training School. These twenty-five women, whose highest ambition is to serve humanity and bring it a little nearer the ideal of Jesus Christ, have worked in the following fields:

Mary L. Andros, who has been at home on account of ill health, returned to work November 1st, and is now at Merrimac Street Mission; ¹Edna B. Averill served Baker Memorial Church two months, and as Superintendent of the Hospital one month. She has done district nursing and field work at other times; ²Clara M. Barber, Merrimac Street Mission — out now on leave of absence; Ruth G. Barr, Trinity Church, Springfield; Sarah G. ³Blakeley, district nurse till July, when she resumed her work in the Rescue Home in Bangor, Me.; ⁴Edna C. Brown, Morgan Memorial till October, acting Superintendent of the Home since; Bessie Carty, Trinity Church, Worcester; ⁵Jennie Chisholm, Day Nursery for the summer, Stoneham Church since; ⁶Susie D. Colson, St. John's Church, South Boston; Amy F. Fenno, field work from graduation till November, Hyde Park Church since; ⁷Josephine S. Fisk, Superintendent of Home, resting in Italy since October; ⁸Emilie S. Freeman, field worker; Sadie A. Hagen, rescue work in Bangor, Me., July to November, Caribou, Me., Church since; ⁹Caroline E. Only eternity can reveal the results of this work. Two incidents may illustrate something of what is being done :

One day the district nurse was asked to call at a certain place to see a sick woman. She found her in a truly pitiable condition. She had had no care, except such as two boys, six and nine years old, could give her. Her hair had not been combed and the nails on the claw-like hands were fully two inches long ; while on the poor sick, suffering body were literally layers of dirt. The nurse investigated and found that the little boys slept on a pile of old rags in a little room with no window. She found almost nothing to work with, but after awhile the poor woman was made clean and comfortable. She has said to the nurse since, "Oh, I am so afraid to die," and so the opportunity came to tell her of the One who takes away all fear.

A deaconess, calling one day on a certain street, found a family, who were strangers in Boston, and she asked them to attend her church and Sunday School. The children came to Sunday School, and for a number of months she called on the family, seemingly accomplishing nothing beyond establishing friendly relations. They seemed in comfortable circumstances, but one day the father came to the Home, and asking for the deaconess, said : "I have not a friend in this city unless you will be one. I have been out of work all winter, but have never before asked aid. Now my wife and children are destitute. I'll do any kind of work — just anything."

From the Emergency Fund food and fuel were provided, and the family cheered and encouraged through their hard time. Very soon the man found work, repaid all loans, and moved his family to a better locality. Best of all, he began to attend church with his wife, and both were converted and the home was thoroughly transformed. "I owe all this to you," he said to the deaconess, "for had you not helped me when I came to you I should have gone to destruction."

The past summer 419 people had an outing of two weeks or more, besides a large number that were taken for a single day each.

Our "fresh air" location in Hopkinton was almost ideal. With large, roomy houses, clear spring water, 70 acres of meadow and woodland to roam over, and no near neighbors to be disturbed, the children of the "Richland" and Day Nursery had a happy time. Two hundred and eighty-four poor women and children enjoyed the hospitality of the "Richland" for two weeks each. The 38 nursery children remained two months. The Worcester people enabled their deaconess, Miss Carty, to give a two weeks' outing to 32 people. Invitations came to the Home for 65 to spend two weeks, or more, in private families. One small four-year-old stamped his foot when he was brought home, and for hours resolutely refused to enter the dingy alley where he lived. We know not what harvest may be garnered in after years from tiny seeds dropped into heart gardens during these weeks in the country, but we do know that great good, physical and spiritual, has already resulted.

The Newtonville Sunday School again provided for all the expenses of the "Richland." We sincerely thank them and the many other friends who have so generously helped us in all our work.

At the Thanksgiving season and again at the glad Christmas-tide, substantial blessings poured in from churches, women's societies, Epworth and Junior Leagues and other organizations, as well as from individual friends, and we in turn were able to bring happiness and comfort to many.

On Christmas Eve a bountifully laden tree was provided in the Home for about 50 of our poorest boys and girls, with a very few of their parents. And happy children went forth a little later hugging rapturously dolls, games, books or toys, while several poor, hard-working women felt their hearts grow warm as their tenements did later by the coal orders one thoughtful friend had provided.

The deaconesses also carried out many Christmas gifts and dinners, as well as baskets of fruit and bouquets of flowers for the sick, helped in many Christmas preparations in church or mission, and chaperoned eighty children who went as invited guests to different Christmas festivities.

All during the year the demands upon the Emergency Fund for food, fuel, medicine and supplies of all kinds are almost countless, but the loving Father, through His children, has seen that this fund has never been exhausted. And all during the year, also, supplies of clothing, bedding, fruit, vegetables and flowers have enabled us to carry on our work of ministering to the sick and the destitute. Whenever practicable, work of some kind has been provided as the truest way of helping needy families.

Among other beneficent works, the Rescue Home in Bangor, Me., deserves mention. Three of our workers are giving themselves unsparingly to this effort to uplift wayward and lost girls to true and pure womanhood. That God has most signally blessed their efforts may be seen in the record that of the forty-five girls who have been in the Home since its opening only three have gone back to an impure life.

Last February our dearly beloved district nurse, Miss Raynes, was called home by the death of her mother. Her duties have been in her own home since, but all who have ever been privileged to know her know that she is a true deaconess and will always carry the spirit of service and helpfulness to others wherever she is.

Lowell has been called to give up both her deaconesses for a time at least. Miss Springham has been ill. Miss Mason has started for her new field in Africa, and we pray she may help to bring the Light to that "dark continent."

We have missed the wise and loving counsel of our dear Miss Fisk, but have rejoiced in the assurance that she is regaining strength and health and gaining yet higher ideals and inspiration for the work so near her heart under the sunny skies of Italy.

A deaconess day nursery is much needed in our locality, and scarcely a day goes by that some one of our family does not express our crying need for larger quarters where we can carry on industrial and other philanthropic work.

With the earnest desire that some of these agencies for the advancement of the Master's kingdom may be put in operation during the year upon which we are now entering, this report is

Respectfully submitted,

EDNA C. BROWN, Acting Supt.

DEACONESS TRAINING SCHOOL

We render thanks to our Heavenly Father for the prosperity of the past year.

We have had 38 young women as students, fourteen of whom graduated in May. Of this number nine entered visiting deaconess work and are now stationed in different parts of New England.

One entered our Hospital as deaconess nurse, and another is a regular worker in the Baptist Church. Three under-graduates have also secured positions, one as a visitor in the Baptist Church ; another as Assistant Secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, in Lawrence ; a third is engaged as a regular teacher and visitor for the Industrial Home in Dorchester.

Of the remaining number 16 are looking forward to deaconess work.

We have been fortunate in securing good teachers for all of the studies. The majority of the students have done excellently in their studies, as well as in the churches and missions.

Much of the housekeeping has always been assigned to the students, but this year they have cheerfully given more time than usual, which has rendered it unnecessary to hire a cook.

The students have served in 17 different churches and two missions. They have averaged 400 calls a month. Seven of the students are superintendents of junior leagues. They have brought many children into the Sunday-School.

In all their service the students have learned that "not to be ministered unto but to minister" is the secret of all power, peace and growth.

Many of the young women would have been unable to attend the School had it not been for the interest shown by the members of the Training School Committee, who have raised this year between $450 and $500 for the support of students. Through the efforts of the Deaconess Aid Society a Students' Fund has been established and $103 has already been paid toward the support of the School.

The following were the instructors during the year: Rev. G. S. Butters, Rev. W. H. Meredith, Rev. A. P. Sharp, Rev. F. C. Haddock, Rev. R. T. Flewelling, Rev. T. C. Watkins, Rev. Geo. Whitaker, Rev. N. T. Whitaker, Rev. W. W. Guth, Mr. R. S. Douglass, Rev. J. P. Chadbourne, Rev. G. S. Chadbourne, Rev. R. P. Walker, Rev. J. D. Pickles, Rev. James P. Mudge, Rev. Alexander Dight, Rev. Chas. W. Blackett, Rev. J. H. Thompson, Rev. C. W. Holden, Miss Juliette Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Eyestone.

List of studies taught: Junior Class—Historical Books of Old Testament, Prophecy of Old Testament, Life of Christ, Life of Paul, Pauline Epistles, Introduction to New Testament, Practical Theology. Senior Class—Christian Ethics, Sociology, Systematic Theology, Church History, History of Methodism, Poetical Books of Bible, Physiology and Home Nursing.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL

Superintendent's Report for Year Ending December 31, 1904

History. In a dwelling house at 691 Massachusetts Avenue, the Hospital was opened Feb. 5, 1896, with 14 beds.

Since that time 1,529 patients have been cared for and but 40 have died, although many of the cases were very critical and some were admitted to the Hospital in a dying condition. ✓

Object. The object of the Hospital is to give to those who need it the opportunity to avail themselves of the best medical and surgical aid, and at the same time to enjoy the comforts of a Christian home, with that atmosphere of devotion which soothes the sufferer and so materially aids in restoration to health.

Its aim also is to train young women who wish to give their lives to nursing, preference being given to those applicants who purpose to become deaconess nurses.

Management. Unlike most hospitals, there is no resident physician and no regular staff.

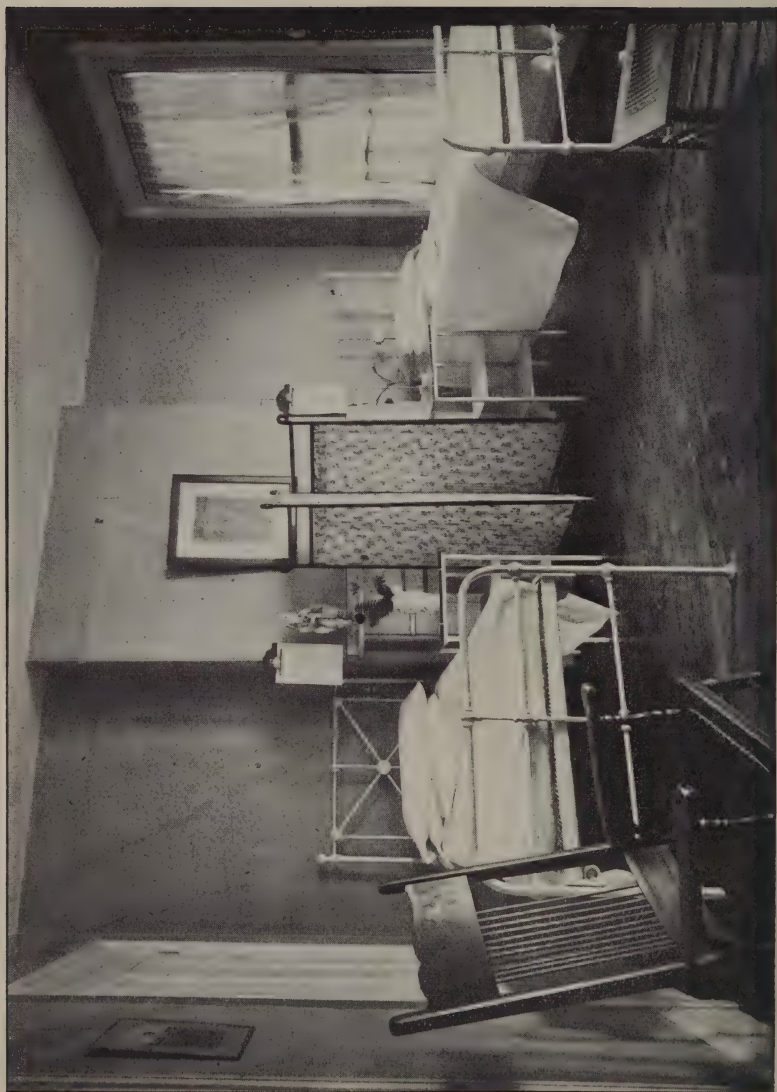

The management is entrusted to a committee composed of ladies and gentlemen, and the detail work to the Superintendent, under the careful supervision of the Board of Managers.

Admission of Patients. All applicants must be recommended by a physician, and, when coming from outside the city, an entrance diagnosis must accompany every application.

In addition to these requirements, any person who wishes to enter as a free patient must be vouched for by some person acceptable to the Hospital Committee, who will state that neither the patient nor his friends are able to pay the regular fee.

Sources of Support. The Hospital is supported by many agencies, both public and private.

In response to the presentation of the work by deaconesses and others, contributions are made by churches, societies connected with them, and by individuals throughout New England.

A WARD IN PRESENT HOSPITAL

Among the most zealous promoters of Hospital work are the Deaconess Aid Society, the Deaconess Aid Circle and the Hospital Helpers' Circle.

Nursing. The nursing is done by pupil nurses, under careful supervision.

Young women between the ages of 22 and 35, of high moral character and refinement, and possessing a high school education, are eligible to enter the Training School for Nurses.

Review of Year's Work. The Hospital family at present consists of Superintendent, head nurse, 8 pupil nurses, cook, second girl and laundress.

January 1st, 1904, there remained in the Hospital 10 patients, and during the year 185 have been admitted; 12 were males and 183 females, 116 married and 79 single.

The longest stay of any one patient was 120 days, the shortest 5 hours, and the average stay 21 days.

The number of days' service rendered was 4,094; free, 1,259; part price, 693; full price, 2,142.

The aggregate value of Hospital work was $9,003.14. Of this the free work amounted to $3,097.90; at part price, $1,369.63, for which $776.40 was paid, a rebate of $547.23.

The nurses have spent 66 1-2 days in outside and district nursing, for which $60.47 was received by the Hospital, the value of free outside work being $123.41.

During the year there were 157 surgical operations, 78 major and 79 minor.

There were 183 patients discharged, 84 well, 82 relieved, 7 not improved, 5 not treated and 5 died, 12 remaining in the Hospital December 31, 1904. One hundred and seventy-one of that number were surgical, 24 medical.

Interesting Incidents. One evening two women came to the Hospital to tell about a poor woman they had found during their afternoon's visits. She was housekeeper in a family, had been ill for several days, and her doctor said that she must have complete rest and good care. She had no home, no money, and the dread of entering a great charitable institution greatly aggravated her nervous symptoms.

Three years ago her husband died, leaving her penniless, with a young son dependent upon her for support. She was admitted early the following morning, and when placed in a clean, white bed and made comfortable for the day, her gratitude was beautiful to see. Later developments showed that she had a malignant disease, and there could be no hope of recovery. She remained with us four months and then went home to heaven.

She always met her visitors with a sunny smile, and often expressed her gratitude that in her last days she could be cared for in a home-like place, surrounded by those who loved her and treated her as a sister.

One day there came to us a young woman who was in great need of surgical aid. Hers was a serious operation, and for days she hovered near the dark valley; but God honored the skill of the surgeon and the untiring devotion of the nurses, and slowly but surely she was restored to health.

Almost from the very first she suffered great distress of mind because, as she said, her life had been wasted in selfishness, bringing no peace of mind to her own soul, nor any helpful influence over the lives of others.

She felt that she could never go back to her old, aimless life, but must live more in accordance with her newly-awakened ideals. Christian nurses and patients spoke the kind, helpful words at every opportunity, and finally one night as one of God's children prayed by her bedside, the light of her heavenly Father's presence shone in the darkened soul; great peace replaced the restless, anxious doubting, and rest came in the knowledge of sins forgiven. She went from us a changed woman, the light of His presence in her face, the peace of Christ in her soul, carrying with her the atmosphere of helpfulness. She does not understand how anybody could remain very long in the Hospital and not become a Christian.

One of the ex-patients said recently: "I shall never forget the loving, faithful care I received in your Hospital."

"Another in her letter said: "I am sure that I could have lived the Christian life with you in the Hospital, but tell me can I be a Christian in my own home?"

Another writes: "This is the anniversary of my operation in your Hospital, and I could not refrain from writing to those among whom some of my happiest days were spent."

And still another writes, when sending his check in payment of care received: "Dollars and cents will never pay for the work you are doing there."

The Christmastide brought to the Hospital much of the season's cheer, and around the Christmas tree were gathered the present Hospital family, several of the former graduates and four patients, only three of whom could see the beautiful, well-laden tree, because one had bandages over her eyes and had to see through the eyes of others, but all were glad and happy.

Training School for Nurses. Our Training School opened with nine pupil nurses, and during the year four have graduated.

Seven have been received on probation and six accepted as pupil nurses.

Miss Zilla McLaughlin, a graduate of our own school, succeeded Miss Laurence as head nurse.

A course of instruction in Anatomy is given by Dr. H. O. Marcy, Jr., and a course in Physiology by Dr. F. M. Morris.

Again Miss Nellie Ewart has given a course of six lectures in Invalid Cookery as a donation to the hospital.

Lectures have been given on the following subjects: Anatomy, Bacteriology, Bandaging, Obstetrics, Asepsis and Antiseptics, Anesthetics, Pathology, Orthopedics, Surgical Diseases, Wounds, the Eye and Ear.

We wish to express our gratitude to those physicians and surgeons who have so freely given their time and service.

A HOMELESS WAIF

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES

NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS AID SOCIETY

One of the many pleasant occasions in the history of the New England Deaconess Aid Society was on Tuesday, January 3, when, by invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Graffam, the annual meeting was held at their home in Malden. The annual reports from all departments of the work presented a most encouraging outlook. Perhaps the most interesting item in the secretary's report was the note of increase in membership, 500 names at present being enrolled, besides 20 life-members. As a means to an end, much attention has been devoted during the year to the social side of the work. Helpful in this have been the gatherings in the homes of some of the members. The first, in March, at Mrs. Wilbur's home in Brookline, the second at Mrs. Priest's, Malden, in June, and the September meeting, an all-day pleasure, with Mr. and Mrs. Washburn at Green Lodge. In October, the Ladies' Aid, of Everett, entertained the society in the church parlors, and in December the mite-box holders were invited to Mrs. McQuestin's home in Brookline, when those privileged to be present spent a most delightful afternoon. Mrs. Herbert Noble, mite-box agent, reported about $80 received from the mite-boxes, with 400 still in circulation. The treasurer's report showed that the amount of $1,638 has been expended of the $1,680 received, $200 of this having been devoted to the smaller needs in the Home, Hospital and Training School, and but $400 of the debt assumed remains to be paid. Prominent in the record of the year was the recent Rummage Sale, which netted $535.54. It was voted at this meeting that all money coming from the mite-boxes, from date, should be reserved for a Hospital Fund, a specific purpose for its use to be defined later. It was also voted that the Society should hold a sale in December. The thought of a Deaconess Mite Society was presented for later consideration and discussion. The report of the nominating committee resulted in the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. F. A. Patterson, Everett; vice-president, Mrs. A. G. Barber, Newton; recording secretary, Miss S. Gertrude Mayo, Lynn; corresponding secretary, Miss Adelaide B. Slack, Malden; treasurer, Mrs. George B. Law, Lynn; auditor, Mrs. Herbert E. Noble, Malden.

The officers wish to express their thanks to those who have helped to make the monthly meetings successful; among them Dr. Perrin, Rev. F. E. E. Hamilton, Rev. Jesse Wagner, Rev. G. R. Grose, Miss Betts, Miss Harding and Miss Fiske.

The ladies are convinced that the past months have paved the way for growth and increased usefulness in the coming year.

S. GERTRUDE MAYO,
Recording Secretary.

DEACONESS AID CIRCLE

Five years ago the first meeting of the Deaconess Aid Circle, a society then composed of only six young ladies, was held at the Deaconess Home, and the constitution for this new society drawn up.

Since then various changes have come to the Circle, but it still has as its aim the object for which it was primarily formed—to help the deaconesses at the Home and Hospital by sewing on such articles as they may find necessary for their work, and for helping in any other way which may appeal to the Circle's sympathy and judgment.

We have now a list of twenty-three members. We hope that by January, 1906, our membership may still be increased by others, who, knowing of our work, will be glad to join our number.

In addition to our deaconess sewing during the past year, we have resumed our responsibility of clothing Martha Wentworth, the little foster child of the deaconesses.

In 1901, while Martha was living here in the East, the Circle took all care of providing her clothing, but on her removal to the Deaconess Orphanage at Lake Bluff, Ill., it did not seem feasible to continue the responsibility. This decision was modified when, last January, a letter came from Miss Judson, Superintendent of the Orphanage, telling of Martha's dependence on the Circle's interest, and we again very gladly resumed the care of providing her with the necessary clothing for last spring, and again this last fall with a winter outfit.

The table linen and towels which the Circle bought and marked with the D. A. C. initials were returned at the fall meeting and taken to the Hospital, where they were very much appreciated.

With the new year it has been voted to try a new place of meeting, having our regular business meeting as a more social time, to be held at the homes of the different members. A work committee has been appointed to plan and have sewing ready for distribution at each meeting, each member to do her share and return the work at the succeeding meeting.

At each of these monthly meetings we hope to have one of the deaconesses speak to us, hoping to gain still greater enthusiasm for our new year's work.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting in January for 1905-6: President, Miss Alice G. Flanders; Vice-president, Mrs. C. H. J. Kimball; Treasurer, Miss Florence Sylvester; Secretary, Miss Mary Howe.

FOREWORD

By the President, Willard T. Perrin.

It is a pleasure to invite the reader to a careful examination of this Annual Report. We are confident of your gratitude.

The year has been eventful. At its beginning much thought and time were given to organization. A new code of By-Laws was adopted. The change, as you will see, has been made in the interests of compactness and financial strength. Our present system will commend itself to business men. Our new organization provides, also, for an influential representation on the Corporation from the several Annual Conferences within our territory. To this feature we call the attention of our friends throughout New England.

Mr. Theodore A. Hildreth's success in winning favor, raising money and administering the affairs of the Association, has vindicated his election as Corresponding Secretary. This year, however, has necessarily been largely one of preparation. He deserves and is receiving cordial sympathy and co-operation.

The building of the new Hospital has received a great impetus. The Annual Meeting of the Corporation, January 23, 1906, at which the subscription of $50,000 was completed, will not soon be forgotten. Read the inspiring story of the Hospital, and plan to come to the dedication next January. A constant stimulus for earnest effort in securing increased Hospital facilities has been each monthly report that a score or more of eligible applicants have been denied admission for lack of room.

A notable event of the year was the Hospital Bazaar, successfully conducted by the ladies of the Deaconess Aid Society, whose intelligent and enthusiastic devotion to our cause is full of largest promise.

The increasing number of supporters gives us courage, and the constantly widening scope of our influence gives us inspiration. A study of the reports herein will reveal the unsectarian, wide-reaching and benevolent character of our mission. Do not fail to read them with this in view.

It is gratifying to note how the original capital of $150 has grown, in seventeen years, to a property including legal subscriptions, of something over $110,000. It is, however, a sign of vigorous life that we never needed additional funds more than we need them now.

Several legacies have been received the last year. This is a hint to our patrons not to forget us in their wills, and a prophecy of an increasing source of income.

An all-day service of prayer and praise was held in the Bromfield Street Church January 24, 1906, when a goodly number of friends gathered at the Mercy Seat with the deaconesses and students of the Training School. It was a season of inspiration and fellowship suggestive of the larger circle who, in New England and in the wider world, do not cease to pray for God's blessing upon the deaconesses and their Christ-like ministry.

We are enheartened in all our efforts by the conviction that this is God's work, and He will give it success.

DEACONESS HOME

Miss Josephine S. Fisk, Superintendent

For only three months of the year has the Deaconess Home been under my immediate supervision. Edna C. Brown and Emilie S. Freeman successively and successfully managed the affairs of the Home during the absence and illness of the Superintendent. God's blessing has been upon the work and the workers. The activities and influences of the Deaconess Home have been widened and strengthened during the past year.

The number of active workers is slightly increased over one year ago. There are now 28 deaconesses belonging to the Home, 15 licensed and 13 probationers. Of these, 25 are actively engaged.

Family duties still detain Annie Raynes in her home in Fall River, but she finds time and opportunity to do a large amount of district nursing and church work in that city, being for the poor about her there as she was here, a veritable angel of mercy.

Alice L. Thorpe and Amy F. Fenno are absent on account of illness. Emilie S. Freeman and Mary L. Andros have changed their names, and are now engaged in more distinctly home missionary work. Mary A. Simester heard the cry of China's starving millions, and has gone to that far country, adding another to our list of foreign missionaries who have gone from our Deaconess Home, — five in the last five years. We rejoice in this fact, while we are made to realize more and more keenly the crying need in the home land for just such earnest, consecrated, efficient workers, and our inability to meet the demands made upon us for deaconesses.

It is in no formal spirit that we pray the Lord of Harvest to send forth reapers, for the harvest truly is plenteous but the laborers are few !

Reinforcements Emily E. Barlow, Mary N. Granger, Eliza Jones, Eldora Leet and Margaret N. Robertson graduated from our Training School, and were accepted as deaconess probationers. 'Emma S. Anderson returned to our Home after several years of membership in the Providence Deaconess Home. "Margaret Eckley, also from the New England Southern Conference, who is studying in the Boston University School of Theology, is at present a member of our Home. Frances L. Passmore came to us from Chicago early in the autumn.

All of these new workers, the inexperienced as well as the three last named, who are licensed deaconesses, true and tried, have proved to be valuable additions to our force.

Eldora Leet, Main Street, Nashua, N. H.

Frances L. Passmore, Malden Centre, since October 1.

Mabel Ridgeway, Dover, N. H., until July ; Dover District since September last.

Margaret N. Robertson, St. Paul's, Manchester, N. H.

✓ Mary A. Simester, Morgan Memorial until May, when she left the Home for China.

Elizabeth E. Springham, Dexter, Me., since June.

• Alice L. Thorpe, district nurse until the illness beginning in July. Miss Thorpe was tenderly cared for in our Hospital by her sister nurses, and skilfully attended through her long and dangerous illness by Dr. Elliot P. Joslin, who freely gave his services. Miss Thorpe will, we trust, soon be able to resume her work.

Clara Wood, Rescue Work in Bangor until August ; visiting deaconess in Grace Church, Bangor, since September.

✓ Emma G. Wood, Stanton Avenue, third year.

As already noted, our workers have been widely distributed. Only about half the membership of the Home reside in the Home. Two in the East Maine Conference, five in the New Hampshire Conference. Of those working within the bounds of our own Conference, two have been in the Springfield District, four in the Lynn district, one in the Cambridge district and ten in the Boston District. Two more deaconesses who went out from us have been engaged in the Vermont Conference. These are not included, as they are under the direction of the Vermont Conference Board.

Figures are cold. Let me give you a few The Work concrete illustrations and facts. A young woman half sick and wholly discouraged walking the street one night this winter, was attracted by the sound of music and found her way into a prayer-meeting. At the close of the service, the deaconess of the church met the woman with such a warm hand-clasp, and sympathetic manner, that the poor creature opened her heart. She was a widow, with a crippled mother and a young son. She had been ill for some time, and their only income had been five dollars a week which the boy earned. Rent and fuel left a meagre allowance for medicine and food for the three, so the woman and her mother were half starved. She had been searching vainly for employment, too proud to seek aid from the City. She was told to come to the Deaconess Home the next day. Some work was given to her, for which she was paid from the Emergency Fund. As she was eating her dinner she remarked: "It has been a long time since I have had a meal like this." This woman has been furnished with regular employment, she has become a constant attendant at church, and just recently has found Christ as her personal Saviour.

We learned one day of two very aged women who, in their younger days, were engaged in city missionary work, said to be without friends and very destitute. The district nurse was sent, and found sad conditions indeed. Two sisters living in a tenement consisting of two little rooms. The older sister over ninety years of age, is confined to her bed. The other, nearly as old, is very infirm, and nearly blind. They have absolutely no income. Some pitying man pays their rent. Neighbors send in bits of food occasionally, but they said that it had been days since they had had a taste of warm food. The bed, filthy in the extreme, had no linen, and but one old blanket. The women and their habitation were equally in need of soap and water, which the deaconess nurse proceeded to apply, after sweeping from these two small rooms a dish-pan full of dirt. Our Emergency Fund and Supply Closet were drawn upon, and these two old saints were left clean, warm, satisfied and thankful.

Gratifying reports come to us from Spiritual Results different fields in regard to the spiritual work of the deaconesses. One New Hampshire presiding elder writes: "I wish you could send me three or four more just such deaconesses to work in my district." A pastor says: "The deaconess is winning all hearts to herself, and has succeeded in winning nearly every one of her large Sunday school class of young ladies for Christ." Another report says: "Our deaconess has worked up a Sunday school class of ten young men who were not in Sunday school before she got hold of them." Another worker has brought up the Home Department in her Sunday school from about twenty to one hundred and twenty since she began in their field six months ago. Another has organized a Mission Sunday school and a Junior League in connection with the church in which she is working. Another has been holding a meeting weekly for children and young people for about a year, and during that time fifteen have accepted Christ and been taken into the church. Instances might be multiplied showing what has been accomplished by the church workers.

We rejoice that we are permitted to put In Missions our shoulders under one little corner of the "Burden of the City" in our work among the foreign-born population. It is but little in comparison to what we would do if we had more money and workers, but it is an advance over any previous year. We have had one, nearly all the year two, deaconesses at Morgan Memorial. Miss Brown is an important factor in the varied and beneficent activities of Morgan Memorial. Among other responsible duties she conducts the large and splendid Industrial School where so many of our Training School Students render valuable assistance as teachers, and receive more than they give in experience and in inspiration for mission work.

Future Chinese-American Citizens

Miss Hoxie, having had several years of experience in work among the Portuguese, is well qualified for the difficult work which is hers in the Portuguese Mission in East Cambridge. Miss Barber conducts the Industrial School, and assists in every way possible at the Italian Church on Hanover

Little Italy Under New England Skies

Street. Miss Hahn is doing heroic service under most discouraging circumstances. In unsuitable quarters, and with an insufficient corps of teachers, she is still bringing things to pass in the Chinese Mission on Kneeland Street.

These are in the city missionary work: Miss Anderson has a large Swedish parish. She conducts Sunday schools in Boston and Cambridge, and cottage meetings in Dorchester and South Boston, and visits in all the homes.

Our field workers have travelled to the remotest parts of New England. Pecuniary fruits by no means measure the good results of their labors. Souls have been won for the Master, and young women have become interested in our Training School through their earnest messages.

Emergency and Fresh Air Work All through the year there are demands upon our Emergency Fund for district nurses' car-fares and supplies, and for relief work generally.

Generous contributions have been received, especially at the Thanksgiving and Christmas season, also clothing, fruit, vegetables, flowers, etc., from individuals and societies in all parts of New England. About three hundred baskets of food were taken out at Thanksgiving, and a generous friend supplied flour for all our poor families. Another friend furnished us with coal orders.

The Deaconess Aid Society helped us to provide a Christmas-tree for about sixty-five poor women and children in the Deaconess Home.

Gifts were also provided for the Christmas-trees in several missions, and were carried into many homes of sick and poor.

The Deaconess Aid Society have helped us during the year by furnishing needed supplies. Our fresh-air work was abundantly successful the past year. Our "Richland," again located at Hopkinton, was in charge of Miss Edna C. Brown, who managed it very successfully. Our Newtonville friends, as usual, bore the expense, with the exception of the party from Trinity, Worcester, under Miss Carty's care, which was in part provided for by her church.

The "Richland" was open from the middle of June until the middle of September. Six parties, averaging about sixty in a party, were given a two weeks' outing. Besides the Richland work, about fifty children were given two weeks in private families in the country, and over eight hundred mothers and children were given a day's outing. These expenses were provided for by friends, through our General Emergency Fund. None can estimate the good results. Discouraged mothers have been refreshed and enheartened, little pale faces have taken on fresh color, and, best of all, young lives have received impulses toward God and heaven and all things good and pure. One little Richland girl, on the day after her arrival, having had an entirely new experience, and being much impressed by the effects of bath and new clothing and a general atmosphere of purity, asked in a tone of awe: "Is this God's house?"

A permanent home for our fresh-air work, an enlargement of our Deaconess Home to permit of institutional work much needed in our part of the city. More deaconesses and more money, so that they can be supported to work where their labors will tell most for Christ's kingdom. More faith and more patience to pray and to wait. *

DEACONESS BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL

MISS ORIANNA F. HARDING, Superintendent

The Training School has had a prosperous year. The students have grown in spiritual experience, and have done good work in the School and in the churches they serve.

There has been an added interest taken in the school on the part of the churches, a larger number of requests for student helpers having come than ever before.

The resident teacher, Miss Ellen Hibbard, a deaconess of seventeen years of experience, has rendered valuable service.

The Deaconess Aid Society have paid for the support of a student $106.

The Training School Committee provided $513 for the support of students.

Recognizing the need of an Endowment Fund, the resident teacher and students have secured $50 as a beginning, and the hope is expressed that this may be increased until the income shall be sufficient to support at least one student.

We gratefully recognize our Heavenly Father as the source and giver of all the blessings of the past and our hope and assurance for the future, and have a sincere appreciation of and thankfulness to the many friends who have so faithfully and generously aided in the work of the School.

There have been in the School during the past year 28 young women who have come from the following States and countries: Massachusetts, 14; Maine, 3; New Hampshire, 3; Vermont, 1; Nova Scotia, 2; Canada, 2; New Jersey, 1; Iowa, 1; Sweden, 1; eight young women graduated in June. Five of this number entered their present fields of work directly from the School.

The names of the graduate students of last spring are as follows: Emily Barlow, Mrs. Florence Brown, Mary V.

Granger, Jennie Hamer, Eliza Jones, Eldora Leet, Ina Morgan, Margaret Robertson, Hannah Solomon. The names of students of the present classes are as follows: Emma Aker, Laura Donnell, Lilian Fletcher, Mrs. Helen Diamond, Mary A. Lunt, Laura Sanborn, Edna Sargent, Carrie Spear, Grace Smith, Grace Twining, Alice Brooks, Mabel Gavin, Christine MacDonald, Elizabeth Thompson, Susan Stratton, Nannie Peterson. Day students: Mrs. Nellie James, Marian Wallace, Marian Day.

The students have made 3,343 calls upon strangers, the aged and the sick. They have taught in Sunday school 300 times, in Industrial School 207 times, superintended the Junior Leagues through the year, have led 175 meetings, given away 400 garments and 3 tons of coal. The junior students have given 3 hours each week to teaching in Industrial School at Morgan Memorial. They have worked in the following churches: Winthrop Street Church; St. Mark's, Brookline; City Point, South Boston; Barham Memorial, South Boston; Mt. Bellingham, Chelsea; Parkman Street, Dorchester; Newton; Auburndale; Woburn; Mattapan; Winchester; Winthrop; Highlandville; Allston; Wakefield; Broadway, Somerville; Belmont Church, Malden; St. Andrews, Jamaica Plain; Swedish Church; German Church; Portuguese Mission; Italian Mission; Morgan Memorial and Grace Church, Cambridge.

The King's Daughters of Worcester County supported one of the students for two years in the School.

The Lynn District Epworth League provided two hundred dollars to support a student. When she graduates they want her to work in the churches of that district, to interest the Leagues in Deaconess work. We have had three young women in the school this year from Lynn District.

Following are the names of non-resident teachers, and the branches of study taught:

Rev. S. C. Cary	"Methods of Work."
Rev. A. P. Sharp	"Lectures on the Pentateuch."

THE NEW ENGLAND DEACONESS JOURNAL

MISS ELLEN L. HIBBARD, Editress

The Deaconess Journal is a monthly paper issued for ten months in the year, none being printed in July and August.

The usual issue is 5,000 copies per month. Of these 5,000 copies all but a few hundreds are sent out through the mails. They go largely to points in New England, of course the greater number being to people of our own State. About 800 copies are mailed to people living in Boston and its immediate suburbs. Some 2,500, perhaps, go to subscribers in Massachusetts outside of Boston, and the remainder to the other New England States and other points in our own country, with a very few to Canada, the Provinces, and the foreign field.

The Journal is gratuitously sent to the Methodist pastors of all the Conferences of New England except the New England Southern Conference. Copies are also sent to the Deaconess Institutions of our country, and, of course, to the members of our Corporation and Board of Management. There is also a small list of names of people, friends of our work, to whom complimentary copies are sent.

Besides these lists (which include all the complimentaries) two regular lists are kept. The first is the list of regular subscribers, those who send their names either singly or in clubs directly to the editor, with the price of the paper. The second list includes the donors to our work, those persons who, when the deaconess work is presented in the churches, donate a certain sum to our work. These names are sent to the Treasurer, and later come to the editor.

The circulation of the Journal through the mails has not greatly varied during the past few years. Much of added interest and a goodly number of subscriptions have come to the Journal through the efforts of the ladies of the Deaconess Aid Society, the Deaconess Aid Circle, the Epworth Leagues and other societies.

Many testimonials to the value of the Journal as an advertising medium for our work have reached the editor during these past years.

One touching letter was worded in this way : " Dear little Journal, I love you very much and always welcome you gladly, and read all you have to say. I am a poor, old lame man whose journey is almost done, but I want to do something for somebody, and so I send you this enclosed money to help some one poor or sick. May God bless your good work."

The editor heard also of an unsuspected use of the Journal some months ago. During a hurried greeting in a street-car from one of our esteemed ministers, the latter kindly said : " I prize your little paper very highly, and should miss it if it failed to come. I have used some of its stories to good effect as illustrations in my missionary sermons."

In view of these facts we are trusting that as its silent influence reaches its thousands of readers each month, the Deaconess Journal may not only add friends and supporters to our work, but may help in some small measure to bring in the blessed kingdom of Christ upon earth.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL

Miss ADELIZA A. BETTS, Superintendent

Ten years have passed since the Hospital began its work. During that time, and with only 14 beds, 1,763 patients have been admitted. It offers to those who need the comforts of a home, the opportunity for the best medical and surgical aid. It also supplements the skill of the physician with conscientious, faithful, efficient nursing combined with a healthful Christian atmosphere. In each individual case seeking to inspire hope and courage amid the dark hours of severe illness.

Admission of Patients All applicants must be recommended by a physician, and when coming from outside the city an entrance diagnosis must accompany every application.

A letter from a clergyman, or some person acceptable to the Hospital Committee, stating that the applicant is worthy, must accompany every application for free service.

Statistics January 1, 1905, there remained in the Hospital 12 patients

Number of patients admitted from January 1, 1905, to December 31, 1905, 234.

Total number cared for during the year, 246. Of this number 55 were admitted as free patients, 50 partly paying, and 141 at full price; 38 were males, 196 females.

During the year 234 patients were discharged: 121 well, 93 relieved, 12 not relieved, 2 not treated and 6 died; 12 remaining in the Hospital January 1, 1906.

Of the number admitted, 20 were medical, 214 surgical. During the year there were 203 surgical operations, 115 major, 88 minor.

The longest stay of any one patient was 86 days, the shortest 5 hours, the average stay 18 days.

The number of days' service rendered was 4,384; free 1,038; part price, 802; full price, 2,544.

The aggregate value of Hospital work was $10,120.93. Of this the free work amounted to $3,705.70; at part price, $2,192.14, for which $1,210.48 was paid, a rebate of $981.66.

The nurses have spent 74 days in outside and district nursing, for which the Hospital received $141.65, the total value of outside nursing being $186.05. The total value of gratuitous service was $4,732.36, or 45 per cent of the whole. More than 100 persons received this gratuity.

The Deaconess Hospital has been, by the blessing General of God, the means of giving the gospel of helpfulness to many who are sick and needy in this and in other lands.

Its work is supported by donations, public and private, societies, churches, and by paying patients.

Among those who more especially contribute to the Hospital work are the Deaconess Aid Society, the Deaconess Aid Circle and the Hospital Helpers' Circle.

We wish also to acknowledge our indebtedness to the physicians and surgeons who have so generously given of their time and service to the Hospital and Training School for Nurses.

Training School for Nurses

We wish to express our thanks to the Corporation for the comfortable Home provided for the nurses at 689 Massachusetts Avenue.

The School year opened with eight pupil nurses. One of these resigned to take up work elsewhere. Two who had been absent for a time because of sickness re-entered training.

During the year eight student nurses were admitted to probation, and later five of these were accepted as pupils.

In accordance with the decision reached two years ago, the course of training was extended to three years. This year's seniors are the first to receive the advantage of the additional year, which is largely of a practical character.

Excellent opportunity in surgical and in medical nursing is afforded by this Hospital, but contagious diseases and obstetrical cases are not admitted.

In view of this arrangements have been made with other hospitals for our nurses to receive training in the care of such cases. Through the courtesy of the Brookline Board of Health Hospital they are admitted to a course in Contagious Diseases. The Cambridge District Nursing Association also granted exceptional opportunities in District Nursing.

The Superintendent of Nurses gives instruction from standard text-books, directions in regard to the general care of the sick, the giving of baths, making of poultices, applying of bandages and dressing of wounds.

We are indebted to leading physicians for Lectures lectures on Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Medical Nursing, Diseases of Children, Obstetrics, Orthopedics, Nervous Diseases, Diseases of Eye, Ear and Skin, Urinalysis, Bacteriology, Septicemia, Pyemia, Asepsis, Anæsthesia, Antisepsis and Hygiene.

Instruction is also given in Cooking and Emergencies. Massage, Shampooing and Manicuring.

The first four nurses the Hospital graduated are licensed Deaconesses: Lilly Brown serving as Deaconess District Nurse in Winnipeg, Canada; Sarah Blakeley is doing similar work in turned into a vital affiliation. This has been accomplished by a more compact organization, plus frank and magnanimous dealing. Resulting from this is a larger service to our beloved Church.

The New Hampshire Conference The New Hampshire Conference early put itself in a position and outlined a policy that enabled it to both serve the Association well and get the greatest good for itself. The churches united in supporting three District deaconesses, who are under the direction of the Presiding Elders. Only the most enthusiastic reports concerning this innovation have been received, telling of inspiring results in the influence on the numerous churches served. Calls from individual churches in this Conference were answered at two city points, Nashua and Manchester, and for deaconess evangelistic work at one point, Portsmouth, where a satisfactory work was reported from the field. A few words outline the business portion of this work, but the story of many converted, children's work established and strengthened, Sunday schools organized, pastorless pulpits supplied, sick and suffering visited, comforted, relieved, cannot be so easily told. The president of the Conference Deaconess Board, Rev. Edgar Blake, is largely to be credited with the planning and setting in motion this excellent work.

East Maine Conference The work in the East Maine Conference has been wisely planned by its Conference Board, and the plans worked so far are practicable. The deaconesses at the Bangor Rescue Home were in midsummer withdrawn. The policy of the organization, which was interdenominational, did not favor the evangelistic character of work most loved by the deaconesses.

Facing the impossibility of meeting all the calls made upon the Association by the Church, it was deemed wise to place these consecrated workers elsewhere. Two deaconesses are at present giving their time to this Conference, one serving a village church, the other under the direction of a presiding elder.

Cordial co-operation has marked the Conference Deaconess Board of this Conference, who give of their efforts and substance to support the general work.

The Vermont Conference In the Vermont Conference cordial welcome has been given our workers, and magnanimous contributions to the support of the New England Deaconess Association. This Conference divides its interest in deaconess work, and hence makes little demand upon us. It has, however, from time to time furnished us young women who are among our best workers, and we shall, as occasion may require, be glad to make the best return to them possible.

The New England Conference The Conference nearer at hand never flags in its interest and loyalty. The ministers are enthusiastic in their advocacy of the deaconess cause. While making strong demands upon the Association, the churches have been patient with our inability to meet every requisition made on Home or Hospital.

The Corresponding Secretary wishes to intrude enough personality in this report to express his hearty appreciation of the brotherly kindness and consideration with which he, only a layman, has been everywhere welcomed to Conference, pulpit and home in the course of his work.

Two of the New England Conferences did not see fit, at their April meeting, to join organically in the Association by taking Conference action. This is not to be interpreted as opposition — for perhaps a majority of pastors have personally expressed their approval of the Association — but to influence it seemed wise to defer to. In both of these Conferences benefits have been received through the ministration of the Hospital to the deaconesses, ministry and laity.

Field Work Three hundred and nine churches have listened to presentations of the work of the Association and taken offerings for it since January 22, 1905. This is an increase of one-fourth more than last year. This has required the entire time of one deaconess for the year, and that of three other persons for from one to three months each, and of several others who have given only Sundays, among whom is the Corresponding Secretary. Two pastors and two of the laity have also done valuable service in this line. Great credit is due to Mr. R. S. Douglass for planning these visits and corresponding with pastors. This has been done in a way to cause the least inconvenience and secure the best results. It would be well could four deaconesses be found who have the evangelistic gift, and would be willing to give their time to helping the weak churches in evangelism, to represent the deaconess cause and take offerings, to seek young women to enter training for the diaconate, and to organize branches of the Deaconess Aid Society, and who should during the summer months help at Camp Meetings.

From the Home, the Training School
Institutions and the Hospital you have heard detailed statements. Two of these have suffered the distracting influence of temporary changes in Superintendents. Experience teaches that other things being equal, a continuous service is the best service. Illness has intervened to interrupt such continuity of service, but it is occasion for congratulation that there are such efficient heads to these institutions and that only needed rest occasioned interruptions, and that there has been no disruption and no need for permanent changes. Those upon whom have devolved the management during these periods have done their work well, as the statement of facts shows. The accession to the number of resident deaconesses has made the Home inadequate to meet the need. It seems perhaps a far cry to a Home with increased room, but it is certain to become a necessity, and that sooner than some may think. If Boston churches take up the many problems of the city in which the deaconess is almost the only working factor which promises a solution, an enlarged Home will be a necessity. The various activities emanating from this centre show an increase. More deaconesses at work, a larger relief work done, greater numbers benefited by the fresh-air work, more extensive if not more efficient field work.

The Deaconess It should never be forgotten that, no matter how important we esteem the work to be done, the deaconess is the agent upon whom the work depends. In gratitude for their unselfish service given, all should be done which is possible to make their lives free from anxious care, and to forward their plans and make most efficient their service.

The Hospital We are greatly rejoiced in the enlarged usefulness of the Hospital, as indicated in the report, which shows nearly a fourth more patients ministered to than in the previous year. The crying need for the new building should be met at once, not alone to be able to minister to an increased number, but to make more humane the conditions under which these faithful ministers of Christ (the nurses) work for humanity. We have no hope that the new Hospital building will for any length of time relieve the congested condition, so greatly does the demand grow upon the Hospital. In a single month the past year forty applicants were not received because of lack of room, and there is a waiting list now of those who, some of them since November, have been waiting admission. The number of enthusiastic advocates of the Deaconess Hospital daily increases among patients, and it is quite as evident the physicians are kind in their comments.

Recent superficial study of hospital costs seems to indicate two important things: First, without endowment the Deaconess Hospital gives one-third of its service to those who need but cannot pay for it. Second, the cost of operation per bed per week, $10.94, is from 15 to 50 per cent less than in most or all other hospitals in Boston, and quite as satisfactory. What could it not do if adequately housed and partially endowed? We should not, however, forget the main factor in the Deaconess Hospital to be the conscientious, prayerful, sympathetic work done by devoted Christian Superintendent and nurses. Because of these, quicker recoveries are made, patients are happier in the midst of suffering, and not a few receive a spiritual uplift and are for the first time made acquainted with the Saviour.

The Nurses' Home, so long needed, was provided during the summer by renting a near-by house. It seems to be thoroughly appreciated. It affords some opportunity for a home life in the midst of the toil.

The best that can be said of the
The Training School Training School is to call attention to its finished product, the deaconess probationer. The last graduating class would commend itself to even a prejudiced observer. Enthusiastic reports and no note of criticism have been received of the four who entered the work in New Hampshire, and the one in a western Massachusetts city. Would God would lend us fourfold more with whom to answer the call from New England churches which we dare not encourage. Such would be well prepared by the Training School. We feel confident that no Deaconess Training School averages a larger percentage of graduates who achieve usefulness than does the New England. This is sufficient praise of Superintendent, resident teachers, and those kind souls who, without other reward than the satisfaction of doing some needed thing well, constitutes the force of teachers. The time is already here when the heavy duties of the Superintendent should be shared by another.

Why should not an additional resident teacher, who should be specially fitted for Biblical teaching and who would take the duties ordinarily assigned to a dean, be secured? A part of her work would be visiting academies and colleges to influence young women to enter the diaconate. This I would commend to the corporation as worthy of consideration.

The time has come for specialization in the work of the Church in New England. With the great race problems before the Church, concerning the solution of which little progress is being made, women should be found who will specially prepare for a long term of service. This should be done by acquiring a language or languages, by the study of social conditions both here and in the lands whence these strangers come, and by devoting a long period of continuous service to capturing communities for Christ and the Church. None but the one who carries the sympathetic ministry of service to these shall gain access to them, in spite of prejudice and ignorance.

The study of childhood should form another specialty. The adaptation of methods and means, the application of the deaconess intuition, love and intensity to the problems of changing conditions which allow so large a portion of childhood to reach maturity without vital attachment to Christ and His Church. A stronger effort should be made to change prevalent conditions, which admit of church bells pealing in the ears of hundreds or thousands of children who know nothing of the children's best Friend and of God's Word. There are other lines of specialization. This is only a hint of the possibilities. Let us take the opportunity God has placed before us as making as strong an obligation as would His direct command.

I do not want in this to omit mentioning those auxiliary organizations,— Aid Societies The Deaconess Aid Society, Aid Circle, the Deaconess Helpers and the Hospital Helpers who so enthusiastically in many ways help forward the good work. It has been a happy year for all these societies, for ministration to the needs of others could not result otherwise. We are grateful to them all. When the records are completed, their usefulness will be evident. Beside completing the payment of the burdensome debt it had assumed for the Association, the Deaconess Aid Society has secured $3,000 in bank to apply toward paying for its ward in the new Hospital, which is to cost $7,000. The Aid Circle has likewise been faithful to its self-assumed obligations toward Home, Hospital, School, and for our little Martha.

Allow, as a preface, a tribute to the faith-
Finances fulness and usefulness of the Treasurer, Mr. H. D. Degen. Many hours daily over wearisome detail attendant upon his official duties, have been given the Association. An ever-ready ear to listen and mind to aid in judgment and giving of kindly advice has been characteristic of him. He has also freely given the Corresponding Secretary desk-room and use of telephone, which has saved a considerable expense to the Association. While the entire work has progressed because of the spirit of co-operation evident among the members of the various committees, none have given so much unremitting toil as he.

The Finance Committee advised the new Corresponding Secretary to give only such time to the getting of funds for current expenses as he could in public address, preferring he should do personal solicitation of funds for the Hospital building. Without this personal solicitation the finances from general receipts show a substantial increase.

It is rather unusual to depend on raising so large a budget as we do by public collections. The churches have, however, given their approval of the advanced step taken by increased collections. The personal clientele should, however, be more largely developed, as a reliance for support from year to year. An increasing number should be found who would be interested to support particular phases of the work or individuals in it.

We have no apology to offer
Hospital Building Fund for the slow progress made in securing funds for the new Hospital. Outside those who have been a long time identified with the Deaconess Association, much of scepticism has been evident as to the need or importance of a Hospital in view of the number of hospitals in New England cities.

Such do not appreciate the value of this agency in its spiritual influence, nor do they comprehend the value to the Church of this splendid testimony to the world of its practical sympathy with suffering humanity. It is no small credit to us that physicians assign quicker recoveries to forces which are not at work in other hospitals, and that patients are more happy and contented here than elsewhere.

The period of rest for two years next preceding this led people to lose sight of the New Hospital project, and there has not yet been sufficient time to arouse much new enthusiasm. But, through the active efforts of the members of this Corporation and its friends, we are able to report $50,000 as available in cash or subscriptions with which to resume building.

There is also $1,450 cash on hand, and $2,000 in assurances toward furnishing. There is still needed $50,000 to pay for the building when completed, and avoid a debt on the same, and pay the cost of furnishing. There should be no relaxation of effort until this sum is subscribed. Of the cash or pledges available, $7,000 was subscribed by the Deaconess Aid Society, of which $3,000 is already raised by them; $6,200 comes from legacies, and the remainder from personal gifts.

This Association seems to be on the eve of realizing the fulfilment of the promise of reaping which awaits those who faint not in well doing.

Some systematic effort should be undertaken
General to put the work in the way of those who are making their wills. This may be done at some expense, but no work pays better in results. Many people who are uncertain where they should bestow their goods, would be glad to consider so good a work favorably if acquainted with it and its needs.

In conclusion, then, "let brotherly love continue." One of the most significant signs of the year has been the spirit of unity and forbearance which has characterized the work. If in any work in the world the spirit of Christ, of love and fraternity should prevail, it should be in the Deaconess Work. Standing as it does for the highest type of consecration, devotion, self-abandonment, we shall be put to shame without unity and amity. For such deaconess organizations in New England as have not yet seen fit to fraternize with us we have the warmest regard. We have not always been understood, but may we always be conscious of wishing to strengthen all existing work and to reach out to other fields a helping hand. To all such we would say, "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

"Thus far the Lord hath led us."

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES

Miss S. Gertrude Mayo, Recording Secretary

The work of 1905 in the history of this Auxiliary shows increased strength in all lines over the preceding years since its organization. The meetings, on the first Tuesday of the month, have been held regularly in the accustomed place — the Committee Room, 36 Bromfield Street, Boston, with the exception of the April meeting, which took the form of a Donation Party at the Training School. It was at this meeting that the Society assumed the expense of a seven thousand dollar ward in the new Hospital. Notable among the social gatherings of the year are the Birthday Party, held by kindness of Mrs. Dr. Tuttle at her home in Hyde Park, when $100 was the sum realized ; the May Reception given by Mr. and Mrs. William Flanders at their home in Newton Centre ; and the mite-box opening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alliston B. Clum, Brookline, when the little boxes poured forth $212, which was added to the Hospital Fund. The Deaconess Hospital Bazaar, held in Paul Revere Hall in November, was one of the successful ventures of the Deaconess Aid Society, about three thousand dollars having been the receipts, and a widespread knowledge of and interest in the work having been gained. An organization of Deaconess Helpers, composed of children in middle teens, has been effected during the year. The so-called Propaganda Committee has been busy in the endeavor to further the interests in the work in large cities distant from Boston. The hoped-for results in this effort are slowly but surely coming.

The membership is constantly increasing, and new life members are frequently added to the roll. The officers extend hearty thanks to Secretary Hildreth for his support, sympathy and co-operation, which have been a constant source of help to them. They are also indebted to Miss Hibbard for an address on the " Early Deaconess Movement," to Mrs. George L. Bray for an original paper, " A Lesson in Roses," and to Rev. G. H. Spencer for an interesting outline of the various phases of Deaconess Work.

DEACONESS AID CIRCLE

Miss Mary Howe, President

The Deaconess Aid Circle will in March celebrate its sixth anniversary.

In looking back over the year's work, there is much that might not distinguish the year 1905 from any of its predecessors. In membership the Circle has not made as large an increase as was hoped for at our Annual Meeting of last year, but the members have shown so great an interest in all the affairs of the Circle that we have reason to feel encouraged.

At our meetings through the year we were fortunate in having to speak before us at each meeting one of the deaconesses, to enlighten us on the several phases of the Deaconess

Work. They were indeed an inspiration to greater efforts on the part of the Circle.

The Work Committee has throughout the year provided work for the members to sew upon, and as these articles have been completed, they have been taken to the Home and Hospital, where they were very welcome. This Committee has also had charge of buying materials for clothes for Martha Wentworth, and with kind donations from friends we have been able to provide her with all necessary clothing for the year.

The fall work is so recent as to hardly need reviewing.

The October Meeting was planned to increase the funds in the treasury. Each member was asked to earn a dollar, and at the meeting to tell in rhyme how it was earned. The attendance was not large, owing to the fact that many were not at home for this meeting, but quite a sum was turned in to swell the treasury.

Our reception to Mr. and Mrs. Hildreth in November was a social affair, and enjoyed by the members and their guests. We were very glad to have this opportunity of knowing the Secretary of the Deaconess Association, and through his aid the Circle hopes to gain new insight into ways of practically helping the cause.

The two days at the Bazaar, in which the Circle had charge of the candy table, proved a very pleasant occasion, and all the members enjoyed their part in it.

A new feature of this year's work was accomplished when the Circle assisted at the tree given at the Deaconess Home on Christmas Eve. This proved such a happy celebration that we hope to make it a feature of each year's work.

In the November number of the Journal, Miss Hibbard published a very appreciative article in regard to the Deaconess Aid Circle, and in connection with this spoke of similar organizations being formed in other districts outside of Boston and its immediate vicinity. It has been suggested that perhaps these may be incorporated with our Circle, and these, being under a like constitution, work together for a larger amount of good than could be accomplished with too many scattered organizations. So with new encouragement and with the greater opportunities for helping which the new year presents, the Circle hopes to make the year 1906 a most successful one.

The following officers were elected at the Annual Meeting in January, for 1906:

President, Miss Mary Howe; Vice-President, Miss Margaret Rand; Treasurer, Miss Florence Sylvester; Secretary, Miss Mabelle H. Whitney; Advisors, Miss Fisk, Mrs. Hildreth.

REPORT OF THE DEACONESS HELPERS

MRS. PERCY C. MOORE, Organizer, Malden, Mass.

The first society of Deaconess Helpers was organized in March, 1905, at the Belmont Methodist Episcopal Church, Malden, Mass. The Society numbers twenty members. Seventeen dollars was given by that society to the Deaconess Helpers' Table at the Bazaar. Six dollars and fifty cents was collected from the mite boxes.

Other societies have been organized at Lynn, Everett and Wellington. The Deaconess Helpers' Table at the Bazaar held in November realized one hundred and fifteen dollars.
